Program for Our Own Time-Tried Chautauqua About in Shape —20th Annual Session

Of vital interest to hundreds of Oregon City, Portland and Clackamas county people, is the announcement by Secretary H. E. Cross that the 1913 program of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua is practically in shape, and that the board of directors will offer the big Chautauqua family a high-class program from every standpoint at the coming assembly. This year will be the twentieth annual Chautauqua for Gladstone—for everybody, in fact—for Chautauqua, with its delightful intellectual atmosphere, its ideal recreations, and its array of music and platform talent that is second to none in the country—is all prepared and arranged for the common people. Many citizens of this section fail to realize the gigantic place that is filled by our Chautauqua—the opportunities for culture, refinement, and mental advance that are thrown within the range of every man, woman and child in Clackamas county and the Willamette valley; that they can enjoy a most delightful chance. Miss Frances Carter of New York is to head the elocutionary department and will be here during the whole 1913 session. Miss Lamkin, will conduct a new feature in the line of "Supervised Play," a sort of nursery for the youngsters. Her work was the feature of many of the eastern Chautauquas the past year, and the new departure of her work made a decided success everywhere. The Sierra Quartette, the premier songsters of the West, have been engaged for two concerts early during the session. Later on will come the Alpine Tyrolean Singers, with their quaint folk-lore songs and Alpine melodies of their native mountains. This is the original company that has toured the eastern states during the past twelve years and fortunate indeed was the management in securing them on their first western tour. Prof. F. T. Chapman of Portland, with a 12-piece orchestra and several of Portland's leading soloists, will again look after the music for the assembly. An opera will be staged by Prof. Chapman during the closing days of the session, in which many local singers will take part. Dr. Hinson of Portland White Temple is to direct the Bible class work during the assembly. Dr. Hinson is generally recognized as one of the most eloquent ministers in the northwest. The session this year will begin on July 8 and close the 20th. Remember the Chautauqua is for all. Every woman in Clackamas county should plan to attend at least some of the sessions.

"BLOWING OVER?"

A Matter This City Can Not Afford to Let Drop
"It's all blowing over and we won't need to do anything about it." This is the statement made by a business man of Oregon City when speaking of the great water problem that has been and is confronting our city. "IT'S ALL BLOWING OVER AND WE WON'T NEED TO DO ANYTHING." Shall we, by either word or action, agree with this declaration? Our typhoid epidemic is over. (?) Let us review what we have learned by our experience. First—Our water supply is not pure—that is conceded by all without argument. Second—Our filter does not always filter. Do we, or our officials, know the day when that non-filtering began, that resulted in so much sickness and sorrow? Do we, or they, know when again it may NOT filter? Our city council took a good step when a committee was appointed to investigate a pure water supply. This committee evidently does not agree with the above quotation, as Prof. Toose, Chairman, is delighted to say, that, after investigating different water sources, the committee has the prospect of being able to secure an option of exceptionally fine terms on a good water supply by drilling. As soon as all arrangements can be completed, drilling will be pushed. With all our hearts we wish them, and us, the best of good wishes in a successful and speedy outcome in their quiet but persistent work. May the day soon come when with pride we can ask our S. S. Convention and Booster Day visitors to take a good, healthy drink of the purest of H2O.

Eggs Go 50 Feet High on Molalla Avenue, This City
Two extraordinary nests have been found at the home of Francis Welsh on Molalla Avenue. The Welsh family have been complaining of their hens laying eggs under certain fir trees in the barn yard instead of in proper and well-made nests. Investigation proved that the eggs came from two fir trees whose tops had been cut off years ago. The ambitious hens trying a good nesting place in the flat tops of the trees had flown thereon, a distance of over fifty feet. One and a half dozen eggs have been gathered from the tree tops, many others having fallen to the ground below. Last summer a mother hen reached the limit by hatching a family of two in her lofty nest, but the little ones were too lively to stay long in their strange home and fell to destruction almost as soon as they were born. Their sad end was explained only recently when the mystery of the broken eggs beneath the trees was solved. MRS. F. W.

WOMANS' CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Club on April 24 a committee was appointed to represent the club at the next council meeting for the purpose of having a woman assistant to the chief of police to aid him in inspecting the sanitary condition of the markets. It was also decided that the woman should have a representative on the park and public property committee. Mr. Gary gave an instructive address on "Public Schools." He first gave some constructive criticism of the present system in which he said that he believed study of numbers had no place in the first or second grade, and that writing should not be attempted until the age of ten. More attention should be given to child study and the conditions of their home life. Mr. Gary then gave his theory of the ideal education for boys and closed his talk by outlining his plans for the teachers' training school which will probably be held at Gladstone park the three weeks before Chautauqua. The club expressed their appreciation of Mr. Gary's talk by a rising vote of thanks.
