The Best Values of the Season in Women's Ready-to-Wear Garments

If you can equal these values elsewhere, we want to know it, for we are confident as we can be that you can't. You may find garments that look like these, but not the undoubted style, the superior fineness of material and the artistic designing and tailoring of our garments---and we know we're quite safe in leaving the rest to you. Come to-morrow and share in the big values.

Women's Suits $12.50 to $25.00

The best suit values of the season! Tomorrow we will offer a selection of 400 new, stylish Spring Suits in a pretty range in colors in all sizes. These suits, for quality of material and tailoring, are unsurpassed. Made of fine French serges, imported English basket weaves and novelty materials. Some coats are artistically trimmed with self and contrasting colors of satin and braids, others are strictly plain tailor made. You must see these values to appreciate them.

Spring Coats at $8.50 to $25

A handsome showing of very smart and tastily models in Street Coats awaits your approval here tomorrow. If you are wisely particular with regard to style, fit and finish, if you are interested in getting the maximum of good looks and long wear for your money, then you will at least inspect our showing. They come in fine all wool mixtures, in serges, diagonals and coverts in the most becoming styles shown in many seasons. All colors.

Lawn Waists at 65c to $7.50

A very choice offering of about 25 doz. new Spring Waists, made of excellent quality lawn and neatly trimmed with combinations of embroidery and lace, long or short sleeves. Well made and neatly finished. You'll profit by seeing this showing of moderately priced waists.

Silk Dresses $10.50 to $25

We want you to see our line of beautiful new silk dresses. They are well made of the best of silks---messaline, taffeta, foulard and pongee. Prettily trimmed with fancy nets and bands. The assortment of colors and styles is too varied for a full description. You cannot realize their full beauty till you see them.

PROGRESS MADE IN BUILDING

City and Suburbs Show Substantial Increase.

Oregon City is growing---not a boom, mushroom growth, but a steady, substantial growth that means permanency. All over the city you will find new residences going up and improvements are noted everywhere. Yet the growth is not equal to the demand. This week a new comer to Oregon City reported to the Courier office that he had searched every street on this side of the river for a house to rent and had found but one "to rent" sign. The Courier has long been urging property owners to build rentable houses, and we shall continue to urge it. We can't expect people to locate here when we can't provide them with houses. The demand is here and supplying it is simply a business investment. If property owners will look at it this way our city will grow. If they won't, it will stand still and thus loom the suburban property between here and Portland.

Our city has a good start for 1911, and we want to keep the gait. Here are some of the things doing, and each month the Courier wants to print a like record. Any fine residences are nearing completion all along the O. W. P. line to Portland and one among the hundreds stands out clearly as a model home. The new country domicile of Mayor Geo. O. Brownell, at Concord station, situated in a delightful green spot of six acres surrounded by large oaks. The home is a model of the builder's art, and from the basement with modern heating apparatus to the finished attic there is not a detail omitted for beauty and comfort. The large living room opening from an attractive reception hall which with the beautiful dining room is situated along the large porch, all commanding a magnificent view of country side, is replete with green verdure. Beautiful fireplaces add a warmth and grace to the living room and chamber above and in the rear of the living room Mr. Brownell is planning an attractive library with its built-in book cabinets. Cooling chests, water taps and Dutch cupboards add modern, add to the handiness of the kitchen and numerous bright and attractive chambers cover the second floor. It is in reality a four-story affair and finished throughout in natural fir in beam and panel effect of the spiciest grain. The orchards are being planted and subdivisions for a family flock of goats owned by Mr. Brownell, which supply valued milk for the family.

Altogether it is a model of beauty and comfort combined with modern grace so apparent in our twentieth century architecture.

Following the completion of the magnificent dance hall and store house by Frank Busch on 11th and Water streets, much improvement has been going on and that section bears the appearance of a veritable summer garden and the cleaning up crusade has been a prominent factor in the appearance of the whole waterfront at this point. This is indeed a very good example and the excellent pattern set by this foremost and enterprising Oregon City merchant might well be followed by others along the river bank.

Three new homes grace the little knoll on Center street between Eleventh and Twelfth. Dr. Lee's home, now occupied by himself, and the bungalow and cottage just nearing completion being erected for rental by Miss Lou Cochran. They will be modern and attractive and have already been engaged by Oregon City folk. These will add immensely to the appearance of this part of the city and Oregon City would do better had it more such sensible and far-seeing young business women.

Christian Science Chapel has been completed and presents a commanding appearance, just back from the brow of our fashionable promenade. Services are being held therein regularly at the present time and the addition is not only appreciated by those of the Science faith but by the neighborhood as well, for the enlivened appearance added to the vicinity.

John Pittner has a ten-room, two-story residence well along on High street, near Fourth, on the hill.

V. Harris is building over and remodeling a residence on Fourteenth street near Main.

John Lowry has a handsome two story and basement residence nearly completed at Green Point.

Clara Fields has a handsome $5,000 residence well along at Mel-drom. It is beautifully situated and landscape gardening adds much to its beauty.

Mr. Eckoff has the foundation ready for a new residence on Center street on the hill, opposite the McLaughlin home.

Mrs. L. Newton has moved her confectionery store to its former location, on Seventh street. The building, which is owned by Will Green, has recently been remodeled. The old part of the building was moved back and a larger room was added to the front, which is used for the store, and the back room will be used for a living room for the family. Both rooms have been newly papered and painted, and present a very neat appearance.

He spoke of the magnitude of heat, the possible application of its great energy to practical life through the use of science, and gave many interesting observations concerning the distance from Earth and the other planets, and its relation to them, its direction and rate of speed in the universe and its effect upon the earth, from a modern scientific standpoint. I tried Sloan's Liniment and used it with such satisfactory results that I sent for two large bottles, and I have up to this time used about half a 50 cent bottle with splendid success."--JAMES HYDE, Beebe, White County, Ark.

KEEPING IN TOUCH WITH HOME

IT is wonderful how much satisfaction can be obtained from a talk over the Bell Telephone.

A letter carries words, but the Bell Service has been brought up to such a point of perfection that the modulations of the voice are clearly heard.

The cheery tones show that the talker is well and in good spirits. The call may come from a suburban village or a distant city, but within the limits of the carrying power of the voice, the Bell Service carries the tone as well. You get a personal interview with a friend hundreds of miles away.
