

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY

LOGAN.

John Mostel has returned from Dakota and reports the weather there as having been rather cold, as it was at one time 40 degrees below zero. Charles Wilson made a short visit with relatives and friends here. He has been fourteen years since he was here last. He is operating a store and postoffice near Olympia, Washington, the latter supplying two rural delivery routes.

Forty cents for butter-fat at the Creamery goes far toward reconciling a dairyman to the extra high price of feed and at 48 cents per dozen for eggs, at home, it seems as if the United Federation of Oregon Hens ought to declare the strike off and get busy. It is reported that it is hard to find girls for housework.

We are keeping our fountain pen well filled so as to be ready to write up a wedding which rumor says is soon to occur. We hope the boys will not have to "shiver-ee" again.

MOLALLA.

February sets in in good old "Web-foot" style—warm and wet.

Meadowbrook correspondent called on ye scribe the first of the week, and as usual was alert to the signs of the times.

Don't forget, all ye Molalla people, that next Saturday a public meeting will be held at Molalla at the Grange Hall in the interest of education. A good time is assured.

S. A. D. Hengate, county surveyor, spent a few days out on his ranch, returning to the county seat Monday.

C. H. B. Thomas came out from Portland to assist the folks at home during their illness.

The Molalla Commercial Club is having a lot of stationary printed, which shows a map of the Molalla valley and the southwestern portion of Clackamas county and the northwest of Marion county. The reverse side of the envelopes will contain information of the various resources of the Molalla valley. It is the intention of the club to place the stationery on sale, that the "four corners of the earth" may know just where to find our particular locality. If purchase Oregon City or Salem should ever be reached by any energetic home seekers looking for a beautiful spot on which to live on the edge of the country, come from the ground and our splendid atmosphere.

MADRAS.

(Too late for last issue.)

Douglas Hood left for Silver Lake the first of the week to sell his fine stallion, having had some prospective purchasers in that vicinity. We understand the price quoted was about $2,000.

A. J. Ringo was seen on our streets last Monday attending to business pertaining to his leaving Madras soon. He is much improved in health.

NAME YOUR FARM

Throughout the United States there are many farms that are not named, and the Courier believes that it is just as important that the farms should be named as it is important that the various business houses are named. Give your farm a name. Fill out this coupon, and send it to the Oregon City Courier, and your farm name will be placed on the Courier Registered list of Farms. The name sent in will be published together with the name of the proprietor. Use coupon below.

"Sagamore Hill." Editor Courier—Thinking your idea of naming farms of this county to be a capital one, I would like to submit the name of "Sagamore Hill" for my place. Have a lovely farm of 20 acres which is adapted to fruit raising. It is situated five miles from Oregon City on the Abernethy road. Respectfully yours, Mrs. E. L. Simpson, Oregon City, R. F. D. 2, Box 123 A.

"Deep Well Water Farm." Sherwood, Oregon, Jan 26, 1909. Editor Courier:— I have decided to name my farm, and will call it the "Deep Well Water Farm." It is known as the deepest well in the neighborhood so far. The well is 190 feet deep and is located half way between Wilsonville and Willamette. Yours truly, SAM MOSER.

The Coming Harrow

Within the next five years we predict that two-thirds of the farmers of Clackamas County will be using the

KRAMER ROTARY HARROW ATTACHMENT.

WHY? Because with Harrow Attachment it is possible to

HARROW WHILE YOU PLOW

Half the Labor---Half the Expense---Half the Time

THE KRAMER ATTACHMENT not only takes the place of all other harrows but it does the work in a much more satisfactory manner. With it a farmer is enabled to harrow at the logical time, directly after the plow while the ground is still soft and moist. The Kramer adds very little draft, the average being less than 100 pounds even in the heaviest soils. It does not pack the dirt but throws it loosely together preventing evaporation and prepares a perfect seed bed. It is a thorough pulverizer. Can be attached to any riding plow.

RUSSELLVILLE.

Inasmuch as some want to hear more of my visit to Malheur, I will now try to give them a short account of the trip.

On the 12th of last October we left home, arriving in Portland the same day. The following day we spent with friends, riding in street cars and automobiles. On the 14th at 8:30 we boarded an east-bound train and left the sunny climate behind and reached Baker City at 12 o'clock at night, in freezing temperature; and the following morning found the ground covered with snow. We left Baker City at 8 o'clock and took the stage for Malheur City, which we reached at sunset. We changed horses twice, the distance being about 40 miles. About half way is the famous Dusty mountain, which is about ten miles across here we met quite a snow storm. Going down to Burnt River valley the team galloped. We then went six miles, over to Malheur, passing through a mining country all the way. Just before arriving we crossed the Eldorado ditch, 130 miles long and top of a mountain range. The ditch is for mining purposes and also irrigation.

Malheur City is on the south side of the divide between Burnt River and Willow creek. Almost every gulch has been sited with the hydraulic, after gold. These ditches are in width from 20 feet to two-hundred inches. Within a few rods of the city is a mining ditch more than 200 feet in width and 20 feet deep. Eight millions of dollars have been taken out, besides what has been taken out of the quartz mines, and the whole surface is more or less covered with white quartz varying in size from very small pieces to pieces the size of a three-gallon bucket.

We visited many places of note, remaining about one whole week. After our arrival the weather was very cold. There were icicles a foot long for several days' duration.

Malheur is a grand hunting country. Black-tail rabbits, Cotton-tails, Jacks, and hundreds of Sage chick-ons, and very large ones, abound. Coyotes are very numerous and many are seen in one gang. Some are so tame one would think they were pets, as they will eat a biscuit if you throw it to them. There are two kinds of deer some mountain sheep, a few antelope and ibex, wildcats, panthers, cougars and bears.

There are many quartz mines being worked. When Warshaw Bros. were working in some of their mines they unearthed petrified Indians—a squaw and her ransome—and some large tusks of elephants. After visiting the Ironside school house we turned our faces homeward. Dave Warshaw conveyed us to Baker City. We took the train there for The Dalles, reaching that city about dark and were met by Miss Iva Wingfield. After visiting with them a few days we went sixteen miles to Mr. A. W. Quinn's and visited around Dufur a few days. Orval Wingfield came after us and we visited with them a few days and then left the rich country of Wasco for Portland at 2:30 p. m., arriving at Portland about dark. Mrs. Hannah Graham met us at the depot. We visited one day with friends in Portland and took an electric car to Oregon City, and there met Mrs. Scott Carter, who escorted us home, after visiting some of the country and placing seen in my boyhood—Snake river, Burnt River, Powder River and Grand Round river, also the Blue mountains, Unatilla, John Day, Deschutes etc. The highest altitude was at Malheur.

We hope this will satisfy all who have a curiosity about the country. With best wishes I remain An Old Timer.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Bessie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.
