Caufield, president, and E. E. Brodie, secretary of the McLoughlin Memorial Association, to restrain them from re-moving the old building and placing it on the proposed site. This complaint grew out of a petition by prop-erty owners in that vicinity, for the passage, by the city council, of an ordinance prohibiting the placing of old buildings on city grounds.
The complaint alleged that the presence of the old building upon the proposed site would cause the value of property in that vicinity to depreciate. Judge Eakin granted a temporinjunction, as prayed for. Then J. E. Hedges, appeared on behalf of the defendants, and succeeded in having the injunction dissolved, so that the work of removal would have gong on Monday omrning.

Monday morning Cross filed an amended complaint, asking for other injunction, alleging that the proposed site for the old building is on block 40, that the land was given to the city for public use, that he, as a citizen and taxpayer of Oregon City owns a part of this block, and that the placing of unsightly and unsanitary structures on it will prevent him-self and other citizens of Oregon City from enjoying the use of this block.
