With a splendid river running through and a city of our size, it seems strange that someone has not long ago opened a natorium here. There are many places along the river where the water gradually deepens and where bath houses could be erected, and it is almost a certainty that the people would patronize such a place liberally during the summer months.

Last April the laundry run by N. Him on upper Main street, collapsed and Martin Borowick, who was passing the place at the time, was caught by the fall and he claims he was permanently injured. He has brought suit, through Dimick & Dimick, for $5000, against Autoinette Walden Stout, the owner of the building, and the Chinaman, Mr. Borowick claims that the building had been declared unsafe by the city.

Mrs. A. Morrison of this city died Saturday morning, July 15th, at the St. Vincent hospital in Portland. Death was caused by cancer. At the time of her death she was 54 years of age. She was born in Michigan, and has resided in this city for about three years. Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, Albert and Kenneth. The funeral took place Monday morning at 9 o'clock from the Mountain View church. The interment was in the Mountain View cemetery.

Judge G. B. Dimick, a member of the state highway commission, says it will be necessary for Oregon City, Canby, Anvros, Hubbard, Barlow, and New Era to come alive and get busy on the state highway from Portland to Salem may pass up this city and go by the west side route, ten mile west of here, through Newberg. The residents along the west route are making an aggressive effort to have the highway go through that section, and if Clackamas and Marion counties sit still and let them, they will get away with the project.

Saturday of this week a case with serious charges will be tried before Justice Samson, charges brought by Mrs. Eva Phelps of Ames against her stepfather, W. M. Hardin, owner of a large goat ranch. It is stated that the alleged assault was made when Mrs. Phelps was under 16. Mr. Hardin was given a hearing on this charge about three years ago and dismissed. Since then the stepdaughter has married. Mr. Hardin is out on $500 bail. He emphatically denies the charge and it is stated, claims Mrs. Phelps, the husband of the girl, was guilty of the charge.

Want Special Session.

Under Medford there has started an undertaking to induce Governor West to call a special session of the legislature to consider good roads legislation. Telegrams are being sent to the governor from many parts of the state, and it is said many commercial clubs and the state are with the movement.

The plan originated in Medford from a desire to bond Jackson county for $1,000,000, the money to be spent in improving the highways of the county. Attempts have been made to call a special vote for warrants, but they have failed. It is understood here that the Portland Chamber of Commerce and commercial bodies of virtually all progressive cities in the state are backing the good roads movement.

Mr. U'Ren Gives Talk.

By invitation of the Rotary Club of Portland, W. S. U'Ren of this city addressed the members on the single tax theme at Richmond Cafe, Tuesday afternoon, and the Portland dailies had the following regarding it:

"When Mr. U'Ren was introduced, it was said by the toastmaster that it had been accepted as a maxim throughout the country, that only the rich could afford to be reformers, and if that were a fact, from the number of reforms advocated by the speaker of the day, he must be a multi-millionaire, all of which Mr. U'Ren took with good humor. The speaker pointed to the Swetland building, the Corbett and Ladd estate, and several other well known properties in the heart of the city as the basis for a change in our present system of taxation. These values, he contended, were created by the community, and therefore were values belonging to the community, hence, they should be absorbed by the tax gatherers."

WEDDINGS.

Miss Agnes Margaret Justin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Justin of this city, was married to Mr. William Cleveland Johnson of Portland, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at St. John's Catholic church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Hillebrand. They were attended by Miss Rose Justin, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Mr. Joseph Justin, brother of the bride, as best man. The church was prettily decorated with sandalwood and ferns. The bride wore a beautiful white marquisette semi-princess gown, trimmed with fringe. Her long veil was caught in place with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of white carnations. The maid of honor wore a dainty white marquisette gown and a cream colored picture hat trimmed with pink flowers. Her bouquet was of white sweet peas.

After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Johnson. Only the immediate relatives were present.

In the afternoon a reception was held, which was attended by many friends. The house was effectively decorated with marguerites and ferns. The young couple left for a few days' trip at the coast. They will return to this city Sunday, when a big Austrian reception will be given in their honor at the Knapp hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will make their home in Spokane, Wash.

The bride has lived in this city near all her life and is one of Oregon City's most popular young ladies. She has been connected with the Home Telephone Co., in Portland for the past three years. Mr. Johnson has been connected with the O. R. & N. in Portland for several months.

The Courier extends congratulations.

A Basis of Business.

Newspaper publishers who find themselves annoyed almost beyond endurance with requests for free publicity for local fairs, carnivals and expositions—gotten up for money-making purposes and to exploit the advantages of some particular locality—should not forget what waste baskets are made for. It is time for the Oregon press to squelch these nery beggars.—Polk County Observer.

This matter is one that should be taken up at the coming meeting of the state press associations, and the boys should thoroughly agree to blue pencil every line of this sort that has a money-making end to it.

COBB LIKELY TO SURPASS BATTING RECORD IN 1911

T. Raymond Cobb, the wonderful outfielder of the Detroit Tigers, this season is out after a record that may stand side by side with the pyramids. The record in question is none other than the highest batting average ever compiled in big league warfare since Anson started the natives in 1870 by batting .407 for the year.

These are the 400 hitters of the game to date in 100 or more games:

Duffy, Boston, 191-128 games, average .42.
Keeler, Baltimore, 187-125 games, average .42.
Burkett, Cleveland, 186-112 games, average .42.
Lajoie, Cleveland, 191-131 games, average .42.
Anson, Chicago, 187-121 games, average .42.
Burkett, Cleveland, 186-133 games, average .41.
Delahanty, Philadelphia, 189-146 games, average .40.

Duffy of Boston, now head of the White Sox, holds the record to date, with .438.

These are the figures that Cobb must beat to get there, and the hope is there is any such animal—show that he has his chance to land. For

DONOVAN PLEASURES TAYLOR.

Manager of Boston Americans Does Not Mind if Owner Runs Team.

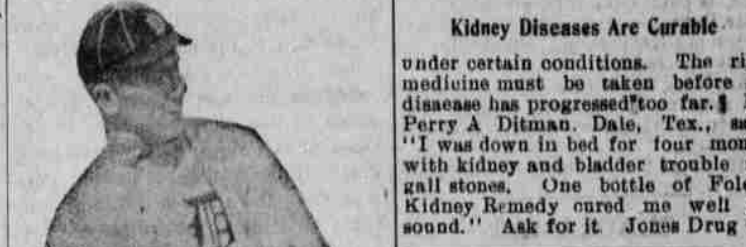

Patsy Donovan is probably proving himself the most satisfactory manager that the Boston club has ever had, because he does not appear to object to the interference of owner John I. Taylor.

The average man in charge of a ball team wants to be the boss. He wants to be consulted about when players are to be let out or others secured. Donovan, however, seems to differ in this respect, for he has not raised his voice against anything Taylor has done or intimated.

All his predecessors forced themselves out of their jobs because they did not want Taylor to meddle with the team's affairs. Donovan has profited by their experience and is looking wise and sawing wood.

Many Pitchers Are Good Batters.

There are too many good hitters among the pitchers for them to be considered weak as a class with the bat just because some of them are especially weak. Also there is a good deal of latent hitting ability among them which wouldn't be latent if they had as much batting practice in games as the other players.

Kidney Diseases Are Curable

under certain conditions. The right medicine must be taken before the disease has progressed too far. Mr. Perry A. example, the records of the past three years show that Cobb has hit each season above .400 after June 1.

This season, for the first time in his career, he turned June above the .400 mark and has now pounded his massive average above .450. July, August and September have always been his heaviest batting months, and if history repeats in this part of it he is liable to run up a set of figures never to be equaled by this or the succeeding generation of those whose main object in life is to "hit 'em where they ain't" too swiftly where they are or to where they can't even get.
