Our farmers are waiting for a good rain so as to commence plowing for fall oats. Almost all of our people attended the county fair at Canby and were well pleased,

Several new families are moving into our vicinity. Every little bit helps. We welcome them to our neighborhood.

R. W. Zimmerman is building a itchen to his residence. This will kitchen to his residence. This will be duly appreciated by his better half. Our school commenced Monday with Miss Moe of Barlow as teacher.

Potato digging is now in order, that is for those who have any to dig, as the frost ruined at least one-third of the crop here.

The Barlow exhibit at the county fair was fine and we think was the best exhibit there. They were not competing for any premium but they have done superb work.

The residence of Christ Kocher was entered, and a valuable gold watch and chain and several other articles of value were taken, while the family were at the county fair Friday.

The Oglesby road is now open for travel, and we notice that those who opposed this road travel it as much as Burley.

The dry spell seems to last. Grass is not growinsg and it will soon be hard on our stock. Wells that have had a good flow of water for years are going dry. Dry plowing is the order of the day, as the farmer has to get in his grant.

Potatoes are a short crop. They are of fair size but few in a hill, so there will not be over half a crop. few of the farmers have fair crops, but not so with the average. What few pheasants are left have gone to the timber. There are none in the Fred Churchill fell and broke his

BLOOD

We live by our blood, and on it. We thrive or starve, as our blood is rich or poor. There is nothing else to live on or by. When strength is full and spirits high we are being refreshed-bone, muscle and bra..., in body and mind-with continual flow of rich blood. This is health.

When weak, in low spirits, no cheer, no spring, when rest is not rest and sleep is not sleep, we are starved; our blood is poor; there is little nutriment and range from 2- to 40-horse power. The Stover has been demonstrated as the most simple engine on the market. The gasoline pump the ignitor and the exhaust are all operated on one rod. The Stover engine is easy to start this engine. All its working parts, with the exception of the piston and piston-rod, are on the outside of the cylinder and in plain view. The STOVER often develops more than its rated power. Less troublesome to operate than a steam engine and cheaper than electricity. The Stover is certainly an ideal engine for the small shop and farm where the power must be ready

The Stover furnishes an excellent power for pumping water.
