The Mail Order Habit

Of buying groceries is said to be "the seed of indigestion" Indigestion or not, there isn't a mail order house in the United States that will give you full weight at any lower prices than are marked upon our goods, leaving out of the argument entirely the question of high standard quality. Fourteen ounces doesn't make a pound on our scales, and we don't sell 20c coffee claiming it is our best 30c grade reduced to a bargain price. We would be glad to match our lower priced goods against those of any mail order house for both quality and price. Come and see for yourself.
