You Can't Cure Constipation.

by taking purgatives, salts, or other drugs that act harshly or violently upon the stomach or bowels.

Ask any doctor, and he will tell you that purgatives of any character distend the bowels and weaken the elastic tissue.

To cure constipation, remove the cause. The cause of constipation is indigestion. If your food digests properly it would continue on from the stomach, through the bowels, and would be eliminated without effort and with regularity.

Mi-na Tablets cure constipation by curing your digestion. It is not a purgative. It is a stomach tonic and more—it tones up, strengthens, invigorates, refreshes and injects new life into the worn out muscles of the stomach, and in a short time makes the stomach hardy enough to digest anything you eat. It is a powerful yet harmless stomach tonic, and its resistless influence on the stomach is astonishing.

Try Mi-na for constipation. One box will cure you of indigestion; two boxes will relieve you of constipation; and best of all, Mi-na is such an economical remedy. A large box only costs 50 cents, and then, if you are not satisfied with results, Huntley Bros. Co., the druggists will give you your money back.

Mi-na cures all stomach disorders whether acute or chronic, such as dyspepsia, vomiting, over-indulgence of the night before, sea or car-sickness, stomach sickness of prospective mothers, etc.

Read this from the president of a New York corporation:

"I have been a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia and gastritis for two years. The most eminent physicians prescribed for me with no effect. I have been absolutely cured by your Mi-na tablets. The first one gave me a relief almost incredible. Very gratefully yours, Herbert H. Taylor, 501 West 143d street, New York City."

Was He Sliding?

Chief Police Burns of this city is just in receipt of a letter from a man by the name of Ambrose Anderson which contained the information that his son, Herbert Anderson, who left home nine years ago and came to America, has been lost track of and Burns was requested to make an effort to look the fellow up. The letter states that the boy left his home in Oilham Lane, England, about nine years ago and came to America and for several years resided with his aunt in Ogden, Utah. Some time in the forepart of the year 1907, the boy and his aunt had a falling out, resulting in the police of Salt Lake City sending the boy to the Utah State Industrial school from which he was supposed upon good behavior to be released in 1908.

The letter to Chief Burns also contains a newspaper clipping which gives an account of a man by name of Anderson who had been injured while climbing Mt. St. Helens in this state, and how his life was saved by a mountain party who rolled him in a sack and slid him down the north side of the great peak a distance of 4000 feet at a terrific speed, to their camp where medical attention was given him, which from the nature of his injuries seemed to be immediately required. The parents having noticed this account of the mountain episode in the paper concluded that it was their long lost son and have asked the police of the various cities to assist them in the hunt for the wayward youth. The letter from the aged father is pathetic, although it concludes in a somewhat comical strain by stating that "these features have a tendency to worry the entire family," which he states numbers only eighteen children.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an east-bound O. R. & N. R. train from Pendleton to LaGrande, Ore.," writes Sam A. Garber a well-known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back an aid. There is a woman sick unto death in the car."

I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and put a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it, ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water in it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect, and I word with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into La Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train got into La Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car."

For sale by Huntley Bros., Oregon City and Molalla.

How to Get Strong.

J. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints.
