

NAME YOUR FARM

Throughout the United States there are many farms that are not named, and the Courier believes that it is just as important that the farms should be named as it is important that the various business houses are named.

"The Lone Hickory Farm."

Mrs. J. B. Allen called in the Courier office Saturday afternoon, and stated that they have named their fine 64 acre farm at Maple Lane, "Lone Hickory," as there is a large hickory tree growing on that place, the only one in that section.

Calls it "Golden West."

Editor Courier—I have a nice little farm of 80 acres located between Mackburg and Molalla and am engaged in raising mixed crops, am also in the dairy business, but I make a specialty of breeding and raising of pure bred Poland China hogs and I select the name "Golden West" for my farm.

Making Money On the Farm

XVII.—Small Fruit Culture

By C. V. GREGORY, Author of "Home Course in Modern Agriculture"

SMALL fruit can be grown almost as easily as corn or oats if it is gone at in the right way. A liberal quantity grown at home is a luxury that is within the reach of every farmer.

drained, in order that it may warm up quickly in the spring instead of remaining soggy for several weeks and then baking hard, as undrained soils are so liable to do.

Deep plowing, with thorough disking and harrowing, is necessary in order to get the land into the best condition. Strawberries should follow some cultivated crop which has been kept free from weeds.

Varieties of Strawberries.

Varieties of strawberries are divided into two general types—the perfect and the imperfect flowered. The imperfect contain only the female organs or pistils, while the perfect sorts contain both stamens and pistils.

BRAN AND OATS.

There are several right ways of feeding cows, and as many wrong ways. Good bran I consider an excellent feed for cows, as well as for all other kinds of livestock, yet there are dairymen who claim that bran is the poorest feed they ever gave a cow.

THE CHROMITE INDUSTRY.

Report by United States Geological Survey. The production of chromite, or chromic iron ore, is an industry of minor importance in the United States owing to the small extent of the deposits.

TARIFF BILL WINS BY SMALL MARGIN

HOUSE GIVES A MAJORITY OF 12 FOR THE REPORT.

20 REPUBLICANS OPPOSE

Payne Predicts Chaos if Bill is Defeated—Clark Says Revision Is Really Upward.

Washington, D. C.—The House Saturday adopted the conference report on the tariff bill, 195 to 183. Twenty Republicans voted against the report and two Democrats for it.

Mann of Illinois, in a sensational speech said he would vote against the report unless the rates on pulp and print paper as reduced by the house were retained.

Payne appealed to his Republican colleagues to stand by the bill, saying that if they wanted to drive their party into chaos they could vote against it. But he said it would be a delusion to vote against the bill upon the idea that the Dingley rates would be continued.

Payne estimates that the increase of revenue that would result from the enactment of the bill will be $40,000,000 annually.

Average Rate Higher.

Champ Clark, the Democratic leader, said President Taft had been imposed on by being made to believe that the conference report was really a revision downward.

Legislation was held up Monday by the hide and leather question, and the conferees were called together. Western Senators complained that the leather schedule, as arranged by the conferees with the approval of the President, is unfair to the states interested in protected hides.

Senator Borah, with Senator Brown of Kansas, had an hour's conference with the President Monday night, and when they left they carried with them Mr. Taft's promise that a concurrent resolution would be passed by both houses eliminating the "joker" from the shoe and leather schedule and that the duty on shoes and other manufactured leather goods would be reduced in accordance with the prevailing understanding of what had been done by the conference committee.

Taft Allowed Travel Pay

President Gets Money for Tour by Senate's Vote.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The senate passed the urgent deficiency appropriation bill, including $25,000 for the President's traveling expenses, appropriations for executing the tariff bill's provisions, reducing the salaries of five judges of the new customs court from $10,000 to $7,500 per year and reducing the salaries of other customs court officials.
