

ESTIMATE LOSS OVER MILLION

Frank R. Price of Oregon City Victim of Fire

200 HORSES PERISH

Old Expo-Building and Business Property Covering Several Blocks Burn in Portland

One of the most destructive of fires broke out in the Exposition building at Portland, at 12:50 Thursday morning. Seven blocks were ablaze at 2 o'clock.

The entire fire apparatus of the city was called out by Chief Campbell, and despite the heroic work of the firemen it was impossible to check the flames.

Frank R. Price, of Oregon City, is dead. He, with three other men, was sleeping in the Fashion Stables. It is not known if the others escaped.

A young man terribly burned was taken from the Exposition building and rushed to St. Vincent's Hospital. He will die. His name is unknown.

It is estimated the loss from the fire will exceed $1,000,000. Over 200 head of horses are said to have died in the flames in the Fashion Stables in the Exposition building.

The Glendon hotel, 45 Nineteenth north; three apartment houses on Washington, the Multnomah Club and several stores on four corners covered by Washington, Couch and Ella streets were destroyed.

The center of the Exposition building was occupied by the Exposition Slatting Rink. The Brush Automobile Company has recently acquired quarters in this renovated part and had placed therein one dozen new automobiles.

Across the street on Washington, three apartment houses were wrapped in flames within 10 minutes after the fire started.

A bakery, florist establishment and tailor shop were also destroyed in a few moments. Across Nineteenth street, on Washington a drug store, three saloons and several homes were in ashes an hour after the flames had broken out in the Exposition building.

George L. Baker, of the Baker Theatre Company, reports a loss of $30,000 on scenery stored in the old Exposition building. There was no insurance on this.

The Nob Hill Kennels, which occupied a portion of the Exposition building, were also destroyed, with several valuable animals.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The Fashion stables keep open all night, and it is believed that an oil lamp may have exploded, though it is

SELLWOOD CHURCH FORTUNATE ONE

Rev. T. F. Bowen Has Accepted Call of St. John's Parish

It is with regret we learn that Rev. T. F. Bowen, who has been rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city for two years, has accepted a call to St. John's church at Sellwood. He will leave here about September first, to take up his new field of labor. Mr. Bowen came to Oregon City from Los Angeles, and during his pastorate here has made many warm friends who will be sorry to have him leave, but the opportunities in church work are better in Sellwood for Mr. Bowen, hence his removal to that place.

During his pastorate here a chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew has been organized and a substantial growth in the financial resources of the parish here has been made. One-third of the present number of communicants have been added to the church during his rectorship, and two-thirds of the Sunday school scholars. The number of baptisms during the last three years equals the number baptized during the preceding 19 years.

Mr. Bowen's friends wish him success wherever his work calls him and it is hoped his successor will give as good satisfaction.

CHARLES HIDY MADE CAPT. IN

Regimental Adjutant J. J. McDonald of Portland Was Election Officer

Monday evening election took place with Company "G", O. N. G., at the Armory. Members of the Portland militia were the officers in charge. Regimental Adjutant J. J. McDonald was master of ceremonies and by a unanimous vote Charles Hidy was chosen captain. The captaincy has been vacant since early in the year when Capt. Loomis resigned. First Lieutenant Logus retains that office and Jack Hanny was made second lieutenant. The company has flourished here and is well drilled, and as many as possible will join the annual encampment at American Lake this summer.

Get your butter wrappers printed at the Courier office.

removed at 1:30 o'clock that an explosion from a Brush automobile, which burned up the machine, started the conflagration.

An Attractive Store Corner, Clackamas County Fair Canby, Sept. 29th, 30th and October 1st.

BEAUTIFUL WHITE CITY IS MECCA FOR CAMPERS

Attendance Greatest in History of Association—Grounds Dotted With Campers—Enthusiasm Runs High.

The seventeenth annual Willamette Valley Chautauqua Assembly opened Tuesday morning at Gladstone Park with much enthusiasm and very bright prospects. It is ideal Oregon summer weather. Numerous campers are already settled, while others are hurrying up their tents.

A good Chautauqua is the highest recommendation for the educational and intellectual standard of any community, and the holding of our Chautauqua in Gladstone means more than the immediate financial success and entertainment of its patrons. It gives Oregon City and vicinity enviable prestige throughout the Northwest, and there is every reason to believe that the session now well under way will be a grand success.

The undertaking is not a small task, either physically or financially.

A good audience assembled at ten o'clock Tuesday, opening day. The platform was comfortably filled with musicians and speakers who responded to the address of welcome, by President J. H. Ackerman, who spoke eloquently and welcomed the Chautauqua people there.

Those occupying the platform were Rev. T. F. Bowen, Sept. 2, J. G. Gary, Pres. J. H. Ackerman, state superintendent of public instruction; Pres. W. N. Ferris, of the Pacific University; Mr. Berchold, of the O. A. C.; Prof. Patterson, of the Willamette University; Ross Crane, the cartoonist; Prof. Irving M. Glen, the soloist, of the University of Oregon; Miss Gage, of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Emma Wilson Gillespie, of the Gillespie School of Expression; Prof. A. M. Grilley, Prof. R. B. Steel, Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, and others.

At 1 p. m. the delightful and inviting strains of the Journal Band of Portland were heard throughout the Chautauqua grounds, which opened the afternoon session, which was as follows:

1 p. m.—Concert, Journal Band of Portland; reading, Mrs. Anna White Stillman, of the Gillespie School of Expression.
2 p. m.—Lecture, "America Among the Nations," Dr. Wentworth F. Stewart, of Detroit.
3:30 p. m.—Baseball, Chemawa vs. Honeyman Hardware Company.
7 p. m.—Concert, Journal Band.
8 p. m.—Lecture-recital, "Maad," Irving M. Glen, of the University of Oregon.

Those who failed to hear Mrs. Anna White Stillman missed a rare treat. Dr. Wentworth F. Stewart is one of the greatest men in the Methodist Episcopal church in America. His lecture was most thrilling and received a hearty welcome.

The first evening, Prof. Irving M. Glen, of the University of Oregon, gave a lecture-recital which was unique. Mr. Glen has a rare sweet voice and pleased his large audience. Second day, Wednesday, July 13:

8:11 a. m.—Classes.
11 a. m.—Lecture, "What the Jew Has Done for the World," Dr. Madison C. Peters, of New York.
1:15 p. m.—Chemawa Indian School Band; solo, Irving M. Glen.
2 p. m.—Lecture, "How America Is Repeating the Mistakes of History," Dr. Madison C. Peters, of New York.
3:30 p. m.—Baseball, Gladstone vs. Clackamas.
7:15 p. m.—Chemawa Indian School Band.
8 p. m.—An evening of mirth, mystery and magic, Edwin Brush, the Prince of Magicians.

Dr. Madison C. Peters, the most widely read man in America today, is a distinguished orator and author. His lecture, "What the Jew Has Done for the World," was a great message to the large audience which greeted him. He will deliver three lectures which should not be missed by anyone.

Chautauquans have before had the opportunity of hearing the Chemawa Indian School Band, which was enjoyed by all. The solo by Irving M. Glen was highly appreciated. Such men as Mr. Glen not only entertain and instruct us, but they give dignity and tone to our assembly.

An evening of mirth, mystery and magic, by the Prince of Magicians, Edwin Brush, more than pleased his hearers Wednesday evening. His witty remarks and clever tricks furnished much amusement for the large crowd present.

Third day, Thursday, July 14:
8:11 a. m.—Classes.
11 a. m.—"The Home Sanitarium," demonstration by the nurses, Dr. Lena K. Sadler, of Chicago.

The Dr. Sadler company made their first appearance at Chautauqua Thursday. "The Home Sanitarium," demonstration by the nurses, imparted some of the latest discoveries of the world's greatest scientists, touching health and hygiene.

1:15 p. m.—Chemawa Indian School Band.
2 p. m.—"Americanitis, or the High Pressure of Life," Dr. William S. Sadler.
3:30 p. m.—Baseball, Chemawa vs. Eagle Creek.
7:15 p. m.—Chemawa Indian School Band.
8 p. m.—Solo, Irving M. Glen. Dramatic reading, "The Sign of the Cross," Sarah Mildred Wilmer.

Thursday evening the reading by Sarah Mildred Wilmer was very pleasing to her audience. She has the true art of expression.

The Columbia Park Boys of San Francisco, a band of 40, with Sidney Pixoto as leader, will be at Chautauqua, Sunday afternoon and give a concert, which will be one of the principal attractions. The Chautauqua committees are very fortunate in securing this able talent. There will be many from Oregon City who will attend this session, as there are numerous lovers of good music here.

Following is the program for Saturday, Sunday and Monday:

SATURDAY, JULY 16
Morning:
8:11—Classes.
1:00—Lecture, "The Ideal Education," Dr. Leonard W. Riley, President of McMinville College. Reading, Miss Christine Anderson of the Gillespie School of Expression. Lecture, "When Knighthood Should Be in Flower," Prof. L. R. Alderman, of the University of Oregon.
Afternoon:
1:15—Chemawa Indian School Band.
1:45—Confering of Chautauqua Diplomas, by President J. H. Ackerman.
2:00—Solo, Irving M. Glen. Lecture, "How to Make Things Go," Dr. Madison C. Peters, of New York.
3:30—Baseball, Clackamas vs. Eagle Creek.
4:30—College Reunions; Oerlin, Hon. H. M. Calk, president; Monmouth, Miss Fannie G. Porter; University of Oregon, Francis Galloway.
7:15—Chemawa Indian School Band. Reading, Mrs. Anna White Stillman, of the Gillespie School of Expression.
8:00—Ross Crane, cartoonist, mud-moulder and fo- maker, of Chicago.

SUNDAY, JULY 17, W. C. T. U. DAY
Morning:
1:00—Sunday School.
Afternoon:
3:00—"Our Country, Our Homes and Our Duty," Col. George W. Bain, of Kentucky, introduced by Ada Wallace Unruh.
4:00—Band concert, Chemawa Indian School Band, Columbia Park Band of San Francisco, Cal.
8:00—Music, Ross Crane, one of the most impressive lecturers, cartoonists and entertainers on the American platform.

MONDAY, JULY 18
Morning:
8:11—Classes.
11:00—Piano solo, "The Robin's Return," Mrs. Merlin Thompson. Reading, Miss Signe Lack, of the Gillespie School of Expression. Lecture, "Oregon Literature," Prof. J. B. Horner, Oregon Agricultural College.
Afternoon:
1:15—Chemawa Indian School Band.
2:00—Solo, Irving M. Glen. Lecture, "The Searchlight of the Twentieth Century," Col. George W. Bain, of Kentucky.
3:30—Baseball, Gladstone vs. Chemawa.
7:15—Chemawa Indian School Band.
8:00—Concert, the Pasmore Sisters, three American artists who captivated the musicians of Berlin, Germany. (Plans used from Elfers Music House.)

First Game of the Chautauqua League Played, Won, Lost, P. O.
Honeyman Hardware 1 1 0 1,000
Chemawa Indians 1 0 1 .000
Gladstone 0 0 0 .000
Clackamas 0 0 0 .000
Eagle Creek 0 0 0 .000

The first game of the Chautauqua League was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The second game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The third game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The fourth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The fifth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The sixth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The seventh game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The eighth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The ninth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The tenth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The eleventh game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The twelfth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

The thirteenth game of the league was played at 7:15 p. m. at the Exposition grounds. The Chemawa Indians defeated the Gladstone team by a score of 1-0.

FAITHFULS PULLING HARD UP STREAM

County Assembly Practically Declared Flat Failure in Old Clackamas

Saturday evening delegates to the republican county assembly, which will be held at Oregon City, Saturday, July 16, were elected in the various precincts of the county.

It is generally conceded there will be no county ticket recommended in Clackamas. It is even regarded as doubtful if 65 delegates will be elected to represent Clackamas county in the state assembly, for there are many delegates in the county assembly who will fight any attempt to send delegates to Portland, although the county assembly has been called specifically for that purpose by the republican county central committee.

Returns are available from 10 of the 42 precincts of the county, and they present a wide difference of opinion and furnish much food for speculation as to the probable attitude of the assembly. In Milwaukie six delegates were elected and instructed by resolution to antagonize any movement looking to the nomination of a county ticket. At Beaver Creek the delegates were instructed by a vote of 7 to 12 to oppose sending delegates to the state assembly, and all of the six delegates were against the nomination of a county ticket. In Astoria six delegates were elected and instructed by resolution to antagonize any movement looking to the nomination of a county ticket. The Canemah delegates are all opposed to sending delegates to Portland and are also against the recommendation of a county ticket. In New Era two delegates favor both propositions and two are against them. At Clackamas the entire delegation is against both propositions.

Gladstone adopted a resolution by a vote of 12 to 4, instructing the delegates to favor the nomination of a county ticket. Twenty-five republicans were present and 10 voted on the resolution. Among the delegates, however, is E. P. Gayer, who is known to be an anti-assembly man.

The delegation from West Oregon City will not favor a county ticket, unless there is a demand from the county for it, but will favor the suggestion to send delegates to the state assembly. The delegates from Oregon City No. 1 favor sending delegates to the state assembly, and it is known that six of the delegates are opposed to the recommendation of a ticket by the county assembly. There were 12 present at the precinct primaries and 11 delegates were chosen.

In Oregon City No. 2, the largest precinct in the county, 14 delegates were elected and it is understood that a majority of them are assembly men. In Oregon City No. 3 there were seven voters present and nine delegates were elected. It is stated that all of them are opposed to the nomination of a county ticket, but favor sending delegates to the state assembly.

The delegates so far reported are as follows:

Abernethy—E. R. Lusk, J. G. Bryant, Bert Marston H. C. Dauchy, J. McNulty, D. Purcell, H. S. Clyde.
Beaver Creek—Frank Jagger, E. W. Hornsby, D. F. Moehle, William Grisenthwaite, K. Schmidt, G. A. Schueler.
Canemah—Ward Lawton, A. H. Finnegan, A. F. Stokes, Max Telford, Robert Blanchard.
Clackamas—John Young, A. Mather, Alex. Robinson, H. Roadarmel, Frank Talbert, J. A. Talbert.
Gladstone—J. H. Henderson, John W. Meldrum, E. P. Carter, J. C. Padlock, O. E. Freytag, E. J. Noble.
New Era—Enos Cahill, W. Rider, R. Dandus, D. McArthur.
Oregon City No. 1—D. D. Bain, Claude Curtis, George Randall, William Smith, Henry Miller, John O. Bracey, W. J. Wilson, Harry Kellogg and C. E. Stuart.
Oregon City No. 2—L. G. Lee, H. H. Johnson, O. W. Eastham, S. F. Scripture, S. S. Walker, F. C. Gadke, Livy Stipp, Frank Koenig, J. L. Swafford, John Finneane, W. S. Larson, Hugh S. Mount, Charles C. Babcock, Charles H. Dye.
Oregon City No. 3—George L. Story, George A. Brown, B. E. Hyson, R. J. McClintock, C. Fairbrother, F. M. Darling, Dale Torrence, Francis Welsh, Henry Gilbert.
West Oregon City—T. J. Gary, J. F. Clark, H. T. Shipley, L. L. Porter, J. W. Moffatt, C. A. Miller, J. B. Leathwaite, George F. Horton.

land, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinioned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jagger could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board with terrific impact. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp, leaving him limp and unconscious and a result in his death. Clifford Fones is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Louis Jagger and Mrs. Clifford Fones received slight injuries.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Port-

COUNTY FAIR TO BE HUMMER

Great Enthusiasm Shown in all Exhibits.

MAILS ARE VERY HEAVY

Calls Coming in Daily For Information About the Big Fair and Entries for Race Meet.

Great preparations are being made for the Clackamas County Fair, which is to be held at Canby the last of September. Plans are all underway, many improvements are being made and the committees are hard at work completing necessary arrangements for a successful fair.

At the recent meeting of the executive board it was decided that the upper floor of the big exhibit building should be reinforced, as there will undoubtedly be many more exhibits on that floor than in any year previous.

A platform will also be constructed on the grounds, where evening concerts will be given. Many attractions will be offered by the shows at the fair that will tend to attract the people. Evenings, speeches by some of the prominent orators of the state will also be a feature of the program.

On the main floor of the exhibit building will be refreshment parlor and booths of business houses, granges and improvement clubs, offices of secretary, treasurer, entry clerk, race clerk and superintendent, while on the second floor will be the individual farm exhibits, juvenile department, ladies' textile department, domestic science and flower show. On a floor will also be a dairy department under the supervision of M. S. Shrock, deputy food commissioner. In this division will be a model cow stall and samples of butter and cheese. There will also be a dairy cow contest, with prizes for the cow giving the largest quantity of milk and for the largest amount of butter made from the cream. The superintendents of the different divisions are as follows:

Livestock, George Lazelle, Oregon City; dairymilk, M. S. Shrock, of Hubbard; poultry, Fred E. Dougherty, of Molalla; farm products and vegetables, Oscar E. Freytag, of Oregon City; horticulture, A. J. Lewis, Oregon City; ladies' textile, Mrs. J. L. Walden, Oregon City; domestic science, Mrs. C. N. Waite, Canby; juvenile, Miss Emily Spaulk, New Era; flower, Mrs. Williams Knight, Canby; baby show, Mrs. O. E. Freytag, Oregon City.

The baby show will be made an attraction this year. There will be 14 different classes. Last year over 50 babies were entered.

Among the premiums this year will be $10 for the prettiest decorated booth.

The racing program is being arranged by the committee, and a part of which is as follows:

Thursday, September 29—2:30 trot, $100; one-half mile, $75.
Friday, September 30—2:30 trot, $100; 2:15 pace, $150; pony pace, $100; Saturday, October 1—2:35 trot, $150; 2:30 pace, $150; one mile running, $75.

One-mile heats race out of five win. Some of the best race horses of the state will be entered for these races. Among them will be the famous R. Ambush, which won one of the big races at Eugene last week.

It is probable that Oregon City day will be held Friday, September 30th. The committee has arranged for the trains to stop at the fair grounds.

land, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinioned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jagger could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board with terrific impact. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp, leaving him limp and unconscious and a result in his death. Clifford Fones is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Louis Jagger and Mrs. Clifford Fones received slight injuries.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Portland, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinioned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jagger could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board with terrific impact. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp, leaving him limp and unconscious and a result in his death. Clifford Fones is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Louis Jagger and Mrs. Clifford Fones received slight injuries.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Portland, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinioned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jagger could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board with terrific impact. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp, leaving him limp and unconscious and a result in his death. Clifford Fones is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Louis Jagger and Mrs. Clifford Fones received slight injuries.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Portland, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinioned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jagger could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board with terrific impact. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp, leaving him limp and unconscious and a result in his death. Clifford Fones is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Louis Jagger and Mrs. Clifford Fones received slight injuries.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Portland, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinioned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jagger could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board with terrific impact. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp, leaving him limp and unconscious and a result in his death. Clifford Fones is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Louis Jagger and Mrs. Clifford Fones received slight injuries.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Portland, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

In the unexpectedness of the disaster and pinioned between his steering wheel and the seat, Jagger could not lift a hand to save himself. As the big machine crashed against the obstruction, his head struck a heavy board with terrific impact. The blow fractured his skull and tore away part of his scalp, leaving him limp and unconscious and a result in his death. Clifford Fones is critically ill at St. Vincent's Hospital. Mrs. Louis Jagger and Mrs. Clifford Fones received slight injuries.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Portland, when Louis Jagger, a former Clackamas county man, of late a prominent commission man of Portland, who was returning in his touring car from a fishing trip. Behind him in another car were Mr. and Mrs. Murhaid and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sigler. For some time the two machines kept a short distance apart, but finally it is said, the second car came alongside the Jagger machine. They were running almost abreast when they came to a dangerous turn in the road. A collision seemed inevitable. In trying to avert it and save the other auto, Jagger swerved his car to one side of the road. The twist he gave the steering wheel sent the heavy car on over the slight embankment at the side of the road, and as it plunged to the bottom it, crashed against a board fence built at the roadside.

ELECTRIC WASHING MACHINES

SAVE Time and Labor

Cost But a Few Cents Per Wash To Operate

FOR PRICES And Particulars, Call at

ELECTRIC STORE

Seventh and Alder Street.

PORTLAND RAILWAY Light & Power Company

AUTO PLUNGES OVER EMBANKMENT

Resulting in Death of Louis S. Jagger - Others are in Hospital.

A most peculiarly bad accident was that which occurred Monday morning three and one-half miles from Port-

CHAUTAUQUA AUDITORIUM

Where thousands at each session congregate to hear the greatest speakers of the day.—At nearly every meeting many people have had to stand

Continued on page 8