OREGON STATE NEWS

Interesting Happenings From All Parts of the State.

New Potato Pest is Found.
Albany—A new kind of potato bug has appeared on some farms about seven miles north of Albany and has proven very destructive in the few patches it has attacked. The bug is black in color and has the appearance of an ant, but flies well. It attains the size of about half an inch in length and is very hardy and multiplies rapidly. The bugs bite off the blossoms on the potato vines and then attack the plant, killing it quickly.

Horse Thieves in Willowa.
La Grande—About $1000 worth of horses have been stolen from a ranch near Lostine within a month, according to District Attorney Ivanhoe. At Enterprise the grand jury found true indictments against Arthur Hulse and Wm. B. Hunter on charges of horsestealing. Hulse pleaded guilty and will serve one year in the penitentiary. Hunter's case will come up next term of court. The confession of Hulse disclosed the fact that in Willowa county there is a well organized band of horsethieves.

Fined for Swearing, He Gives Conf.
Eugene—John B. Coleman, a local capitalist, who was arrested and fined $5 in police court recently for swearing at an automobile which came near running into him on the street, has given another brick block, valued at $15,000, to the Eugene Bible University, in addition to a block valued at $25,000, given a year ago. The gift is in memory of his wife, who during her life was a devout member of the Christian Church.

State Fair Plans Progressing.
Salem—On September 13 will open Oregon's annual state fair which has come to be recognized as the greatest affair of the kind west of the Missouri river. Because the A-Y-P. Exposition will still be open, tourists will get special rates to Oregon's show and a part of Oregon's superb exhibit at the Seattle fair will be exhibited at Salem.

AUTO ROUTE ACROSS STATE

New Method of Transportation From Shaniko to Klamath.
Bend—The recent inauguration of automobile stage lines connecting Shaniko and Bend has proved so successful that J. H. Wendandy, the proprietor of the present line via Madras, announces that he has purchased a new machine for a supplementary service beyond Bend.

The new car will have its headquarters at Bend and from here will make quick connections with Sisters and the trans-Cascade stage lines and especially will facilitate transportation southward to Rosland and in the Klamath direction.

This means that hereafter passengers coming from Shaniko, bound for the towns beyond Bend, will not be obliged to abandon the automobiles here, but can continue by this quick method.

Grants Pass—While Frank Ellis and a party were exploring Josephine county caves Sunday, Ellis being in advance of the party, slipped and a pistol he was carrying was discharged. The ball entered his left eye, death resulting after four hours.

At the discharge of the weapon, all fled except Mrs. Ellis. Finally Mr. Ellis died and Mrs. Ellis, groping on all fours until she found the lead string which the party had brought to, followed it with great difficulty and finally crawled her way to the cavern's mouth.

The strangest feature of the case is the action of the party in not returning to the cave. They notified a rancher what had occurred, but were too frightened to return.

Honorary Degree for Pastor.
Corvallis—The third honorary degree conferred in 40 years by Philomath College was given Rev. J. R. N. Bell, the well-known divine of Corvallis, Friday. Twenty years ago Dr. Bell attended a meeting of teachers in the old college building. Since that time he has been active in his efforts to advance educational as well as religious work in Oregon.

Rural Carriers Meet.
Corvallis—Officers of the Oregon State Association of Rural Letter Carriers were elected here Saturday night. Upon invitation of the Portland Commercial Club the next annual convention will be held in Portland in June, 1910.

Packing Companies Row.
Astoria—A suit has been filed in the circuit court by the Columbia River Packers Association against the Tallant-Grant Packing Company to restrain them from anchoring a scow in front of the Misholas Kereage sining ground.
