NEWS FROM ROUND ABOUT

FLY CREEK

Some are having success fishing around Rock Island in the Willamette. On these sunny days, men, women and boys are throwing the spinner for bass, and landing some that are more than a foot in length. One thing we are sorry to mention is that we hear much profanity and vulgar speeches from boys and men. The brush hides the river from the road, and in passing ladies hear these foul speeches. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord they God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain." "God shall bring every work into judgment whether it be good or evil." "Every idle word that men shall speak they shall give an account thereof." Swearing is truly unmanly and wicked.

The river road south of Oregon City is a pleasant drive for autoists, and many are seen gliding by. The beautiful river, its high banks, beautified by many changing scenes, the cool shade of the woods, and the few rough places in the road all contribute to make the primitive paths of our forefathers interesting. If our road authorities would view this secluded way, they might be forcefully impressed to grant us a few more dollars too smooth the way. We possess a reputation for doing much work for a small amount of money. Think of our needs occasionally, and the pleasures of the autoists.

The fruit trees along the river have very little fruit upon them this year.

EAGLE CREEK

Eagle Creek Grange held its regular meeting Saturday. There was a fair attendance. Three candidates were initiated, one in the first and second degrees and two in the third and fourth.

The two photographers of Estacada, accompanied by Claude Woodle, were over this way Sunday taking some pictures.

UNION MILLS

Look out for inquisitive people. There are some in the neighborhood who enter houses when the owners leave for a few minutes. They are in the habit of visiting chicken houses, too, and helping themselves to eggs. Mrs. C. Mallet's home was entered and ransacked by somebody while she was calling on Mrs. Husbands for a few minutes. There was a good deal of pilfering going on at Liberal last fall. It would seem as if the disease has reached this place now.

Mr. Carlson is taking time by the forelock by burning his slashing, also a little of his rail fence.

Mr. and Mrs. Bollinger are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine son.

Mr. Lindau has finished his house and is ready to move in.

CENTRAL POINT

Crops are looking fine out our way.

Mrs. Gilbert Randall went to Salem one day last week and reported a good time.

Mr. Willie Gilbrich from California was in our vicinity last week visiting at his old home. We were all glad to see Willie.

Rev. Joshland will preach next Sunday afternoon.

CLEAR CREEK

The Viola Sunday school held Children's Day services last Sunday afternoon. A large number of people were present and a very enjoyable time was had.

The Springwater Sunday school plan to hold their Children's Day services next Sunday, and a good time is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fouts left on the 9th for an extended trip to Michigan to visit old friends at their former home.

Ray Morris, a young ball player of Springwater, while returning from the ball game at Redland last Sunday, met with a serious accident while riding in a wagon with a number of his companions. His arm got caught in the wagon wheel, breaking the arm and dislocating the wrist.

The ball game last Sunday between Springwater and Redland resulted in a victory for Redland.

School elections were held Monday afternoon and evening. Below are the results in several surrounding districts: Redland, Wm. Bruce director, W. Brown clerk; Viola, Frank Cockerline director. Loren Terry clerk; Springwater, John Reid director, H. Cromer clerk; Logan, W. Cromer director, S. C. Kirchem clerk; Lower Logan, H. Swales director, W. H Reibhoff clerk; Evergreen, D. Scheeff and V. Oldham directors, Mrs. Courtright clerk; Fir Grove, A. Jensen director; E. N. Brock clerk.

Last Saturday marked the passing away of another old pioneer from this vicinity, familiarly known as Captain J. B. Shannon. Mr. Shannon was about 90 years old and had resided at Springwater for the last 30 years. He became ill about a year ago and has been under the care of doctors in Oregon City and Portland since. Mr. Shannon leaves two daughters and a son in Portland and a son and daughter in Denver. His wife died at Springwater about eighteen years ago. Mr. Shannon was widely known, being connected with the early development of this vicinity. The funeral services were held in Oregon City Tuesday and the remains were laid to rest in the Masonic cemetery.

MOLALLA

A pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vick of Molalla, Sunday June 18, when their daughter, Emma A., was married to Philo B. Hawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hawley of Cottage Grove, Ore. Rev. Jacob Elmer of Portland, uncle of the bride, officiated. In the presence of relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends the young couple appeared at 11 o'clock to the strains of a pretty wedding march rendered by Miss Lulu Elmer, cousin of the bride, and took their places beneath a canopy of evergreens and flowers, where the ceremony was performed. After congratulations and good wishes were extended the bridal party sat down to an elegant repast. The young couple left immediately amid a shower of rice and good wishes for Cottage Grove, where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Hawley's many friends wish them a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vick of Molalla started Tuesday for an extended trip through the eastern states to visit friends and relatives during the summer months.

CLACKAMAS

Strawberries are still the order of the day here. The yield is better than was at first expected. This locality is rapidly becoming the great strawberry center of Clackamas county. We need only one thing more to make this the most desirable suburb of Portland, and that is a better train service. It is a shame that we are cooped up here so that we are compelled to either walk to Gladstone, two miles, or drive to Lents, four more, in order to do business in either Portland or Oregon City. But as what this scribe says will not change things, I will desist.

Last Wednesday Ora Flannery, who had been very ill for more than four months, was laid to rest in Clackamas cemetery. She was apparently recovering, when suddenly she was seized with convulsions and died in a few hours. The funeral services were held in the Methodist church, of which she was a member. Rev. W. B. Moore of Lents conducted the funeral services.

Clackamas will have an entire new force of teachers for the school this year. With a greater interest in the school and new teachers we look forward with pleasure to the new school year.

Just as soon as the berry picking is over we will all go to Gladstone Park to the feast of Chautauqua. The boys are wondering who will win the baseball game on the Fourth, the lawyers or the teachers. We shall go and see it anyway.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

Mountain View Sunday school has decided to have a picnic on the Fourth of July, instead of going to the celebrations elsewhere. There are so many who would not go anywhere that it was thought best to make this arrangement for their benefit so that all may have a good itme.

Mrs. J. H. Quinn is on the sick list this week.

Rev. Maloy, who was formerly a resident of this part of town, visited in this vicinity last week.

The Quinn brothers have gone to New Era to haul cordwood awhile.

CORONATION IS CYNOSURE

A Succession of Brilliant Ceremonies and Pageants Held.

London.—The attention of the world will be centered on Westminster Abbey this week, where King George and Queen Mary will be crowned with all the elaborate and splendid ceremonies that have attended similar events for ages. Aside from the coronation there will be a succession of brilliant ceremonies and pageants that will combine to make the week in London one ever to be remembered.

Monday witnessed the arrival of most of the royal guests and other special visitors from abroad. John Hays Hammond, special ambassador of the United States, made his official entry into the city at noon.

The coronation is signalized by a free-handed distribution of honors. The bestowal of a baronetcy upon Dr. William Osler, regius professor of medicine at Oxford and formerly professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University, at Baltimore, and McGill University, at Montreal, is the most interesting item in the honor list to Americans and Canadians.

INDIANA GRAND JURY INDICTS W. J. BURNS

Indianapolis.—Detective William J. Burns was indicted on a charge of kidnaping in connection with the removal of John J. McNamara to Los Angeles for alleged complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times. McNamara was indicted in connection with alleged dynamitings.

In all, the grand jury returned eight indictments in connection with the McNamara and Burns cases.

The charge against McNamara is conspiracy to blow up the Industrial Iron Works at Peoria, Ill., and conspiracy in connection with a dynamiting that occurred in the yards of the Pekin Union Railway in Peoria.

It is reported that the eight indictments returned include one against Deputy Sheriff Hossick of Los Angeles.

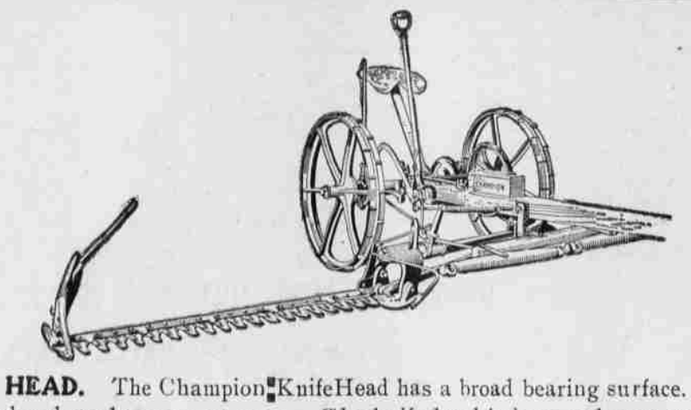
THESE THREE ADVANTAGES ALONE MAKE

THE CHAMPION MOWER

SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHER MACHINES



KNIFE HEAD. The Champion Knife Head has a broad bearing surface. Parts are of case hardened steel to prevent wear. The knife head is long and very strong. Wear caused by the revolving pitman is automatically taken up by means of an adjustin device.

COUPLING YOKE. The coupling yoke is wide and very substantial, making it impossible for the knife to get out of line with the pitman.

COUPLING PINS. The coupling pins are large and case hardened. They provide excellent bearing surfaces. The wide yoke, long pins and the substantial way in which the shoe is attached to the yoke insures positive alignment of the knife and pitman.

With These Superior Features are combined Many Others

Strength of Construction! Ease of Operation! Light Draft!
