Civic Committee's Report

The following report was made to the Live Wires at Tuesday's luncheon:

During the past month the sessions of this committee have been confined to joint meetings with the Police and Health Committee of the Council and with a special Committee of the Woman's Club.

A Garbage Ordinance, fostered by the Police and Health Committee and supported by our own, failed on final reading because regarded as severe. Within sanitary reason this severity will be remedied and another ordinance presented. The Barn Ordinance found better favor and passed although it was also attacked as being severe. All sanitary regulation to be valuable, must seem severe as sanitary carelessness is largely responsible for community disease and unhealthfulness.

A communication sent to the three paper mills in regard to the possible elimination of sulphurous vapors from the atmosphere, elicited replies from the Willamette Pulp and Paper Co., and from the Hawley Mills. Both of these represent that they have gone to considerable expense and effort to modify the discharge of these vapors but that the only way to completely eliminate the odor would be to do away with the mills and by inference hence do away with the town. The committee has no recommendations to make as to further action along this line.

Let a Seller Sell It
W. H. Timmons of Gladstone, is an auctioneer. He has called sales for over 20 years and he knows the business. When you have an auction sale try him and see if he doesn't make you money. Following is what Outfield Bros. of Milwaukie have to say of his qualifications:

To whom it may concern:
In my judgement Mr. W. H. Timmons, of Gladstone, Ore., is the most able and efficient auctioneer that has operated through this part of the country in the last twenty years.

"ECONOMY"
It is to be regretted that the recent proposed city ordinance requiring metal receptacles for garbage did not pass, for no means could have been adopted that would have been more effective in fly swatting.

The fly is a spreader of malaria, typhoid, infantile paralysis and other deadly germs. The way to swat him is to swat the breeding place. The U. S. public health department says the fly is more dangerous than the deadliest animal alive, and yet we would hesitate to compel a fly tight box to cover up the garbage that will breed millions of flies because a box will cost something.

Doctors' bills also cost. So do undertakers.

A CLOSE CALL

Lloyd Baxter Rescued as he was Sinking the Third Time

Had it not been for the timely arrival and presence of mind of J. Martenson, an employe of the Matholoma government dredger, there is no doubt but that Lloyd Baxter, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baxter, would have met a watery grave in the Willamette river Friday evening. The lad, with several other companions, decided to take a plunge in the waters of the Willamette Friday afternoon, and after enjoying the swim for some time, Baxter called to his friends calling for assistance, stating he was drowning. The boys thinking their playmate was joking with them paid no further attention to his cries. Martenson, hearing the boy's cries for help, rushed to the side of the boat and jumped overboard and grasping the drowning boy in his arms as he was sinking for the third time, started to swim for shore, but a line was thrown from the boat and both were dragged on board. The Baxter boy was carried to the Ownby home nearby, where it required several hours to resuscitate him to consciousness. Dr. M. C. Strickland was called and arrived shortly after the boy was taken from the river and assisted in bringing the boy to consciousness.

There is no doubt but that Martenson is deserving of a Carnegie medal for saving the boy from drowning. Mr. and Mrs. Baxter were not apprised of the accident until the boy had recovered from the effects.

At the point where Baxter went down is one of the most dangerous places in the Willamette river. There are many jumpoffs at this place, and several accidents have occurred there when boys have enjoyed swimming. Baxter says he does not care for swimming for some time.

The rig overturned on Mrs. Cook and she was seriously injured by the fall and the horses' hoofs. A shoulder was dislocated, two ribs broken and her head badly cut and bruised. She was taken to the home of councilman William Beard, Dr. Mount summoned, and later removed to the hospital. Mrs. Evans was considerably bruised but the little girl was unhurt. The team was uninjured.

I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulets relieved and strengthened the bowels so they have been regular ever since.—E. Davis, Grocer, Sulphur Springs, Texas.

Bad Runaway Accident
There was a bad runaway on Molalla Avenue Tuesday evening that resulted in serious injury to one of the occupants of the rig.

The rig and team were Tom Davis' of Beaver Creek. In it were Mrs. Evans, a sister of Mr. Davis'; his little daughter and Mrs. Cook, a housekeeper. Mr. Davis had stepped into the store for a minute when the team became frightened. Mr. Davis ran and succeeded in catching the lines, was dragged a long distance and lost his hold. The team ran on and tipped the rig over, throwing out the three females.

The rig overturned on Mrs. Cook and she was seriously injured by the fall and the horses' hoofs. A shoulder was dislocated, two ribs broken and her head badly cut and bruised. She was taken to the home of councilman William Beard, Dr. Mount summoned, and later removed to the hospital. Mrs. Evans was considerably bruised but the little girl was unhurt. ## Cure For Stomach Disorders

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted. L.
