

MOTHERS WHO HAVE DAUGHTERS

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winchester, Ind.—"Four doctors told me that they could never make me regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. I would blot, and suffer from bearing-down pains, cramps and chills, and I could not sleep nights. My mother wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking one and one-half bottles of the Compound, I am all right again, and I recommend it to every suffering woman."—Miss MARY DEAL, Winchester, Ind.

Hundreds of such letters from girls and mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, backache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health by Lydia E. IS A FARMERS' TRUST NECESSARY?

The fact that a farmer or shipper today stands a better chance of getting an honest return on his goods is mainly owing to two causes which are quite apart from a higher standard of commercial morals on the street; compulsion, not conversion to a higher code, has driven the average commission merchant from the old line of undisguised fraud to more refined and less obvious methods of "whipping the devil around the stump." The causes which have done most to bring about this compulsory improvement in the methods of commission merchants are organization on the part of growers and shippers, and the passage and enforcement of corrective legislation in the various states. These agencies are still in an almost infantile state of development; they have gone far enough to demonstrate the correctness of the principle of co-operation, but they are, as yet, no match for the seasoned, cunning and the trained restlessness of the crooked commission merchant, who has taken a post-graduate course in the school of stacking the cards and loading the dice against the small shippers.—Forest Crissey, in the June Everybody's.

Of Interest to Farmers and Mechanics

Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Lintment as soon as the injury is received. This linctment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning results from an injury when Chamberlain's Lintment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale by Jones Drug Company.

SANITORIUM NEIGHBORHOOD.

Property Increased in Value, and Health Conditions Bettered By It.

On account of the present agitation concerning the possible danger and detriment of locating a tuberculosis sanitarium or camp near a dwelling or valuable property, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis issues a statement which shows that in the majority of cases such an institution has a beneficial effect upon the health of the community.

In a recent investigation conducted by the National Association, 37 institutions located in 22 different states in all parts of the country were considered. According to information received from sanitarium superintendents, real estate dealers and various disinterested parties, 67.5 per cent. of these tuberculosis sanitariums have had a favorable influence upon surrounding property, and have been a benefit to the community in which they were located.

In the case of 23, or 62.2 per cent. of the institutions, the presence of the sanitarium helped to increase the assessed valuation of surrounding property. In only one instance has property decreased in value, and there it was due to ignorance of the facts. In 22 out of the 37 cases, the presence of the sanitarium has even been helpful in the recent sale of land, and in only four places has any detrimental effect on sales been shown. In 61.3 per cent. of the cases, residents have been attracted to the community by the sanitarium, and in only three localities have residents been repelled.

At Hebron, Maine, surrounding property has increased 20 per cent., as a direct result of the presence of a tuberculosis sanitarium. At Asheville, N. C., vacant lots near one of the sanitariums in that city, sold at four times their price in 1909, and those farther from the institution but nearer the city are less valuable.

The courts of Massachusetts, North Carolina and Virginia have decided that a tuberculosis sanitarium is not a menace to the health of a community, and that it does not decrease the value of land in its immediate neighborhood.

The presence of a tuberculosis sanitarium has been a benefit also to the farmers in its vicinity from the fact that it affords a market for their produce, and gives more work to the unemployed. The merchants, too, have testified that the sanitarium is a stimulus and help to trade.

The tuberculosis sanitarium has been of value to the community in the rising of health standards. In almost every city or town where such an institution has been opened, public spitting has decreased, more windows have been opened, and greater cleanliness in life has resulted.
