IN DEFENSE OF CHILDREN

What a Writer Thinks of the Attempt to Stop Children's Sport

Editor Courier:
I understand the city council will enforce an ordinance prohibiting the use of roller skates on sidewalks. Good! Clap your hands! Applaud the actors! it is a good play.

A certain minister of the gospel was recently heard to say that Oregon City was the nearest thing to hell that had ever seen. Why not go a step farther and make the analogy complete? Banish the laughter of children and the songs of birds and let us plunge at once and completely into damnation.

There ARE violations of the law Bicycles should not be ridden on the sidewalks. Also coaster wagons are a menace to life and limb. If it were only such ordinary people as clerks waitresses, working men and women, etc., who might lose a leg or two, no one with even the molecule of a heart would protest, but consider for a moment what might happen if one of these lightening express affairs, descending a grade at the rate of thirty miles an hour, should plunge into the caobose of some one of our pompous and selfadoring business or professional men? It might cause him to swallow his false teeth, or to sit down so suddenly and unceremoniously as to split a $6 pair of trousers, or split the air with an eruption of profanity—or both. Or—

Suppose that one of those screeching locomotives should pass a block signal and telescope the train of one of those effable creations of silks, satins, eau de cologne and vanity, the social dame? Behold the wreck! Here a hat beside the switch; there a slipper in the ditch. It is too frightful to think of.

Some well starched and pious "gentlemen of the cloth" might be run down and sent spinning to the gutter. Might it not cause him to forget for a moment that beautiful line of scripture which says "if any man strike thee on the one cheek, turn to him the other also."

Suppose that one of those juvenile juggernauts, these chariots of fire, these wobbling demons of delight should capsize some drunken bum, some grande from Portland (a divorce lawyer for instance) or even one of the city duds—what an unspeakable calamity it would be, hein?

All of these possibilities, and more might, with truth be assessed against the coaster wagon, but skating is a perfectly innocent pastime. About the worst that could be expected to happen would be some such trifling accident as that which befell a Miss of ten years, from the writer recently overheard this remark, as she rubbed a certain part of her anatomy with both hands—
"Gee, but I took a seat!"

This exercise is good for the young sters, and it should be good to the sight of anyone whose soul is worth a pickle; but unfortunately we have always with us some of those human owls whose eyes are forever blinking in the obscurity of ignorance and selfishness, and whose eyes are injured by that light which is a portion of the radiance of Heaven, which is reflected in the laughter of children, the frolic of puppies and the song of birds, which we call happiness and which is expressed by the words, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

You who believe in the hereafter, if you could catch a glimpse beyond the gates of paradise, would you not expect to see thousands—millions of happy, joyous children at play—perhaps roller skating on the endless walks that descend from the throne of light? Walks and pavements of incomparable beauty—made of a mosaic of precious stones—coral and agate, emerald and mother of pearl, cobwebbed with gold? Perhaps you have a youngster or two there. The chatter and singing of this throng makes a volume of sound greater than all the canaries, mocking birds, thrushes, orioles, nightgales, blackbirds, bobolinks, cat birds, wrens and sparrows in creation joined in one grand chorus. But who would protest against the merriment? None would be so base—not even those austere saints who, while on earth, gloried in the sight of heretics sizzling at the stake, would dare raise a single finger in protest. Would anyone destroy the joy of heaven?

Yet the best informed people (including John Stark, perhaps) will tell you that there is no such place in reality. Heaven is a delusion, an absurdity, a myth, a phantom, a chimera, a flight of the imagination, a fable. Look into any pool of still water and you will see the infinity of space and a person—the infinity of space is the depth of the sky, and the person yourself. Look into the future and you also see Paradise—not the reality but a reflection of your own hopes; your own beliefs; your own heart's desires. Paradise is a dream.

So, then, if we poor mortals are ever to know the meaning of happiness, we must make haste and find it here, and now. Therefore no one should selfishly stand in the way of another who is seeking such poor comforts as this life affords, and children especially deserve this consideration. Whoever would destroy the happiness of a child would destroy heaven itself. Unfortunately there are those who are both willing and anxious to do so. For such eternal infamy! They would go to the judgement with beer on their breath; and to perdition with the millstones of selfishness and stupidity hung upon their necks.

SOCIAL MATTERS

Miss Zida Goldsmith was the hostess of the Gypsies at her home on Fourteenth and Main Street Saturday evening. Cards were among the amusements of the evening. Refreshments were served.

The guests were: Miss Aimee Bolack, Miss Helen Daulton, Miss Marjory Caulfield, Miss Bess Daulton, Miss Cis Pratt, Mrs. L. A. Morris, Mrs. M. D. Latourette and Mrs. Thomas Keith, of Portland.

Mr. Lawrence Woodfin has issued invitations to a piano recital to be given at the Congregational church Wednesday evening April 9th, at 8:15 o'clock, when he will present William Miller. The program will consist of solos and ensemble playing. An orchestra of seven pieces will assist.

This recital promises to be a most enjoyable affair, and no doubt will be attended by many friends of Mr. Woodfin and his pupil, Mr. Miller, whom he is presenting. Mr. Woodfin is one of the prominent and successful musicians of the city, and his recitals are always looked forward to by the music loving people of this city with much pleasure. He is a vocalist as well as pianist.

The Fol De Rol Club will hold the second of a series of dances at Busch's hall Friday evening. Olsen's orchestra, of Portland, will furnish the music for the dancing.

The patronesses will be: Mrs. J. W. Cole, Mrs. L. L. Pickens, Mrs. M. D. Latourette, Mrs. John Lewthwaite.

The Knights and Ladies of Security will give their twelfth anniversary ball at Busch's hall Saturday evening April 12. The following have the affair in charge: Mrs. Henry Henning, chairman; Mrs. Frances McGuehey; Fred Simmons, A. Kloos, M. A. Chapman. Parson's Orchestra of Portland, will play for the dancing.

Must Make Good

The question is asked so often of this office, "When are they going to occupy the Carnegie Library?" We understand the library commission will not move to the new home until the contractors make it thoroughly right. At present there is water in the basement and there is no proper drainage. This must be remedied before it will be accepted. The recent hard rains have also shown there is a leak in the roof, and there are some other detail matters not up to specifications.

The commission is holding back on the final payments and acceptance of the building until it is according to contract—and right.

First Baptist Church
W. W. Milliken, D. D., Pastor.
On Sunday morning the pastor will speak upon "The Christian's Relation to Society." In the evening he will endeavor to correct some of the fallacies regarding Orthodoxy. Do the Orthodox churches teach what some claim, or are they "Up-to-date" scientifically? Visitors are cordially welcome at all services.

"Sure Some Show."

The Commercial Club is going to put on a minstrel show and vaudeville entertainment that as one of the members expressed it is "sure going to be some show." A meeting was definitely decided upon and committees appointed to work it up. It will be held two nights and dates will be given out next week. A professional coach from Portland will take charge of the affair.

Tag Season Opens

Chief Shaw has a bunch of tags he wants to exchange for dollars. No bargains or mark downs are announced, yet expects to get rid of the whole stock by June 1. The city charter says dogs must have licenses. Get busy.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas.
Elmer F. Butzer, Plaintiff, vs. Maud L. Butzer, Defendant.
To Maud L. Butzer, the above named Defendant:
In the name of the State of Oregon you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint in the above entitled suit filed against you on or before six weeks after the writ: The 9th day of May, 1913, and if you fail to so appear and answer, the plaintiff for want thereof, will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said suit, to-wit:
For a judgment and decree against you that the bonds of matrimony between the plaintiff and the defendant be dissolved, and that the plaintiff be awarded the care, custody and control of Lawrence F. Butzer, the minor child of plaintiff and defendant, and for such other and further relief as to this Honorable court may seem just and equitable.
This summons is published pursuant to an order made on the 26th day of March, 1913, by the Honorable J. U. Campbell, judge of the Circuit court of the State of Oregon for the county of Clackamas.
The date of the first publication of this summons is March 28, 1913, and the date of the last publication is May 9, 1913.

Redmen Dance Splendid Success

One of the largest attended affairs held in this city was at Busch's hall Saturday evening when the Redmen Tribe, Improved Order of Redmen gave one of its enjoyable dances. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion when flags and evergreens were used with artistic effect. Arranged about the rooms were tepees and these were used during the little playlet given by the members of the order, assisted by many members of the degree team of Poochontas, and made a most picturesque spectacle, which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of spectators.

The ball was preceded by a street parade participated in by warriors with painted faces, and wearing attractive Indian costumes. The women, who participated, were also attractively attired in beautiful robes of the Poochontas Lodge. At 8 o'clock they arrived at Busch's hall, which was filled to its capacity, to witness the impressive ceremony, the chief being John W. Kelly, who wore a costume of white and his head dress was of feathers of corresponding color. Mr. Kelly, who was drummer boy in the regular army during the Indian War, is well posted in the ways of the Indians of the early days, and the manner in which he carried out his part on this occasion, caused him to win his share of the laurels.

The playlet, which was participated in by about forty "braves" of the Wacheno Lodge and about 20 women of the Poochontas order, and also several little "papooses." There was plenty of red fire burned to make the scene realistic as one of the warriors was threatened with being burned to the stake. The hatchet was buried by the warrior, and all joined in a war dance, Parson's Orchestra playing one of the latest selections for an occasion of this kind.

At the close of the performance the guests enjoyed dancing to the music of Parson's Orchestra of Portland, until 12 o'clock.

Punch was served during the evening.

There is no doubt but that the Improved Order of Red Men know how to entertain their guests. Their dances are always looked forward to with greatest pleasure of those attending any of their functions.

The committee in charge of the affair is deserving of much credit for the success of the affair.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe that if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by Huntley Bros. Co.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Regulets are recommended for this purpose. 25c a box at all drug stores.

"Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers"

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's iron clad guarantee, backed by ourselves you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell, all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. Prescription. And, if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, takes away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now on our positive no-pay guarantee.
