Don't Forget this, Santa
This little fellow writes his yearly letter to Santa Claus, and we hope that every year the old fellow remembers him. We want to call his special attention to the following letter:
Keokuk, Iowa, Dec. 1, 1913.
Dear Santa:—
I will write to you again this year to let you know that I want a moving picture machine, a round football, an Irish-Mail, and my new baby sister a rattle, and please do not forget my grandma and grandpa Burns, who live on Green Point and my cousins, Leslie and Edward Burns. Lots of love to you dear Santa Claus.
From your little friend away out in Keokuk, Iowa.
Orville Burns,
1714, North 4th St.
P. S.—I forgot to tell you we have moved.

Good Thing Pigeonholed

Will be Printed Later.
Several articles are crowded out of this issue, but as they are not of a news value they will be printed later.

Good, Push it Along.
The Live Wire idea, as presented by John Loder, to form a company to build renting houses and flats for renting purposes, is one of the best schemes that the Wires could take up, for the advancement of the city.

There are no apartments, rooms or houses to rent in the city, and almost every day in the week there are from one to a dozen enquiries at the Courier office for such accommodations.

The Wires mills here would materially increase their output if they could get the needed help, and the help would come if the women and girls could find suitable rooming accommodations.

The proposition could not only be made an investment to the promoters but it would be the best means to help the city that could be undertaken for the money invested.

This matter should be stayed with and worked out.

GET THE FLAX MILL
If All Take a Hand in, it Can be Put Over Easily.
If there are enough public spirited men to get right on the job that flax mill may be landed here, but it will take a lot of hard missionary work to land it.

These industries pay good investments on the work needed to land them, but such undertakings are hard to put through for the reason that a public business is really nobody's business, and after the first enthusiasm wears off the matter drops.

Mr. Sullivan is working hard to land this industry, and we should all get in with him and help to do the work.

Every time an extra wheel turns over in this city property values are added to, the city enlarges and more labor demanded.

Oregon City is the best city on the Pacific coast. Let us keep her such.
