on the basis of quality and price only

We put Quality first, and so we offer you no goods so cheap that we cannot unqualifiedly guarantee them.

¶ In the matter of prices we expect to meet any competition in this State. On account of our large buying (for 4 stores) our prices are often lower than would be possible for smaller dealers; on account of our lower cost of doing business in Oregon City it is not possible for Portland Stores to compete in prices in very many lines.

¶ So not as a matter of duty or pride to a home store do we ask your business, but only on the basis of Quality, Prices and Service. Come in and look over our big stock, get our prices, consider the quality and then if you can do better elsewhere it is your duty to do so.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLAY

The Greatest Comedy Drama Ever Attempted by Home Talent

Strenuous rehearsals are now going on almost nightly by an able cast, so that "Esmeralda," the famous four-act comedy drama, will be the greatest sensation ever offered in Oregon City. In the way of home talent. In addition to the cast as published last week, Earl Latourette comes in the character of "Drew" the speculator. This will add much to the strength of the work.

The most able talent in Oregon City has come to the aid of the women's club so that the play will be presented with a view of professional excellence. In addition to this Mr. Ralph M. Farris, a professional actor of high merit, is being brought to Oregon City for the character of "Mr. Rogers," a very delightful part which he has played with great success. Mr. Farris alone will be worth the price of admission.

The comedy is so clean, and its moral teachings so worthy, that many churches and organizations of high standing have supported it strongly in nearly every city in which it has been presented under the present management. Such organizations as Parent-Teachers clubs and societies in neighboring towns are making preparations to have seats reserved, some taking whole rows.

The prices are moderate so they will come within the range of the humble pocketbooks.

The woman's club is certainly to be complimented for this unusual undertaking. The earnings will be spent in civic improvements.

NEEDY

Everybody is happy now as the Christmas time is so near, especially the children.

Mr. Clarence Miller spent several days in Portland last week.

Miss Edith Jackson is on the sick list.

The Odd Fellows are digging a well on their property, a much needed improvement.

C. R. Nodell went to Canby Monday.

Clarence Corrothers returned from Portland recently, after spending a few days in that city.

Mr. Al Thompson was a business visitor in Portland last week.

John Stone is going to Portland for the winter.

M. J. Ritter is building an up-to-date hog house.

George Askins spent Thursday with Mrs. Charles Noblitt.

Mrs. John Galor called on Mrs. L. P. Spangie Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Corrothers and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Askins.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Miller of Needy, and Mrs. Henry Walters and children of Portland, spent the day with Mr. Ed Miller and family.

Herbert Johnson and son are clearing up and building on the land they bought in the country.

LIBERAL

The last week the farmers have been busy plowing and clearing land and fencing and nearly all were good fences. A wise idea.

Vick's new warehouse is full of potatoes and grain so Mr. Vick will have to go to shipping out the produce.

The boys hauling ties are fixing the road but they have to go. Eight teams hauling one thousand ties a day at this time of year will jar the foundation of old Mt. Hood loose.

Liberal is alive if the roads are muddy and nothing but a one horse team at present.

Don't you see the future?

S. Wright and son Pierce are clearing one of the 4 corners of the junction of the Clackamas Southern at Wright's Crossing of the P. E. and E.

When you see the 80 foot derricks in the air then you may know that they are going to see down in mother Earth about a thousand feet.

Wallace Cole killed about 11 hogs today, which will go to the Oregon City butchers today.

W. J. E. Vick will return from California Wednesday. He went on a business trip.

Mrs. Fred Barnes was visiting her sister, Mrs. Osborne Saturday and Sunday.

THE OLD SYSTEM A FAILURE

How long would a business corporation consider hiring as manager a man who would spend three-fourths or nine-tenths of his time at some other business? And yet that is practically what every city does that hires a mayor under the old system. If city affairs are worth anything they are worth the attention of a good man all the time.—Medford Sun.

The salary of the mayor under the present system is such that he cannot possibly neglect his private interests at all times to look after the city unless he is a multi-millionaire, and then he has no business being at the head of the city government. It is well to pay a decent salary and then let the head of the city affairs be entirely responsible for everything that is done. We would no doubt be given a much more satisfactory government. At present most of us are treating the gift horse pretty bad, because the city officials now give their time to the public and their reward is mainly kicks and grunts. Cities as well as individuals usually get just what they pay for and no more, and when they do, the average citizen does not appreciate it.—Eugene Guard.

Blind Farmer Who Does Things.

Rufus J. Warren of South Bridgton, Me., is a blind farmer who successfully operates a seventy-five acre farm. He keeps a dairy of ten or twelve cows, some young stock and hires all of the usual cropping work of the farm. Mr. Warren's part of the farm work is to care for the live stock and the building. He feeds and otherwise cares for the live stock without any assistance whatever. He milks the cows and climbs into the haymow and throws down roughage. Recently Mr. Warren installed a system of running water from a spring into a house and barn. The house overflow is the barn supply. Another piece of work done by Mr. Warren without aid of any kind was the construction of three horse stalls, which have the appearance of being built by a carpenter who understood the business. Cart bodies, sled platforms and hayracks used on the farm are his handiwork. A hayrack made so that it can be knocked down and stored away in a small space is one of his best achievements.
