The Courier is the Official State paper for Oregon for the Farmers Society of Equity, and has the largest circulation from Portland to Salem.

OREGON CITY COURIER

If you want to buy, sell or trade, try a small ad in The Courier-the best advertizing medium in Clackamas County -and you will get the desired results

No. 30

31st YEAR

OREGON CITY, ORE., THURSDAY, DEC, 18 1913.

HOW SHAW "RISES TO SITUATION

CONSTABLE JACK FROST CRITI-CIZES HIS NEWSPAPER STATEMENTS

MORE ARRESTS

Asks Chief Why he Doesn't Come Thru if he Has the Goods

Editor Courier:-

I saw in Sunday's Enterprise, under a big heading, some statements and observations by Chief of Police Shaw, to which I would also like to add a few observations . The Chief says:

"I am aware that a large number of Oregon City boys smoke and that they secure the tobacco in direct opposition to the state law.

Then why doesn't he stop it, and why hasn't he arrested the law-breakers? What good does "being aware" do? If he KNOWS the boys secure tobacco in direct opposition to the state law, he must know WHO sells it to them. And if he DOES know, why doesn't he arrest them, rather than to rush into print with a four flush?

Here's another from the Oregon

It is almost impossible to catch or convict a dealer on this charge, but despite this we have already made a number of arrests. I have been keeping close watch on certain stores in this city and may arrest one or two dealers at any time.

If the Burns agency should ever read this Oregon City would lose its sleuth. He has "been keeping close watch" and MAY arrest one or two dealers any minute. And then again he MAY NOT.

If he may arrest them any time he must have the goods on them, and if he has, why doesn't he act more and talk less? The fathers and the mothers of children are more in-terested in what he DOES, than what he MAY DO

This reminds me that some months ago a Portland detective was hired to locate gambling places in the city. He located them and reported, and then his report was published in the Enterprise. And there weren't any arrests.
The Chief says "we have already made a number of arrests." Who and when? I have lived in Oregon City for 21 years and have been on the police force for 4 years, and I would like to have the Chief point out this 'number of arrests!"

says: This matter of the sale of tobacco to boys has been one that I have worked on for some time, but without the combined efforts of the people of the city I am almost helpless.

In the first statements he tells the public he is aware the boys get the tobacco contrary to law, in the second that he has the goods on the dealers and may arrest them any minute, and now he wants all the people of the city to join the police force and back him up—force him to make the arrest. The people pay Mr. Shaw to do this work, now why does he shoulder it onto them? Here's another one:

The matter is really out of my department. Upon the arrest of a boy for having tobacco in his possession, it is necessary for me to turn the case over to the juvenile court and leave the charge in its hands. Then why doesn't he? As juvenile health officer, I will promise there will be something done if he does turn them over to me. But he will not do so. He is supposed to patrol the streets daily and is in a position to know of these violations. If he will give me the information which he says he has of dealers having sold tobacco to boys, there won't be any "MAYS," there will be PROSECU-I have instructed the night force to increase their diligence and I will see to it that the day force is on the constant lookout in the future even more than in the luture even more than in the past. Chief Shaw is all there is of the day force, and I take it he will round himself up, call himself into the city headquarters, get in front of a mir-ror and read to himself the riot act And if the Chief doesn't obey the Chief's orders, Chief Shaw may fire In case I find that there are any more stores selling tobacco to minors, I will not wait for the parents of the boy to make out the complaint. I will make it out myself and do my best to see that the law is carried out to the letter.

"Any more." Do you get that?
Those who have violated the law will be given absolution by the High Priest, but if any more of them seli parents to do their duty for him, but will really go ahead and make the complaint himself. Such moral courage in a police officer is certainly most commendable. If Mayor Albee hears of it, he will draft him. Just think of the sand of it. Really going must pay a fine for ther est of his ahead without having a father prod life, and after he is dead someone else

Chief Shaw's recent announcement of what he WILL do to the saloons (now that they have been put out of business) and what he MAY do goods that have been kept under lock and key for private use in the jail, and let the public know all about it. He might find out where the down town night force was on Saturday night when there was a drunken street fight on the corner of Fifth and Water streets, and where residents were obliged to get up and Jack Frost.

H. Geshardus.

Going Up The cement foundation walls for the new postoffice building are in, and the wall will now be rushed.

Salmon are Running Altho the river is high and muddy yet some line catches are being made, and quite a number of fishermen spend their spare time on the river.

Finest in the County J. W. Wilson's cement livery barn is nearly ready to open, and it is one of the most modern livery stables in the country. It covers nearly half a block, is fire proof and has every convenience.

Winterless Oregon

Christmas is almost here and yet the Willamette Valley knows no winter. To date we have had but one white frost; not a flake of snow, ros-es in bloom and bud and grass and foliage as green as in May.

Free Advertising Oregon City drinking water has so shady a reputation that one of Barlow's prominent resident, H. T. Melvin, carries his supply of water with him when he goes to Gregon City for jury service. Barlow water, by recent analysis, is shown to be perfectly pure.-Aurora Observer.

"Mary had a little waist, Most puzzling to her beau, For everywhere the fashion went That waist was sure to go.

SHIFTING

Sometimes it was beneath her arms Sometimes around her knees; Sometimes she was straight up and down. With no waist, if you please."

On With the Tango
A Portland dancing master is going to teach the Tango to our young people, so the papers state.

Good! Give us the "hoochie-koochie," the "bunny hug," "Texas Tommy," "pussy cat sneak" and all the They are so educational, so elevat

BUILD APARTMENT HOUSES

Convert Dead Property on Lower Main Into Living Places

solutely dead property, that do not ke to have the Chief point out this number of arrests!"

Why some wise guinea does not farmers of the county should we get hold of some of this and convert up to this proposition and land it. it into flat buildings and rooming apartments has been the wonder o

the Courier office for two and a half This city is hard pressed for places the Courier office wanting places to The woolen mills employ about three hundred people, largely women. They would enlarge their plant and increase their output if they could get the needed help. They could get the help if the city would accommodate Women will not live in miscellaneous rooming houses of the city; it is to the public service commission, and almost impossible to find rooms in private houses, so many a girl or woman comes here, hunts in vain for accommodations and gives it up. A local company could be formed here, or private parties could take hold of it, and make a good investment for themselves in the city. On the old vacant property on up per Main street a big two or three story tenement building could be erected, furnished with three and four room apartments, with private rooms and furnished rooms, at reas-onable rents, and it would simply prove a money maker for the investors. It would have to be done right, and managed right, with a caretaker constantly to oversee the building.

This matter is one the Live Wires should keep warm. The city needs such accommodations.

PLAYING FAVOURITES Clackamas Writer Scores Tax Assess ment Methods in this County The following letter, printed in the Portland Journal, has been sent to the Courier by a farmer of this county, and asks that it be re-published. Clackamas, Dec 12 I have read in the Journal an article on tax assessments in Oregon at an average of 66 per cent. That may be true about the rest of Oregon, but Clackamas County is different altogether. Some favorites may be assecsed 55 per cent, but the farmers in the northern part of the county are assessed from 200 to 250 per cent cash value. Some of the farms don't tobacco or cigarettes to boys, the police club will fall.

Triest, but if any more of them sell bring enough rent to pay taxes and no difference is made in rocks or hill land. It is all second the farms don't police club will fall.

And he is even going so far as to is the reason that Clackamas county rush things. He will not wait for the is on the standstill. No eastern far-will be skinned, and if he is unable to

US LAND THE BIG FLAX MILL

AND GROW CROPS THAT WILL HAVE MARKETS

TOO MUCH FRUIT AND TRUCK

In this County. Time to Take Up Other Farming Lines

That proposition to locate a flax mill in Oregon City is one the far-mers of this county cannot afford to shy at until they have have thoroughlooked into it.

A company will put $200,000 into a plant here on conditions, and the conditions are largely in the way of guarantees of a supply for the

The company will invest $150,000 if the people and the farmers will invest $50,000, and the proposition to the farmers is that they pay for their stock with one-half of the flax crop each year until the stock is paid for. He is asked to for. He is asked to raise five acres of flax and pay a half of it on his

If the farmers would readily take hold of this, we would have a big flax mill for this county.

If the mill pays the investors of the $150,000, it must pay equally to the subscribers of the $50,000, and the farmer doesn't take a hundredth part of the promoters' risk for he only invests a part of his labor, and he has much more to gain, for every new market for his product increases his profits and the value of his land. It is said flax is a natural product of this county, and it is certain that there is a great field for the pro-ducts of a flax mill, as there is not a plant west of the Rocky mountains.

a plant west of the Rocky mountains.

This crop would be one that would not rot like apples or potatoes. It would not have to be marketed at a certain time. It would go to a market not over supplied and glutted. It would not be a fruit raising proposition.

Sunday, Dec. 21st, Sunday School and Service at 9:30 and 10:30 and 10:30 and Tuesday, Dec. 23rd, at 8 P. M., Christmas tree and program; Thursday, Dec. 25th, Divine Service at 10:30 A. M.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend all of these services What this county needs above all is markets for products that can be grown here outside of fruits, berries, potatoes and garden truck. The farmer wants to raise some thing he can rely on, and the farme wants to warm up to any proposition that gives promise of such a mar-The flax mill looks good. T. W. Sul-

On upper Main street, in the old livan has gone into it thoroughly and section of the city, are blocks of abment for the county.

Business men of the city and the farmers of the county should warm

Big Job Half Completed For four weeks a force of men have been working on the cut to straighten Seventh street to the bluff, to house. Day after day men and wo-men hunt the streets for rooms and suites. Day after day people call at very line of the Thompson residence at the head of Seventh street and takes off the verandah of the house.

Once Upon a Time Last summer there went up a protest against the discrimination of rates in telephone service by the Pac-ific Telephone Co. The council took it up and there were many hearings and much investigation. Then it went hearing after hearing was called and postponed. Finally one date was made to stick and the evidence was presented. Then there was a calm. great silence, which still continues. Remember the Mail Boys Last week there was published a Last week there was published a poem "The Mailcarrier," written by a local man, the object of which was to remind the people that it would be a fine thing to remember these men who bring you all Christmas cheer the body which proved his identity. He had been in the employ of the legislature had no legal or constitutions and the body which proved his identity.

In the eastern states it has become custom for the patrons to remember the carriers on their street, and every year they are given some remembe

A few years ago in Portland on Christmas day someone started a here Thursday and took charge of the "keep the change" on the street cars, The carriers, both city and rural, have their work doubled during the holidays and they do not get a cent extra for the extra work. It isn't so much the value as the remembrance. The boys will appreciate it greatly, for it shows you ap preciate them. The eastern custom should be western custom. Let us start it in Oregon City. Remember the mail boys Christmas.

Firemen Will Banquet Arrangements are under way for a big banquet of the entire city fire department to be held between Christmas and New Year's. It will probably be held in Knapp's hall. and many a hard working conductor received a shower of dims and nickels during the day.

Monday, Year's Short Day Next Monday is the year's short day, after which daylight will be to stretch out a little at each

Wanted! WOMEN and Girls (over 18 years of age)

To operate SEWING Machines in garment factory the tobacco dealers, who are yet business, are some declarations.

The Chief might make an investigation of the locker and the bottled business, are some declarations.

Oregon City Woolen Mills limits.

Christmas Dance Jack Frost will give a big Christ-mas dance at Busch's hall next Thursday night, Christmas night. Out for Boozeless Oregon

The campaign for State wide and National Prohibition is on in Clacka-mas County. S. MacDonald is in charge of the work in this county. He says that Clackamas County will be Krohn's Saloon Closed Klaus Krohn, owner of a saloon at Fifth and Main streets, was made the defendant in an attachment suit instituted by the Mt. Hood Brewing company for an unpaid bill of $349.75. The attachment order was obtained Monday and the place closed by Sheriff Mass.

found ready to do its part to carry this state for a boozeless Oregon.

OREGON SCENERY

Those photographs and photo graphic enlargements by S. P. Davis (some of them in colors) which now appear in the window of the Courier office,s hould be seen by those fond of artistic representations of the Willamette Falls, Mt. Hood and some of the beauty spots near that mountain. Better see them before

A Condition-A Reason

A Portland man dropped in to tell the Courier that it seemed good to get into one real live town. His work carries him all over Washing-ton, Oregon and California and he said Oregon City had more life and business in proportion to size than any town between Seattle and San-Diego. And the reason is payrolls. Hard times passes up the city where big mills run night and day, 365 days in the year.

Lutheran Church Services German Lutheran Church (Ohio Synod) Rev. H. Mau, Pastor, Corner J. Q. Adams & 8th Street.

The following services will be held at the church for the remainder of this month: Sunday, Dec. 21st, Sunday School

o'Malley Gets Boost Up
Henry O'Malley, who has been in charge of the affairs of the United States bureau of fisheries in Oregon and Washington for a number of years, received his appointment as superintendent of the fisheries of the entire Pacific Coast, Monday. Mr. O'Malley will continue in his office in Oregon City temporarily, but it is probable he will move it to some more central point later.

Henry O'Malley entered the service tablish and demonstrate good roads than any other way the work could be undertaken, and that it is the history of every state that has solved the problem (New York, Indiana and Ohio) that state highways were first established.

The plan as outlined by Judge Dimick has stirred no end of interest in the county for $600,000 for the county for $600,000 for the county for $600,000 per year roads; take $100,000 per year from present wasteful expending the county for searching a premises for evidence of searching a premises for evidence of gambling. A certain lawyer tells the council for doing what the law and charter says they must do? Does the had, the key. He told him he had, the Enterprise remember how a for mer council and mayor, or part of them, took away a saloon license one Saturday night and handed it back on Monday morning?

The police have been working of the window and called to someone in Saturday night and handed it back on Monday morning?

The police have been working of this minor question for some time, and it makes us laugh to have the Enterprise jump out Sunday and make the break it did. Then this morning it goes after Chief Shaw for searching a premises for evidence of searching a premises for evidence of searching a premises for evidence of gambling. A certain lawyer tells the gambling in the place, that they were eries as assistant fish culturist at St. Johnsbury, Vt., 17 years ago. He was placed in charge of the Clackamas station and came to Oregon City

UNDER THE WHEELS

Misses Brake Rods and Train Cuts Man to Pieces James Gillispie, whose home is at Forest Grove, was run over and horribly mangled at the station here

Tuesday night.

He attempted to go under the car of a moving freight train to reach the rods, missed his hold and the entire train passed over his body. The man, with several others, waited for a south bound freight to pull out, and when it left the siding and

None of th eother hobos heard any alarm, and it was not known heh ad missed the rods and been cut to pieces by the wheels until later, when a brakeman on a north bound freight

Pacific & Eastern railroad, and why he should have been stealing a ride is not understood. He had a wife and family at Forest Grove and a mother at Medford. He was an Odd Fellow. His father came Courier will be this Price to all wi

Commencing next Thursday De-cember 1, the Courier will be one dol-lar a year to any and subscribers who pay one year in advance, and $1.50 a year to all who do not. This proposition simply gives the man who pays a year ahead a dis-count of one-third. It means a cash in advance system for the Courier, and we can afford it.

Pay in Advance

But bear in mind that this rate
WILL NOT apply to any who do not pay and keep paid one year ahead. If you are six months behind it will cost

And it would seem that a policy of you 75 cents to date and one dollar for a year shead. We are going to en-force this rule literally and if you are give-and-take could be agreed upon and that the country could get to a week behind we cannot give you the benefit. A postal card request will inform any subscriber when he is paid Hillsboro to be "Dry" Following practically the same line of reasoning as in the case in this city, Tuesday Judge Campbell ren-dered a decision at Hillsboro that the local option election in that city, November 4, was legal, and the "dry" vote should stand. The complaint charged that the notices of election had not been properly posted; that the polls did not close at the proper time; that the judges and clerks had the county to discuss the coming es timates and county tax levy.

Please allow me space in your pa-per to ask a few questions. I would like to know when the Morning Enterprise changed hands, or has the Editor been converted lately? I notice quite an article in Sunday's Enterprise, regarding the selling of tobacco and liquors to minors. The Enterprise changes are supported by the control of the c terprise wants to know why these things are not investigated, why the officers don't get busy and etc? The

This change of tactics on the part

Along about the first week in August the Enterprise was taking ex-ust 2d, the ladies sent in a signed pro how certain lawyers appeared before the city council and pleaded against the council for doing what the law it, or get back on the other side of the fence and stay there. These sudden changes make us dizzy. Chas. F. Terrill.

TO MAKE KIDDIES HAPPY.

Churches and Orders Unite to Give

Needy Ones Merry Xmas.

The poor and needy of this city will be looked after at Christmas time pal Church, has sent out circular let-ters to the physicians, mail-carriera, and about Oregon City. If you know of any needy families or individuals will you please write their names, with approximate ages of children and whether boys or girls in the space of helping the poor, especially at

(Continued on Page 8)

Enterprise is provoked at the way some of the officers act.

of the Enterprise amuses me.

Charles F. Terrill Asks the Enter ALL WANT GOOD ROADS, QUESprise Several Pertinent Questions TION IS WHERE? Oregon City, Ore. Dec. 17, '13 Editor Courier:—

POINTS WHERE MEN DIFFER

Whether Laterals or Trunk Lines Shall be Built First

What will Clackamas county do for good roads? That's the question. That the people are keenly awake over the problem there is no doubt. The question is, can they get close enough together to accomplish anything?
Since the road meeting in this city last week, this office has heard a lot about the right way to go after the The Courier is an open paper and any man's ideas can find a column in

And we are going to bunch up and give in outline the many letters this office has received on the matter, and the ideas of many who have per sonally expressed themselves.

Here come the farmers. We have yet to hear from one who is satisfied with the present wasteful conditions.

They are in favor of permanent good roads, the towns and the river list, if you want to make the big expenditures an investment to the county. "Give the county good right angle leads from the Willamette river and the problem of logged-off and waste lands will solve themselves," an Element was the state of the solution of wood man writes.

On the other hand, it is argued that when trunk lines are once esthat when trunk lines are once es-tablished the laterals always follow; that the Pacific highway from Alaska to Mexico will do more to firmly es-tablish and demonstrate good roads than any other way the work could be undertaken, and that it is the history of every state that has solved the problem (New York, Indiana and Ohio) that state highways were first more central point later.

Henry O'Malley entered the service of the United States bureau of fisheries as assistant fish culturist at St. Johnsbury, Vt. 17 years and He principle in 12 years, and in the mean-time you will have had the use of your 100 miles of first class roads, and will still have had $125,000 a year for repair and maintenance of later-als."

This plan seems to be fairly well received by the people but the "but"

"Where will this 100 miles be built?" is the question. One prominent farmer and large property owner says this:

"If the county will outline a policy it will carry out; build 300 miles of good road on the Dimick plan, each 100 miles five years apart; divide these roads where they will do the most good for the most people of the county, print and show just where was well under way, he shot under a car for the rods—the hobo's safest will satud behind the undertaking, as an investment." But the next man says, "let us go a little slower and surer." He proposes that in place of county bond-ing that we take $100,000 and build 16 miles of hard surface roads every legislature had no legal or constitutional right to pass a ½ mill appropriation for the Pacific highway without a vote of the people, as it is sectional benefit, and the state has no right to force eastern Oregon to no right to force eastern Oregon to help build a highway in western Orehelp build a h help build a highway in western Oregon, that they will never use. He cites the Crater Lake appropriation that the supreme court declared unconstitutional, and declares that if this appropriation is to be assessed the counties should use their proportion of it where they choose.

Now, we have briefly registered the kicks and boosts, and summed up it finds the people of the county generally wanting the same end, but taking different routes to obtain it. ing different routes to obtain it.
When 28 districts of this county vote special taxes for roads in face of the biggest taxes Oregon has ever levied, there can be no doubt about the sentiment for better roads. Our present system is an awful waste of money. But a small part of the big expenditures comes back in good roads. The present system is a failure.

gether and go ahead.

The best of roads would shove Clackamas county ahead as no other project could. We all know this, now let us get together, agree on some plan, cut out the present worse than wasteful system and build roads.

FOR SALE OR TRADE-One stump

A little change all around will make a merry Christmas for many a little tot. Be a good fellow.

Next Wednesday, Tax Day Next Wednesday, December 24, the county court will hold an open meeting at 10 A. M., for the taxpayers of the county to discuss the county the county the county the county the county the county th FULL AUTHORITY CHANGES MAKE HIM DIZZY

CHIEF SHAW RESENTS STORY THAT HE "BUTTED IN"

HOME RULE LAW VIOLATED

And His Star Gave Him Full Authority to Investigate

Answering the published state-ments that he "butted into a private house on mere suspicion" and without "warrant, papers or authority."
Chief of Police Shaw says that in common fairness the newspaper should have investigated the matter and should have been familiar with ception to Tom Kay visiting Oregon City. Tom, you know, was acting as Governor West's special and Oregon City should be open to inspection at any time. About the same time, Augthe Home Rule Law before it published such damaging statements.

"I have been on the police force too many years and know the state and city laws too well to butt into ust 2d, the ladies sent in a signed pro-test about the way the Enterprise was boosting for a certain Sunday show. The paper paid no attention to the protest, but went merrily ahead boosting the show and laughing be-cause the sheriff was tied up. The Enterprise didn't see anything wrong in violating a law made in 1854. It also stated that Governor West such a blunder as the Enterprise charges." said Chief Shaw, "I had the authority to do what I did, I not only had the right but it was my duty, and that fact that Carl Buse was found guily and fined for violation of the Home Rule Ordinance, and the Home and the ideas of many who have personally expressed themselves.

Here come the farmers. We have yet to hear from one who is satisfied with the present wasteful conditions. They are in favor of permanent good roads.

But (and there you go) they want to know where the permanent roads are to be built.

The farmers favor laterals first. They say provide roads to the railroads, the towns and the river fist, if you want to make the big expenditions, the county good right angle leads from the Willamette river and leads from the Willamette river and leads from the Willamette river and leads for a many made in 1854.

It also stated that Governor West came to Oregon City to stop the show, probably because he was afraid of losing popularity with a certain portion of a voting public. Now the Enterprise knows, if it knows anything, that Governor West came to Oregon City because he was appealed to by the people after a certain lawyer had succeeded in tying up the sheriff.

The Enterprise asks why the officers don't enforce laws, then jumps onto them whenever they do get busy at the side f the saloon and one could Prosecutions for selling liquor to minors have been going on for some time.

Can the Enterprise remember as far back as last spring when 5 saloons were closed for violating the law? Can the Enterprise remember.

Chief Shaw says he went into the saloon, and found the door leading off from it locked. He asked Mr. Buse if gambling. A certain lawyer tells the gambling in the place, that they Enterprise that Chief Shaw is liable private living rooms, and asked him to go up the inside stairway and see lawyer can't be very familiar with the city charter, or the home rule ordinance, or he would see that the Chief went upstairs, found two women has a right to inspect dwellings in the daytime and at night too under certain conditions.

there, no sign of gambling, and left the place.

"My authority to investigate that The Enterprise should either come out for law and order and stick to door and the rooms adjoining the sa-loon, is contained in the following section of the Home Rule Law," said the Chief, and I challenge anyone to deny this authority."

The section which Mr. Shaw refers to is in part as follows:
"It shall be unlawful for any proprietor of any saloon, bar-room or any other place in Oregon City, to erect, have or maintain in such place as aforesaid, any private boxes, rooms, or screens or partitions or to have any door or entrances leading fram such saloon, bar-room, or other places as aforesaid, into any private and all will have a Merry Christmas. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew of usual custom, have taken up the matter in the assisting to make merry these people, as also are the two lodges, Moose and Elk. Rev. C. W. Robinson, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, has sent out circular let. barricaded. It was only secured by locks, which were opened for me by city officials, police department and teachers of this city asking for information in regard to locating the needy in this city. The circulars read as follows:

"The Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the proprietor, who rents the building and sub lets the rooms.

This was clearly a violation of the law. The proprietor of the saloon was arrested by me, was found guilty, and was fined by the city recorder.

Mr. Shaw thinks the attack in the Enterprise was unwarranted and un-fair, and if that paper had taken the pains to have investigated the mat-ter, which in fairness it should have done, it would not have published the statements it did.

"Oregon Jumbo" Dimick Stock Farm

Oregon Jumbo, the largest barrow; hibited were "Polly Anne," a sow, exhibited at the International Live- with her litter of seven pigs, also

OR SALE OR TRADE—One stump puller with wire cable already to work. Value $40.00; one large farm wagon, value $10.00; one Mandy of visitors at this show. This animal State Fair of 1913, this being in a wagon, value $10.00; one Mandy Lee incubator, 200 eggs capacity, value $10.00, $50.00 takes the lot.

What have you to offer? Address
N. C. Westerfield, Oregon City,
Ore., R. D. No. 2.

A little change all around will take a merry Christmas for many a Among the other swine that were ex- Farm.