ARRESTED AT UNION DEPOT

Clerk Passes Bad Express Orders on Local Stores

MILES ARRESTED YOUTH

Arrested at Union Depot as He Is Preparing to Leave the Country

John Rottenstein, who has been employed in the Rosenstein clothing store in this city, was arrested in Portland, Wednesday evening by Constable F. A. Miles on charge of forgery. The crime consisted in passing a number of worthless express orders, purported to have been issued by the Northern Express Company for various sums up to $40, on local clothing firms.

Rottenstein, who worked about two weeks in the Rosenstein store, was recently discharged, and since that time has made several small purchases in the store of his former employer, and in the store of Price Bros. and given in payment, the express orders. As these were coming rather frequent, the management of the latter store began to get suspicious and investigated finding to their chagrin that the orders were worthless. A warrant was at once sworn out and as Rottenstein as not to be found in this city, Constable Miles, accompanied by Joseph Justin, of the Rosenstein store, went to Portland to find the much wanted clerk. Arriving at the Union Depot, the two spotted Rottenstein, just ready to leave for San Francisco. He was at once arrested and returned to this city, and placed in the county jail.

Rottenstein, who is now believed to be known by a variety of names, does not seem to be greatly disturbed by the fact that he is under arrest. He does not deny his guilt. The prisoner was given a hearing before Justice Samson Thursday afternoon, pleaded guilty, and was bound over to the Circuit Court. As he could not post the amount of his bail, $1000, he was returned to the county bastle.

Osteopathic Consultation.
Dr. Clara Macfarlane opened an office in this city October 23. Dr. Macfarlane is a regular licensed Osteopath, under the State law of Oregon, graduate of a recognized college three years' course, with years of experience in her profession. She will be in Oregon City Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays of each week at 818 Main street, corner Ninth.

Consultation is invited for all conditions and in order to introduce this science of healing to the people of Oregon City, examination will be given free for a limited time, with or without treatments.

ALONG THE LINE OF THE O. W. P.

Jennings Lodge.
A very pretty autumn wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Finley, at this place, on Wednesday afternoon, October 14 at 4 P. M., when Herman Bohlman, of Portland, and Miss Maud Bittleston, of Los Angeles, were united in marriage by Rev. Young of Taylor Street Methodist Episcopal church, of Portland. The bride, who is an intimate friend of Mrs. Finley, has been visiting at the Finley home for some time, and is an accomplished singer. The groom is associated in business with Mr. Finley and is widely known as a successful photographer of wild birds and animals. Mr. and Mrs. Bohlman will spend a few weeks in Victoria, B. C., before settling down to house-keeping in Portland.

Mesdames Emmons, Morse, Spooner and Miss Mabel Morse composed a committee who went to Portland and purchased a fine piano for the school. It is a Bailey make and was purchased at the Eller Piano House. It arrived Tuesday and will be placed in the school at once.

Little Doris Palnton was seven years old October 15, and in honor of the occasion a huge birthday cake was sent to the school house, where each of her little schoolmates received a piece of it, and all wished her many happy returns of the day.

Mr. Spencer Brown, Sr., who was hurt a few weeks ago, has improved so much that he and his family have removed to Portland for the Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Brown, Jr., and babies left this week for Hillsboro, Or., where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Brown has accepted a position with the Buxton Lumber Co.

Some of the talent of this little village was used in Oregon City on Friday evening. Miss Gladys Boys, who is a talented musician, took a very prominent part in the piano recital at McLoughlin Hall, and those who had the pleasure of attending this recital predict a great future for Miss Gladys in the musical world. Among those who attended from here were Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Boardman, Elmer Boardman and Miss Ethel Hart.

Sola Circle, Women of Woodcraft, held a social the same evening at their hall and two of our well known ladies, Mrs. H. C. Painton and Miss Mable Morse, furnished two musical numbers for their program. Mrs. H. C. Painton gave a reading and was so warmly applauded, responded to an encore, and Miss Morse favored them with a song in a most charming manner.

Miss Laura Cleland of Portland, spent Saturday with Miss Gladys Boys who has been home from Mt. Angel boarding school for the past week. Miss Boys returned to her school on Monday.

Mrs. Mendehall, of Spokane, arrived here this week to visit her mother, Mrs. Morse.

Mrs. Soesbe and son have returned from a visit with relatives at Walla Walla, Wash.

Mr. William L. Finley left Tuesday morning for New York to be absent about two months.

Quite a few of the gentleman of the neighborhood responded to Mr.

and Mrs. Beckers invitation to a debate at their home on Saturday evening of last week. The subject was, "What are your views? And why?" The hostess served cake and coffee after each one present had expressed their views. We heard a great many say they would go and register at once.

Milwaukee.
Bert Marissa, of Pocatello, Idaho, is visiting with his brother Al, who recently bought the Ardrey place. He was formerly in the undertaking business in Idaho, and is looking for a location. He hopes he will decide to go into some kind of business in Milwaukee.

Tobias C. Swagerl has put in an application for the position of messenger between the postoffice and depot.

The 5c car fare trial comes up in the Supreme Court at Salem Tuesday for the final decision; and it is decided in our favor, "watch property go skyward" so high the conservative citizen won't be able to get a chance to buy.

What we want in Milwaukee is something to keep the newcomers employed—factories of one kind or another, and if we ask too much for suitable sites they will go somewhere else and buy. Encourage such industries in every way possible. Don't drive them away by jumping up the prices of land.

Alex. Karpstein, maker of felt shoes and stockings, is busy turning out work for a sporting company in Portland.

Rev. A. F. Hilmer, pastor of the German Methodist church, has rented the old Henneman residence and moved into it.

C. F. Frey has offered his property for sale. He has an exceptionally nice home, and we predict that he will have no trouble in disposing of it on short notice.

H. P. Labrecque, formerly conductor, or on the Estacada line, and later inspector for the O. W. P. Ry., who left here a year ago to accept a position with a car company in Keyport, N. J., has returned to Milwaukee and says "Oregon is good enough for me."

At present he is undecided as to what business he will enter.

W. H. Gracie has graded the lot in back of the postoffice building for the Evangelical Association, and rumor has it that the long looked for woodshed, which has been only a dream heretofore with the postmaster, is now to become a reality, and ere long Uncle Sam's supply of wood and coal will be under cover. The people of Milwaukee are noted for their honesty, and no lock will be necessary, even though the winters of Oregon are reputed to be cold and lengthy.

The Woodmen are contemplating putting up a building adjoining the property occupied by O. Wissinger's grocery.

I. W. Gracie has erected a windmill on his property at Milwaukee Heights. People residing on the connecting piece of road between John Wise's corner and the Sandy Crossing road at Vin Dix's, are anxiously awaiting the special man's arrival in regard to giving them free delivery. We understand they are again taking up the matter, and have written the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, Division of Rural Delivery. We hope they will get it.

Carrier Geo. Hively reports the piece of road between Sandy Crossing and the old Muckenthaler place in bad condition.

Parkplace.
Henry Nachand is drilling a well on his place, and is confident of striking good water.

In a recent issue of the Oregonian we noticed an item referring to the "Gladstone Brass Band," and we presume the correspondent intended to refer to the Parkplace Brass band, as there is no such organization in Gladstone.

Our merchant, Mr. Holmes, is more and more pleased with the cash system, and is making some offers to the public that are attracting attention.

Parkplace School Notes.
The visiting committee of the P. H. S. Educational club inspected the school last Thursday afternoon. They visited every room of both grammar and high school, and were apparently satisfied with the conditions which they found. The committee consists of Mrs. Butts, Mrs. S. J. Jones, Mrs. Peckover, J. T. Apperson and W. W. Smith.

At a special meeting held Tuesday evening the time of the regular meetings of the P. H. S. Debating Society was changed from 7:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. It was very inconvenient for many of the pupils, as well as teachers, to attend at night. At the same meeting the members decided to join the State Debating League. The school hopes to make a better showing in the League this year than they did last.

Harold Smith, 10, wrenched his hip and sprained his ankle by being knocked down in a football game.

Mr. Wilkerson says that there will be "something doing" if the furnace works no better than it did last year. The third and fourth grades have been given permission to come into Mr. Wilkerson's room to hear the High school pupils sing their chorus songs.

Miss Arline Shaver of Jennings Lodge visited the High school Friday.

The number of the grades and their respective teachers have been placed over the doors of the rooms. This will save the principal the time and trouble of directing persons not familiar with the building.

Mr. Wilkerson has announced that Friday, October 30, will be "Parents' Day" at the school. The regular work will be the program for the day. The grammar school will be dismissed at 2:30 p. m., after which time will be given an informal reception, with light refreshments. All the parents of District 48 are requested to be present.

Fred Poyers has had to stop school on account of continued illness.

Miss Wyvel went to Portland Saturday to see the play, "The Clansman." Miss Mack, who was to have met Miss Wyvel at Milwaukee Heights, got off the car at the Milwaukee switch, spent half an hour in the neighborhood forests, and finally caught a car for Portland. Not seeing her friend, and being afraid to venture out on the streets of such a large city, alone, she spent an hour in the waiting-room, then returned home. The High school pupils are very envious of her good time.

Gladstone.
Rain has only partially checked building operations. A new house just starting one block west of the depot, one across the street from the church and one on acreage recently sold by Mr. Cross, are all the new enterprises known to the writer.

Mr. Wells adds a grocery stock to his toothsome line.

A petition is out for a Gladstone postoffice, to be kept at the Wells establishment.

Mrs. P. W. Beckney, of Oakland, is visiting with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Mulkey.

Church of Christ, Gladstone, Rev. A. H. Mulkey, pastor. Rally day for the Sunday School next Sunday. Let every member and many others be present. Evening and morning services as usual.

Dance is Success.
The dance given Wednesday night by the Fraternal Brotherhood was attended by a good sized crowd, all of whom express themselves as highly pleased with the manner in which they were treated by the lodge members. Willamette Hall was profusely decorated for the occasion and music was furnished by Woodfin's orchestra.

Wheeler county created out of their territory. If the pupils now credited to Wheeler county were added to those of the other two counties, they would not show a loss.

The forthcoming biennial report of Superintendent of Public Instruction J. H. Ackerman will show the following comparative statistics regarding the number of children in the several counties between the ages of 4 and 20 years in 1898 and 1908:

McCalley to Start on Tour.

Charles Riley McCalley, who with his wife has lived in this city for the last five months, start about November 1 on an entertainment tour. Mr. McCalley, "the man with two talents," is a violinist of no mean ability, and is the writer of a number of musical compositions. As a reader, he is without a peer in the Northwest, and his reading of the quaint writings of James Whitcomb Riley are especially good. Mr. McCalley has appeared before several audiences since residing in Oregon City, and his appearance has been always hailed with delight. During their stay in this city, Mr. and Mrs. McCalley have made a number of friends, who while they regret to have them leave the community, wish them the greatest success on their tour. An entertainment tour is by no means a new experience to Mr. McCalley, as he has spent a number of years in theatrical enterprises.

Bishop Visits Parish.

Right Reverend Charles Scadding, D. D., Episcopal bishop of Oregon, visited the parish of St. Paul's church in this city Thursday. The bishop addressed the women of the congregation at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at Willamette hall, and a large number were present. At 5:30 supper was served to all the members of the congregation.

At the supper were representatives of nearly every family in the parish. The tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion and were in charge of the following ladies: Mrs. Norman R. Lang, Miss Marion Lovelitt, Mrs. J. Nelson Wisner, Mrs. William A. Shewman, Jr., Miss Mollie L. Holmes, Mrs. Linwood E. Jones, Mrs. W. B. Stafford and Mrs. Dan O'Neil. The following waited on the guests: Miss Clara Fields, Miss Evelyn Harding, Miss Clara Dente, Miss Mary Confer, and Miss Martha Parker. At the door the guests were greeted by Mrs. H. L. Kelly and Mrs. George A. Harding.

Diphtheria Reported.

George E. Pusey, Jr., the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Pusey, is suffering from an attack of diphtheria, and as a result, the family are quarantined in their residence on Main and Tenth streets, and Mr. Pusey is unable to attend to his duties as superintendent of the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company.

The child first complained of feeling ill on Friday night, but it was not known that he was affected with diphtheria till Sunday night, when the case was diagnosed by Dr. M. C. Strickland, and the house placed under quarantine. The doctor has the case well in hand, and at last reports the little fellow was doing very well. At time of publication no other cases have been recorded in the city.

Hoboes Are Gathered In.

It is how the psychological time of the year that the disease known as "wanderinglust" gets into the veins of the box car tourists of the nation, and they begin their aimless wanderings. The Southern Pacific is getting their share of the transportation of these nomads. This fact can be proven by the members of the local police force, as the city bastille is filled nearly every night with this class of wanderers. Tuesday night, officers Cooke and Shaw gathered in a bunch of fourteen, who were hanging around the Southern Pacific depot. It is well known that there is no good imparted to this class of men by confining them, besides, it is an expense to the city, so they were all released and ordered out of town the following morning.

Death of Mrs. John Younger.

Mrs. John Younger, for many years a resident of this city, died at the Mount Tabor Sanitarium Sunday night. Her demise came as a result of a long siege of illness. She was a native of Illinois. She was survived by her husband and five children: Mrs. Jennie Silcox, Mrs. M. Gleason, Miss Nell Younger and John and Peter Younger. Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, the services being conducted by Rev. J. R. Landsborough.

Letter List.

List of unclaimed letters at the Oregon City postoffice for week ending October 23, 1908.
Women's list—Miller, Hattie (2); McDonald, Mrs. J. H. (8); Walker, Miss Vernil; Woodward, Mrs. James.
Men's list—Davis, W. F.; Lange, A. P.; Peaterson, Henry; Rogers, J. W. (2); Smeat, John.

The Green Side of the Saturday Club, an organization of the young people of the Congregational Church will give an entertainment and supper Saturday night at the Gordon residence on Seventh and W'fer streets.

HOBSON DRAWS BIG CROWD

TALKS ON IMPORTANT ISSUES OF THE DAY FOR TWO HOURS.

REPRESENTATIVE VOTERS

Republicans and Democrats Alike Express Willingness to Listen to Speaker Hours Longer.

Richmond Pearson Hobson, Senator from Alabama and the man who bottled up the Spanish fleet, spoke in Shively hall Wednesday evening before one of the largest audiences in this city, and from start to finish he held his audience with rapt attention, receiving many marks of appreciation by rounds of applause.

His address was along political lines yet might better be classed as an educational talk following as he did the situations in our government affairs that are of the greatest importance to every citizen and every patriot who has the welfare of our nation at heart. He talked of the positions of the two great parties are occupying in the great stage of commercial enterprises of today, the liberal qualities of the Democratic party and the conservative features of the Republican. The hills of the great party that has been in power for nearly half a century, citing many facts which show the tendency of the conservative party to draw away from the people and the natural hiding place and protection it affords for the moneyed classes with the resultant benefit to that class against the masses of the common people, basing his remarks upon facts and figures that had a telling effect upon his hearers. He portrayed the indications that have been so apparent for the past twenty years of the slow but sure process of fleching from the people their great privilege of freedom, and marked the point well with precautions, to look well that the judiciary do not overstep its place and tend to dictate to the representative the only hopes of the people, the only rock upon which they can ever hope to secure a footing.

He closed his talk with a stirring picture of the unprotected condition we are finding ourselves in on this Pacific coast against the encroachment of the yellow race across the great waters, going over the many unpleasant relations with Japan within the past year and the need for protection here, and the probable outcome of the reaching out of the little brown men.

The stage was well occupied by representative Democrats of the city.

OAK GROVE.

The Oak Grove Telephone Company have nearly completed their work of construction on the system, so there will be only the work of putting in the phones for new subscribers from time to time, and this will not call for a large force of men. The system of telephones fills a long-felt want in the community.

William Miller, the proprietor of our new store, has been appointed school clerk for Oak Grove school district. He takes the place of Mr. Casto, who resigned on account of moving out of the district.

Mr. Casto has bought a farm in Yamhill county, about six miles out of North Yamhill, where he will move in the near future and take up farming and dairying. We will miss him here greatly, and send our best wishes with him to his new home.

Mrs. Glenn, one of our new residents at Oak Grove, has returned from an enjoyable trip to Prineville, where she has been visiting with friends.

Mr. McClure, wife and family have left Oak Grove, and hid themselves to Sellwood, where they will reside. We do not know certainly just where and on what street, but near Golf Junction and east. Miss McClure leaves her best wishes to all.

The Modern Woodmen of America have the stage set for the organization in the near future. A good order; better join.

If you did not register for the last June election, you had better pike yourself over to E. G. Warren's at the confectionary store and get yourself in line for the presidential election in November. See?

There is another new building going up on the grounds of the Oak Grove Sanitarium. We wonder what it will be. This place, under the supervision of the Sisters is in the lead for improvements.

We made notice that another paper has made its appearance, "The Milwaukee Record." It seems to be a nice little paper, is non-partisan and comes to the front without the aid of race horses. This makes two papers for Milwaukee. One has two wings and flown to Sellwood, but it has kept its original name.

Alfred Smith Dies.
Alfred Smith, for over thirty years a resident of this county, died Tuesday night at the home of his son, W. M. Smith, on Fourteenth and Washington streets. Deceased was a native of England, and was aged 75 years, one month and 15 days. He came to the United States in 1852, and in 1871 came to the Willamette Valley, where he has resided ever since. He is survived by a widow, and seven children: Mrs. B. Rosenstein, Mrs. Iona Hutchins, Mrs. Fanny Canfield and J. C. and Harry E. Smith, all of Portland, and Mrs. C. A. Morrill, and W. M. Smith of this city. The funeral services were held at the residence at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, being conducted by Rev. T. F. Bowen of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The remains were interred in Mountain View cemetery.
