PAST AND PRESENT.

Eastern Stars Recall the Past and Rejoice in the Present.

One of the most notable and impressive lodge affairs that has been held in this city, was Friday evening at the Masonic Temple, when the 19th anniversary of the Order of the Eastern Star was observed, there being over 200 members and friends in attendance, who enjoyed the excellent programme of the evening, which was presided over by Clarence Eaton, Worthy Patron.

Nineteen years ago it was decided by a few enthusiastic members of Masons' families to organize the lodge in this city, known as the Eastern Star, and since that time new members have been added to each meeting so that the membership now numbers 172.

During the evening's programme a very impressive ceremony took place when the secretary of the order, Mrs. E. W. Scott, gave the "roll call" of those who were called by death to a higher order, and a feeling of sadness was felt in the assembly room as each name was called with no response. During the "roll call" the room was darkened and assisting Mrs. Scott were Miss Gertrude Fairclough, Miss Florence Walker, and Miss Louise Walker, who wore robes of mourning and carrying lighted candles. As Miss Florence Grace presided at the piano, these young ladies entered the assembly room, and as they passed to the chairs of the departed officers the names were called, as were also all other members who have died since the organization in this city.

The departed ones are: Lester P. Smith, Mrs. L. E. Lacy, G. W. Grace, J. C. Newburg, Mrs. C. Miller, Mrs. Clara B. Evans, Mrs. Mary E. Frissell, C. B. Frissell, Mrs. Jennie E. White, Miss Ora Foster, Miss Augusta Humphrey, Samuel T. Rowen, R. B. Walker, E. R. Charman, Peter Paquet, Florence Paquet, B. S. Bellomy, J. Bellomy, William Barlow, Mrs. Martha E. Barlow, Mrs. Martha Calif, Miss H. France, H. S. Strange, Mrs. Jennie Meldrum.

As each name was called it brought back recollections of meetings held when these members were enjoying the work of the order as those are at the present time.

Preceding and following this impressive ceremony vocal and instrumental music and addresses formed the evening's programme consisting of the following:

Opening address—Clarence Eaton, Patron of the Order; violin solo, Prof. Gustave Flechtner; Address, John F. enjoying.

After the enjoyable programme was rendered dancing and cards were enjoyed by the members and guests, Miss Louise Walker and Prof. Flechtner providing excellent music for the dancing. The old fashioned quadrille was among the dances enjoyed and the way Dr. Mount and Clyde Spencer called for this dance was "not slow."

They proved to be experts, and so enthusiastic were they in this task that they continued long after the musicians had retired to take a needed rest and everyone kept in with the dance until the orchestra was finally persuaded to repeat an old time favorite quadrille selection.

A delicious buffet luncheon was served by the ladies of the order.

The entertainment committee consisted of Mrs. E. W. Scott, Miss Gertrude Fairclough, Miss Bess Daulton, Refreshments, Mrs. J. R. Humphreys, Chairman, Mrs. William Shank, Mrs. M. M. Charman, Mrs. C.
