SPLendid SUCCESS

Moore Benefit to Mrs. Snyder Splendid Compliment to the Order

The entertainment given at the Theatre Friday evening under the auspices of the Royal Order of Moose, of this city, for the benefit of Mrs. Anna Snyder and her two little daughters, was one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given in Oregon City, the net proceeds amounting to over $225, which was deposited in a local bank by the Order of Moose on the following day in the name of Mrs. Snyder.

The members of this Lodge are deserving of much credit for the interest they have taken in Mrs. Snyder and her two little children, and for the successful manner in which the program of the entertainment was planned and carried out, but the big hearted Moose, who are always ready with a helping hand to aid those who are deserving, are also giving much of the credit to those who took part in the programme to assist in making this affair such a success. Every number on the programme delighted the appreciative audience and encores were numerous during the evening. There were three performances given during the evening, when standing room was at a premium. The opening address was made by C. S. Noble, Dictator, Local Order of Moose, followed by an overture by Smith's Orchestra, composed of Charles Schoenheinz, Ralph Smith, Prof. Flechtner, Miss Thoran of Portland, Justin Lagesson; vocal solo "A Warm Day," by Mrs. Anna Snyder with violin obligato by Prof. Flechtner; Popular songs by Falls City Quartette, R. E. Woodward, Roy Woodward, Hugh Kennedy and Joseph Alldredge; selections by the G. A. R. Fife and Drum Corps, veterans of the Civil War; Mr. W. L. Burroughs, the Irish tenor in "Saginaw, Up-to-Date"; Ted Howland in Farodies and songs; playlet, "The Crazy Swede," with the following cast of characters:

Mrs. Jones, Miss Jane Gray; Miss Marion Thompson, Miss Ethel Marcher; John Langston, Jerry Valentine; T. Will Ely, T. O. Burroughs; Ole, Ted Howland. Mrs. Snider also favored the audience with a vocal solo "Silver Threads Among the Gold," accompanying herself on the guitar.

Mrs. Snyder's sweet and sympathetic soprano voice was well suited for her part and it was unnecessary for her to respond to several encores.

The Falls City Quartet captured the house upon its first appearance and at every performance during the evening. All are well known singers of this city and their catchy songs endeared them to the programme.

The Burroughs-Howland Company, which is arranging an engagement at the Bell Theatre, brought down the house with their laughable farce: "The Crazy Swede." "Ole," as the swede, the character which was taken by Ted Howland, could not be excelled, and "Mr. U Will Buy," a real estate agent selling Gladstone property, was the "real article," this character being in the hands of T. O. Burroughs.

There was not a dull moment during the evening. The orchestra played the latest popular selections and several reels of pictures were given between the acts.

Mrs. Frank Alldredge, who assisted during the evening with the door receipts, was ably assisted by Misses Loretta Raber, Iva Blum, Ruth Pickthorn, and Miss Alice and Miss George Park, who acted as ushers and presented candies during the evening.

The early part of the evening the Moose Lodge, headed by the G. A. R. drum corps formed in line and marched from sixth and Main to Eighth and Main Street, and returning to the theatre the G. A. R. played several old war tunes.

Leave it to the Royal Order of Moose when it undertakes to do anything you can count on the members carrying out their plans that will bring good results, and this was proved Friday evening, which will go down in history as one of the most successful benefit entertainments ever enjoyed by the people of Oregon City.

SPLendid YEAR'S SHOWING

Humane Society Growing and Doing Splendid Work for County

The Clackamas county Humane society held its annual meeting in the parlors of the Oregon City Bank, at which time business of importance was taken up for discussion, and the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Miss Armita McCarver, who read her report, as follows:

"Much good work has been accomplished in the work of the Clackamas County Humane Society which reaches its 15th annual meeting.

"Numerous complaints of cruelty to dumb animals have come into the society from all parts of the county as well as the city. Horses and mules have been driven with sore backs and shoulders, underfed and overworked. A number of old and crippled horses that could no longer assist their owners in making a living, have been turned out to die. Ever since complaint has received prompt attention, and no case was so bad that the society could not remedy.

"What the Clackamas County Humane society needs is an officer. The work can be accomplished more satisfactorily and better results obtained if the city would appoint an officer to investigate cases and aid in prosecuting those who insist in violating the law.

"During the year many new members have been added to the list which proves that this society is gaining in influence and that humane education is fast becoming an important feature in the training of children.

By humane education we mean that the heart should be cultivated as well as the mind. We wish to have children taught their moral obligations and duties particularly toward those who are more helpless than themselves.

"The society desires to thank the press for its kind mention of the work and also to express its grateful appreciation and thanks to the officers of the Seattle Police Department, Chief of Police Ed Shaw, for valuable services rendered."

The secretary, Mrs. E. G. Caulfield followed with her report which is as follows:

"Since our last meeting eleven complaints have been made to the Society and all have been attended to by some member of the Society. Four letters of warning were written by the secretary. Four horses were humanely killed by request of the society.

By request Dr. W. S. Eddy, the county veterinarian, has made several investigations of cases where complaints had been made to the Society and has made reports of the same.

Last February special officer Wilkinson and an officer of Portland made a special trip to investigate cases of cruelty to horses used by the lumber company of that place. They found the complaints true, and upon promise of the company to see that the horses had better treatment in the future the matter was allowed to rest until further investigations by the officers from Portland.

"Many minor complaints have been made to individual members of the Society of which no record has been kept but all have been attended to.

E. G. Caulfield, the treasurer, made his report, showing the balance of cash on hand in the treasury.

The matter of establishing another drinking fountain in the city on one of the main thoroughfares was discussed. The fountain will be for man and beast and no doubt will be erected in the very near future. Every member present at the meeting was enthusiastic over the proposition, and it is probable that an entertainment will be given for the good cause in the near future, when some of the best of home talent will be secured, several of the leading musicians have already offered their services in assisting the good cause.

The officers who have worked faithfully in the protection of the dumb animals for the past year of the Clackamas County Humane Society, were unanimously re-elected, and are as follows: President, Mrs. Armita McCarver; vice-president, George Harding;

Secretary, Mrs. E. G. Caulfield; treasurer, E. G. Caulfield. Miss McCarver, Mr. Harding and Mr. Caulfield have held the offices assigned them Monday evening, for 15 years and it is through these officers and Adam Wilkinson, an active member of the organization that the dumb animals have been be-friended and properly cared for.

The newly appointed directors are: Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Caulfield and G. A. Harding.

The marriage of Miss Mary S. Barlow and Mr. Henry Jasper Wilkins, both of Portland, was solemnized at the home of the bride at Rose City Park, Portland, Sunday afternoon in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties, Rev. William Elliott, pastor of the Unitarian Church officiated. The home was prettily decorated with cut flowers.

The bride was becomingly attired in silver crepe de chine and carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by Miss Mildred Huntley of this city.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. Wilkins, which adjoints that of his wife.

Mr. Wilkins and his bride have gone on their honeymoon, which will be spent in the Orient, and upon their return will make their home in Portland.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Barlow, well known Oregon pioneers, and was a well known resident of Clackamas County for many years before taking up her residence in Portland.

The bridegroom has resided in Portland for some time, where he is prominent in business circles.

Mrs. Anna Snyder was tendered a surprise party at her home on Polk Street between Eleventh and Twelfth Street Monday evening, the affair being in honor of her birthday anniversary, when about 40 of her friends called in a body laden with good things to eat and laden with many pretty and useful gifts. Mrs. Snyder was taken completely by surprise and as soon as she had fully recovered from her surprise she gave them a most cordial welcome. It wasn't long before her guests had full possession of her home, and the evening was spent in a social manner. Among the features of the evening was the visitation of some of the High School students with the intention of serving Mrs. Snyder, and after being invited in to enjoy the festivities of the evening they gave several of their musical selections. Refreshments were served during the evening.

In planning and carrying out the pleasant surprise Mrs. Charles Gottberg, Mrs. Frank Whiteman, Mrs. Frank Kellogg, Mrs. Hagler, Mrs. Frank Alldredge and Mrs. Limbough assisted in making this affair a success.

Miss Anna Michaels entertained in a most delightful manner at her home on Third and Monroe Street Saturday evening, the guests of honor being Miss Helen Rehorr and Miss Clara Mollinger of Wisconsin, who have been in the city visiting the former's sister Mrs. Matt Raber. The evening was devoted to 500 when Miss Lorraine Forsberg won the first prize and Miss Julia Baker the consolation prize. A luncheon was served during the evening.

The rooms of Miss Michaels' home were prettily decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves, chrysanthemums and Chinese asters in artistic taste.

Attending were: Miss Helen Rehorr, Miss Clara Mollinger, Miss Lizzie Schoenheinz, Miss Anna McMillan, Miss Ellen McMillan, Miss Julia Busch, Miss Josephine Busch, Miss Hilda Forsberg, Miss Harriet Forsberg, Miss Lorraine Rorsberg, Miss Julia Baker, Miss Charlotte Baker and Mrs. Matt Raber.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Latourette entertained at dinner at their home on Fourteenth and Main Street Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Daulton, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Cheney and son, Oren of Portland, Miss Bess Daulton, and Miss Helen Daulton. The affair was in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Latourette's father, E. J. Daulton.
