Christmas-tide, as a great privilege and we feel sure you will want to share it with us by cooperating in the degree you are able.

Information will be held in confidence.

Faithfully yours,
C. W. Robinson.

P. S. Please send contributions to Mr. William Hammond or any member of the Brotherhood.

During the past year the Brotherhood has been assisting in looking after the needs of some of the poor in the city. Rev. Robinson is anxious to secure the names of the others who now need assistance, the religion of such person or persons is not taken into count by the rector. All will be treated in the same manner.

The work taken up by the Brotherhood will be permanent and is in the form of a clearing house for the needy.

It has been three years since Frank T. Barlow founded this praiseworthy movement in the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of St. Paul's church. The fund raised is kept alive thru the year and an eye is kept on the welfare of the poor and needy. Investigations are made in each case.

Rev. Robinson has established an office in the Episcopal church, where he may be consulted at any time during the day.

The plan of this society is to see that the children of the poor families will get a fair share of toys, candies and nuts, and will also receive useful wearing apparel where needed. The members of the society will meet at the church, where the gifts will be prepared for distribution on Christmas morning. The members will be assisted by some of the women of the church.

The committee from this Brotherhood is composed of P. T. Barlow, chairman; William Hammond, treasurer; J. R. Humphreys, Dr. L. A. Morris, Carl Joehneke, C. W. Evans and E. A. Chapman.

The Moose Lodge, wishing to look after the needs of the poor families of the city, have started into a campaign, and the members are taking up this good work with much enthusiasm. A committee composed of Major C. E. Noble, dictator of the Order, George H. Young, chairman, William Krueger, Judge G. B. Dimick, D. F. Skene, Pat Finnucane and J. Candlin. This committee is anxious to secure names of deserving people of this city and all will be made merry on Christmas morn. So far only a few names have come in. These members composing the committee, will appoint a sub-committee composed of wives of members of the order, who will assist in selecting the gifts and arranging for their distribution. Mr. Noble has made it a rule that the children will be remembered by candies, nuts and toys, as well as receiving other gifts. The parents will be supplied with clothing and necessities of life. The American Express Company and the O. W. P. have, through the kindness of Mr. Sheppard, asked to assist in the good cause, by distribution of the parcels to the poor. This action is highly appreciated by the Moose. The Moose Lodge rooms, on Sixth and Main Street, over Price's store, will be the headquarters for those wishing to assist the Moose in its good work. This organization, has assisted many worthy people during its organization.

Stanley—Rapid Fire Orator

Gladstone people had the great pleasure of hearing Captain Stanley's rapid fire oratory Tuesday night at the Christian Church. He had an enthusiastic reception. Particular enthusiasm was evoked by his songs: "You Must Unload," and "I am Serving the Lord in My Weak Way;" "Dear Old Oregon," etc.

Captain Stanley spoke at Willamette Monday Night and his audience was delighted. Stanley goes back to Gladstone Christian Church Sunday night, Dec. 21st and to Willamette on the 26th of Dec.

Warner Grange will hold its annual election of officers at the Grange hall at New Era December 27. An excellent programme is being arranged for that occasion by the chairman of the committee. Among the features of the day will be a chicken dinner and this is free to all who attend. The present master of the grange is Mrs. B. Hoffman of New Era, who has done exceptionally good work during the past year.

This will be the last meeting of the grange for 1913, and there is no doubt but that there will be a large attendance of members.

"Road District No. 28"

It takes a hard fought battle to decide our earthly fate, in the foothills of the mountains in district twenty eight. So we held our war council and decided on the plan. To elect a big Chief to lead us, who was a stalwart man.

The human timber was culled o'er with strategy and glee, and we found to our satisfaction that the number was just three.

There was Shank, who was in the fray, acclamoring for a stall,

And a man they all called Gray, but he wasn't gray at all. Scott was there they say, and I guess he was no doubt. Some say he frightened Santa Anna's wheel horse And put the enemy to rout.

I've pondered o'er this question 'till, I am in an awful fix, And I believe Santa Anna's wooden leg was lost in 1846.

These three generals led their men in a business sort of way, And when the smoke of battle all had cleared, L. D. Shank had gained the day.

Up went the roar it was not legal and also it was not fair, So we will quit all road meetings and go to chasing bear.

You should acknowledge your defeat and take it with a grin, For to throw mud and hot air is nothing but a sin.

I know the medicine that we gave you was awful hard to take, But it will banish all your chills and you will never have to shake.

You dig up the past and refer to the Beatty bunch, As having handed you a brick. I know by your groanings of despair you must be awful sick.

Remodel your demolished fort and instruct your men all not to run; Have them throw away their cartridge belts and arm them with a gun

Mount a large one on the hillside and ask your followers their support to lend, But be careful in its manipulations as it may shoot at either end.

It's shooting powers are terrific, I tell you now, my pal, The last one fired in our country caused a slide in the Panama Canal.

The speaker of the house introduced a large and lengthy bill, But the Shanks' forces didn't like the sugar coating on this pill.

The way we fought it put our colleagues all in a ghastly gloom, Some said it was a projectile, others said it was a bomb.

Their fears all abated, e'en down to the weary toiler, For it was nothing but escaping steam from a pop v live on a boiler.

I have studied human life and vegetable life that seem queer, And strange to say, all the cabbage heads are bursting this time of the year.

What Cures Eczema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make an answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription, can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful Prescription.
