SOCIAL DOINGS

Miss Case Wins Honors.

A matter of congratulation to her many friends in Portland is the success with which Miss Mary Adele Case has been meeting in Paris the past year. She has succeeded in getting flatteringly recognized from more than one important quarter. The latest success which has brought joy to the hearts of her sanguine admirers was her appointment as soloist to accompany Harold Baner, the renowned pianist, in his tour of the British Isles. There were many contestants both at Queen's hall in London and The Salle Gaveau in Paris. Miss Case, who has a beautiful contralto voice, was selected. She was introduced to Mr. Baner through Baron D. Erlanger, who had been particularly charmed with her singing and playing of the native Hawaiian instruments at a reception given by Ambassador White.

Miss Case is an Oregon City girl who studied here with Mrs. Rose Conrson Reed before she went to New York. She has always been a great favorite here and in California where she has many friends. In Honolulu while visiting there she was made a great deal of and was requested to give concerts and to sing at a number of public affairs. Here she was one of the official soloists at the Lewis and Clark exposition. She was enabled to go to Europe for the study through the assistance of a friend in California, but her untiring energy and her constant ambition have done more than anything else to win her her place.—Oregon Journal.

Miss Case is well known here, having spent last Christmas in this city and attended the local schools. It has often been remarked that she would succeed where others failed, as she made the most of every opportunity offered her, and her present good fortune goes a long way toward proving this assertion.

"Come and See" Club.

The Come and See Club, its membership consisting of the men of the Baptist church of this city, entertained the Willing Workers, the ladies Sunday school club, at a supper Friday night in the assembly hall of the church. These two clubs have been conducting a contest for the largest number of new members for the Sunday school, and as the Come and Sees lost, they decided to show the Willing Workers that they are good losers, so the dinner Friday night was the outcome. At the door of the assembly room was a box with a notice: "Cast your troubles in here." The dinner consisted of a chop suey manau, and was prepared entirely by the men, and the ladies were honored guests. The following were the cooks, and presented a neat appearance in cooks' caps and aprons: F. W. Howard, chef; W. W. Bruce, Virgil Welsh, Lewis Conklin, Clifford Minnup, Clarence Eaton, Joseph McComb and John Barger. About 150 partook of the bill of fare, which was excellent, after which the following program was rendered: Address of welcome, Ed. Harrington; instrumental selections by Cooks' and Waiters' bands; recitation: Willie's Speech; Grandpa Barger's recitation; "Mary's Lamb," Deacon Howard; piano and violin duet, Virgil Welsh and Joseph McComb; "The Dutchman's Lament," W. W. Bruce; piano solo, Oscar Woodfin.

S. P. Davis then presented the Sunday school with a framed picture of all the ministers of the Baptist church since it was founded in 1847.

One of the largest audiences that ever attended a play in this city was at Shively's opera house Friday night to witness the cantata, "Fairies of the Seasons" which was produced by the children of the Presbyterian church. Barclay 17, Eastham 0.

The first football game of the season was played Friday afternoon on the Willamette Field between the teams of the Barclay high school and the Eastham grammar school, and resulted in a victory for the former team, the score being 17 to 0. Although outwitted by their opponents, the Eastham lads put up a game fight and tore off several plays of the hair-raising variety. They depended more on varied styles of play, while the Barclays, owing to their superior weight, experienced no difficulty in walking through their opponents' rash line at will. In this stage of the game Bowen was especially effective, and was always sure of making at least ten yards.

Taking into consideration the threatening appearance of the weather, the attendance was very good. The line-up of the teams follows:

Barclay: Eastham:

Hargreaves	LER	Gordon
Gillette	LTR	Shaw
Canfield	OSG	LGR
Welsh	O	Lankins
Clark	RGL	Lewis
Avison	RFL	Goetting

Institute Will Be Successful.

If the plans of County School Superintendent E. J. Gary are realized, the County Teachers' Institute to be held in the Barclay school October 4, 5 and 6, will be one of the best held in the state. The best musical and instructive talent obtainable is being secured for the affair by the zealous school superintendent. Several new innovations have been added to the work of the institute, among them being a department devoted to the interests of high schools and the one-room country schools. Instead of a prearranged program, daily programs will be issued during the session. The teachers of the Oregon City schools will tender a reception to the visiting teachers on Wednesday evening, October 4.

Basket Social Nets $40.

The entertainment and basket social given Saturday evening at the Gladstone school house by the members of the XI Club was attended by a large crowd, and a considerable amount was added to the fund the club is raising to pay for the new chairs in the assembly room of the school house. The following short program was rendered in a pleasing manner: Reading, Miss Bradley; recitation, Miss M. M. Kelly; song, high school girls. After the program, the baskets were auctioned off by G. T. Toozee, and in this manner $40 was added to the fund. The club is so much pleased with the result of this entertainment that they are already making preparations for the next one, which will be held on the first Friday in November. Dr. A. L. Beatie will read a very instructive paper and, negotiations are being made with several good speakers and singers for their help on that night.

Organize Dancing Club.

Several young men of this city have reorganized the "Willamette Club," an organization that in former years gave a number of very successful dances, and will give their initial hop on the night of October 30 at the Army hall. Invitations are being issued to residents of this city and Portland. Parsons' orchestra have been engaged to play for the affair. It is the intention of the club to give a dance every month or six weeks.

Good Program at Recital.

The recital given at McLoughlin Hall Friday night by a number of young ladies for the benefit of the McLoughlin Institute was attended by a good sized audience. All of the numbers on the program were well rendered, and the young ladies were obliged to respond to encores. The young ladies are jubilant over the outcome of the affair, and it is thought that a similar entertainment will be given by them at a later date.

Kings' Daughters Will Hold Market.

The Kings' Daughters met Saturday at the home of Miss Marian Lettwaite in West Oregon City. The afternoon was spent in making surgeons' aprons for use in the Good Samaritan Hospital. The ladies of this society will hold a market next Saturday in the kindergarten of Miss Gussie Humphreys on Seventh street. Cooked foods will be placed on sale. The next regular meeting of the society will be held Saturday, October 31, at the home of Mrs. J. Nelson Wisner, when the work of making surgeons' aprons will be resumed.

Fair Will Be Successful.

The ladies in charge of the fair that is to be given in December for the benefit of the McLoughlin Institute are more than pleased with the manner in which contributions are coming in, and are certain that the fair will be the most successful ever held in this city. The ladies who are in charge of the canvassing report glowing results. A watch was placed in Burmeister & Andersen's window to be raffled off, and all of the 200 chances were sold in less than three days.
