Mr. and Mrs. Ely are satisfied with Oregon, although they have had a most delightful trip since leaving here.

If a comedy may be rated by the quantity of laughter it evokes from the audience, then "Sis Perkins" must be one of the funniest comedies ever written. It must be understood, however, that it is not all laughter. There is a story that touches the serious side of life, and the character of "Sis" which may be described as a modern Cinderella, appeals strongly to the sympathies. It tells of a girl, young, bright, innocent, care-free, bubbling over with joy of living, suddenly brought face to face with a great tragedy and burdened with a great responsibility. In the end she overcomes all obstacles, and wins the love of her hero, of course. No play would be complete without a touch of sentiment telling the "old, old story," but in "Sis Perkins" it is treated in an original way and its appeal is unusually strong. "Sis Perkins" is presented this season by a company of unusual ability. It is meeting with marked success all along the line and the people of Oregon City will have a treat in store for them on Monday Nov. 10th. Seat Sale Jones Drug Store.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
Employees of L. Adams Store Are Given Splendid Entertainment

One of the most delightful social functions during the past week was the Halloween party given at Knapp's hall Friday evening, when Miss Mabelle Mills, Miss Norma Jansen, Miss Christina Blum and Mrs. Agnes Silver entertained the employees of the L. Adams Store and a few friends. There was not a dull moment during the evening as the ladies having the affair in charge, spared no pains to make the programme of the evening one that will not soon be forgotten by those having the pleasure of being in attendance. The evening was devoted to games appropriate for the day, fortune telling, Mrs. Agnes Silvers, disguised as a witch gave all good fortune telling of the past, present and future. The booth where the fortunes were told was a house of the evergreens and autumn leaves. Among the features of the evening that caused much merriment was the "silhouette auctioneering" of the ladies. These were stationed at the rear of a screen, and it was up to the men to "put up the price" for the fair "horrible" items of whom brought the "horrible" prices, while others brought prices that were satisfactory to the auctioneer. It was up to William Goodwin to act as auctioneer, and by the time he had completed the task he had disposed of all ladies not taking into consideration at the start that it was necessary for him to have a partner during the evening, but it wasn't long before he had "stolen" a fair damsel from one who had paid the price, and all was serene as far as Mr. Goodwin was concerned.

Oscar Woodfin furnished many of the latest selections for dancing and also sang several selections during the evening, and was heartily endorsed by the crowd. Mrs. Woodfin is one of Oregon City's favorite soloists. Mrs. John Reed gave a very pleasing reading and responded to encores. By request Miss Mabelle Mills rendered "The Curse of Regulas." Miss Mills is an excellent singer, and has a future before her and the rendition which she gave on this occasion was greatly appreciated by her enthusiastic audience. The dancing of an old fashioned quadrille closed the festivities of the evening, this being preceded by refreshments suitable for the occasion. Ralph Miller was master of ceremonies of the dance, and the manner in which the dancers swung their partners or someone's partner wasn't slow.

The decorations of the Knapp Hall were not only artistic but unique, and those having this in charge are deserving of much credit for their artistic abilities as decorators. Bright colored autumn leaves were arranged about the rooms, while brass bowls filled with cut flowers and ferns formed a most artistic finish of the decorations. Among the other decorations were noticeable miniature black cats, which were the latest. Knapp's hall never looked more attractive than it did for this occasion.

The guests of Miss Mills, Miss Klemens, Miss Blum and Mrs. Silver were: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. L. Adams, Mrs. E. S. Folshuber, Mrs. B. B. Moore, Mrs. Carrie Kenney, Mrs. John Reed, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Green, Miss Helen Smith, Miss Anna Fisher, Miss Cora Long, Miss Alene Kenney, Miss Della Woodfin, Miss Willa Woodfin, Miss Rosa Marrs, Mrs. M. Toban, Miss Isabel Jensen, Miss Bessie Moore, Miss Bunn Owensby, Edward Smith, Oscar Woodfin, Ray Morris, Ralph Miller, Carl Green, Clyde Green, Charles Ladd Stanley Godesky and Bridget Ladd.

INTERESTING SOCIAL EVENTS
Parties, Entertainments, Past and Future of Our City

Miss Nieta Harding had as her guests at her home on Saturday evening the members of the Bachelor Girls Club, and a few invited guests, when Five Hundred was the amusement of the evening. Miss Dolly Pratt and Dr. Guy Mount were awarded the prizes. Huge bunches of yellow chrysanthemums were used with artistic effect in the parlors of the Harding home, while the golden and red autumn leaves were used in connection, forming a very attractive appearance. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Harding, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brodie of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stanton, Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Mount, Mrs. Nieta Lawrence, Miss Hester Danne-man, Miss Dolly Pratt, Miss Wynne Hanney, Miss Jane Chapman, Dr. J. A. Van Brakle, Charles Parker, Lee Harding, Dr. Guy Mount and Percy Kaufing.

The Halloween ball given by the Green Point hose company at Busch's hall on Saturday evening, was largely attended, and proved to be one of the most enjoyable dancing parties of the season. The committees in charge of the affair, which spared no pains to make it an enjoyable occasion for those attending, is deserving of the credit given them. The music was furnished by a Portland orchestra.

Last night, Monday, a farewell surprise party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Farr and daughter, Vera, as they will leave next week to make their home in Southern Oregon.

Those present were: Mrs. Helen Montour, Mr. and Mrs. L. McGauley, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Waldren, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beauiau, Mr. and Mrs. C. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Natunum, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. C. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Nehbras, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Farr, Miss Tillie Trembath, Miss Gertrude Thomas, Miss Nettie Miller, Miss Lulu McGauley, Miss Vera Farr, Mr. Sowards, and Mr. Arthur Farr, Lisle Cook, Cecil Stuart, Leo Farr, Irvin Farr, Misses Annie Farr, Thresa Stuart, Violet Farr, Helen Davenport and Dickie Nehbras.

The evening was delightfully spent in playing cards and games. A beautiful present was presented to Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Farr by many of their friends as well as carnival in evidence. A program was given during the present was presented to them.

Refreshments were served.

The masque ball given at the Busch hall Friday evening, was well attended. There were many beautiful costumes as well as carnival in evidence. At 10 o'clock the masques were removed, and many of the spectators enjoyed dancing until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. G. Thomas were awarded the prizes for the most attractive costumes, while Miss Loretta Raber and Gerald Warner carried off the honors for the most comical.

The affair was given by Frost and Edwards of this city.

One of the most enjoyable events of the year was held at the Firs, when Mrs. Fauch last Thursday entertained "The Woman's Civic Club of Progressive Center, with a reception in honor of Miss Annie Owens of Davenport, Washington, her house guest, who will leave this month to join her brother, the Rev. Owens at Lake Tahoe, California. After the usual work of the club, the referendum measures and the two county acts were discussed by Mrs. Faulk, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Gribble and Mrs. Mitts.

Mrs. Faulk served a delicious banquet and her long table glittering with shining linen, china and silver, was made more beautiful by bowls of white and maroon mums. A toast given by the hostess was drunk to the new president, Mrs. Gene Mitts. Mrs. Friton gave "Our Hostess," which was enthusiastically received. Mrs. Shepherd told of her Washington trip and Mrs. Spencer gave the cheering news that our newest club bride, Mrs. E. C. Boardman nee Rachel Spencer, who was married October 19, might be with us this year again. Miss Gladys Gribble recited.
