

BURNS GROCERY STORE
MODEL OF EXCELLENCE

Gladstone Firm is Known as Modern and Sanitary Establishment to All

The Gladstone spirit of energy, progress and being thoroughly up-to-date is reflected in the business and policy of the D. S. Burns Grocery Company of that enterprising city; and as a result there has developed there one of the most modern and completely equipped stores of this kind to be found outside of Portland. Cleanliness and adequate service are the two paramount rules of the concern; and combined with this is the determination to give patrons nothing but the best. This system has resulted in the steady growth of the Burns store, and in a constant increase in patronage.

Cleanliness in regard to the foods of the people is one of the slogans of the present day, and at the Burns Grocery every effort has been made to have perfect sanitation the keynote. Modern glass showcases are utilized for the display of staple wears, and glass-topped boxes and screened bins are used for fresh vegetables and garden truck. Butter and other creamery products are kept apart from the balance of stock, according to the best practices of modern stores. In addition to this all goods carried by the store are of selected grade, and the Burns Company has the exclusive agency of the superior brands of the household supplies.

Through the employment of a clerical force probably larger than that maintained in any other grocery store in the county quick service is the rule at the Burns Grocery, and in addition to this frequent deliveries throughout Gladstone and the surrounding territory add to the satisfaction of patrons of the store. Telephone orders are promptly filled, and special deliveries by messenger are made whenever need arises and a hurry call for supplies is received at the store. In fact the services given by the Burns Company is easily the equal of that of big metropolitan stores.

Situated within half a mile of the Willamette Chatauqua grounds, the Burns store has come to be headquarters for the campers who annually flock to this vacation ground, and in this connection the special delivery system of the Burns Company has proved of special service and convenience to the pleasure seekers. Groceries and supplies needed at the camp are sent out immediately upon being ordered, thus increasing the enjoyment of outdoor life, and assuring plenty to satisfy "summer appetites."

Immediately adjoining the Burns store is the company's private warehouse, in which ample stock of the heavier and more bulky goods carried are kept. Fresh vegetables, fruits and eggs are obtained each morning from the many gardens and farms that surround Gladstone, and as a result patrons of the Burns Company enjoy the rare privilege of living amidst city conveniences and having the best and most delicious of things to eat.

The Burns Company is a family concern, and a personal interest in the business is taken by each member. This, of course, adds to the excellence of the store's service, and insures a closer and more courteous relation between the patrons of the store and the members of the firm.

WANTED, MEN OF THE SOIL.

Oregon is full of Opportunities for the Farm and Home Maker.

Winter snows seldom fall; Jack Frost touches lightly; roses are in bloom and bud at this writing; the summers are famous for their perfect climate; electric storms are almost unknown; there are no cyclones, or heavy winds, and very little wind at all. Never very hot, never very cold. The mountain shut out the eastern cold and the Pacific brings in the western warmth.

The soil is the richest, and almost anything that grows can be grown bigger and better here than any section in the United States. It was recently printed in a magazine that the Willamette Valley, under intensified cultivation, could feed the nation.

And one trouble with the Willamette Valley is that it has too much that men want, and it brings here too many men the locality doesn't want.

Western Oregon is new, and Clackamas county is almost untouched. What it wants is farmers, home builders, land clearers—men with some money and more sand, workers, sticklers.

If you are a laboring man, looking for work, don't come to Oregon. Our climate has induced far too many to come here now. There is not enough work for those who are here. If you are looking for a job, the chances are better of finding it where you are. You can't live on climate, even in Oregon.

But if you have some money, are full of hard days' work, and want to make a farm out of the richest soil that ever covered the earth; Clackamas county is full of places.

Oregon wants men to develop its rich country, to clear up its logged-off lands and make of it farms and homes. The day is coming when it will be the Garden of Eden of the Pacific. If you are of this class of men, Clackamas county wants you, and wants many like you. It has everything to offer to the man of the soil, and little to offer the man of the streets.

NAMED NATIONAL DIRECTOR

William Grisenthwaite of Beaver Creek gets High Honor

Official notice was received by the state officials Monday that William Grisenthwaite of Beaver Creek, president of the state Farmers' Society of Equity had been elected to the national board of directors at Indianapolis, Ind.

This is some honor to a Clackamas county man, and well earned. Mr. Grisenthwaite jumped into the Equity work when its organization was started in the state a little over a year ago and he has worked hard, many times in the face of all kinds of discouragements, to get the society in working order and keep it there. As state president he has made fully good, and on the national board of directors you may be dead sure Oregon will be heard from.

Mr. Cutting who has been national organizer, and who has done much good work in Oregon and Washington, has been replaced by Mr. Salterfield of Idaho.

DIMICK'S SLOGAN 'PROGRESS'

Well Known Attorney Thinks Farmers May Gain Much From Better Stock

Preaching the doctrine of the advantage of pure-blood stock for all purposes on the farm, Judge Grant B. Dimick is conducting a model stock ranch for the benefit of farmers and dairymen of Clackamas and Marion counties. Mr. Dimick maintains a dairy herd that is an example for all, and cream from which is eagerly bought by one of the most particular Portland dairymen. He also is one of the chief raisers of Poland China hogs in the Northwest, and with his exhibits of these animals has won many prizes at county and state fairs and the Portland stock show.

On his ranch Judge Dimick is constantly demonstrating that pure strain blooded stock is more efficient in every way for farm purposes, and is also of a higher market value when selling is taken into consideration. His work for the bettering of stock has borne much fruit in this section, and to a large extent his efforts have been responsible for the very general improvement in dairy and farm animals in this county.

Aside from his stock farming, Judge Dimick has a large legal practice in Oregon City, has a record of public service in city and county office to his credit, and is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor at the coming election. He is widely known throughout the state; and has of recent years been prominently identified with the planning and construction of the Clackamas Southern Railroad from Oregon City to interior county points.

OAK GROVE TAKES ACTION

Passes Resolutions Favoring Pacific Highway Aid on West Side

The following resolutions were adopted by the Oak Grove Commercial Club at a meeting held Dec. 13.

Whereas the last Oregon legislature passed a bill providing for the levy of a quarter of a mill tax on the property in the state, which levy would raise about $238,000.00 which is to be spent on roads within the state, and

Whereas the Pacific Highway is a main road leading from Alaska to Mexico and passing thru Oregon, Washington and California, and directly thru Clackamas County, and

Whereas efforts have been made to divert the course of the said highway as now laid out thru Clackamas County, to a location further west and passing thru Newburg, and

Whereas we realize the great benefit to the farmers which would accrue from the creation of a good hard surfaced road from the North to the South line of Clackamas County, and also the great benefit that it would be in bringing tourist traffic right thru the heart of our county,

Therefore be it resolved that The Oak Grove Commercial Club ask the County Court of Clackamas County, to apply to the State Highway Commission for a portion of said $238,000.00 highway fund to be expended on the Pacific Highway in Clackamas County.

Be it further resolved that the Oak Grove Commercial Club express to the County Court our deep interest in this movement, and that we tender them our hearty support in any action they may take in furtherance of this great cause.

Be it further resolved that these resolutions be made a part of the minutes, and a copy thereof be sent to the County Court.

CONFIDENCE KEYSTONE OF ADAM'S BUSINESS

Reputation of Local Store Has Been Built by Effort to Give Value

Many Clackamas County folk, when forced to "go shopping" make it a rule to go first to L. Adam's department store at Main and Seventh Streets, mainly because they have learned that there they will be accorded not only courteous reception, but will be given goods or merchandise that is just as represented. It has always been the policy of Mr. Adam to tell his patrons just what they were buying, and in addition to this it has been the working plan of the store to refund money or willingly make exchanges whenever a customer was dissatisfied with a purchase.

"We are running our business on the best and broadest lines possible," said Mr. Adam recently, "and our building up trade and keeping it is never to over-rate goods. Naturally in a store like ours we have to carry all lines of material, but we make it a point never to boost inferior goods or to claim that they are just as good as something better. If a person wants to buy cheap material we will sell it, but we tell the purchaser at the time that what they are buying is not as good as what they could procure for a higher price."

This has been the keynote of Mr. Adam's success, and has enabled him to gradually enlarge his department store, until it is today one of the best stocked stores in the county. Standard lines of goods in all grades are carried, and aside from this certain special lines are carried by the Adams store exclusively. Among this latter class of goods may be mentioned the famous Dougherty shoes, made in Oregon, and sold with the Adams guarantee as to their merit.

The Adams department store also carries a full line of dry goods, notions, underwear and dress goods, while separate departments are devoted exclusively to shoes, men's clothing, women's suits and cloaks and millinery. There is also a splendidly equipped furniture and household goods department, where every thing for the home may be found at the most reasonable of prices.

Notice of Sale

A small, dark brown Jersey cow, taken up by E. J. Spooner, 5 blocks south of Kendall Station, on the Estacada Car Line, on Nov. 27, 1913, will be sold to the highest bidder for cash in hand (at above named place) on Monday, Jan. 19, 1914, at 3 P. M. The cow has small horns that droop down in front and curve around in front of eyes, is nearly dry and will be fresh in about 21 months. This sale is for the purpose of paying the expenses of keeping, advertising and all other damages that have or may accrue.

Soward—McGahuey

A very pretty home wedding took place December 24, at Oregon City at the home of the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs. McGahuey, when Miss Lulu became the bride of Mr. Walter E. Sowards.

The bride looked charming in a magnificent gown of white silk mesaline with drapes of silk marquisette trimmed in silk lace held in place by lilies of the valley. Her full length veil was also held in place with lilies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bride was attended by Miss Manda Jack of this city. Clarence McGahuey, brother of the bride, was best man.

The ceremony was performed by Brother Staats of the Christian Adventists church. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Selma Staats.

The bride is a popular young lady of Oregon City, while the groom is from Guthrie, Oklahoma. After the wedding ceremony an elaborate repast was served to the bridal party and the following guests:

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. McGahuey, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McGahuey, Mrs. Clarence McGahuey, Mr. and Mrs. Y. J. Cross; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Portou, Mrs. Stella Gowlasta, Mrs. Rose Ben-sky, Mrs. E. M. Rambo Myrtle, Leathel and Moreita Cross, Wilbur and Isabel Portou, Ester Staats.

LAW FIRM WIDELY KNOWN

U'Ren & Schuebel Among the Leaders at the Bar, as well as in Politics

"What would I say, briefly, was our business? Well, I guess it would be safe to say that we deal in law, loans and politics. And that goes for both Mr. Schuebel and myself."

That is the way Mr. U'Ren, father of the initiative and referendum and usually blamed or honored for the entirety of what is known as "the Oregon system" expressed a summary of the activities of himself and his partner, Chris Schuebel, both noted as Oregon City attorneys. As lawyers both men have made reputations that have reached far outside their home state, and both of them have seen service in the state legislature and in other political fields. Real estate loans comprise but a department of the firm's business.

Mr. U'Ren, senior member of the firm, is one of those at present seeking the republican nomination for the governorship, and his friends say that they are sure he will obtain the honor. His record as a leader in progressive government has made him already prominent in the state's affairs, and his contributions to the history of past campaigns has shown that he's a power to be reckoned with. Beyond the borders of the state Mr. U'Ren has been accorded even more honors than at home, and has been eagerly sought as an exponent of the initiative and referendum, the recall and other modern political ideas are being rapidly adopted in all communities.

As an attorney Mr. U'Ren has shown himself a master of the intricacies of the law, and his quick wit has made him famous in more than many instances. As a public speaker he is also well known, and his forceful yet gently ironical style has made him a prime favorite with his audiences.

Sues County for $5,200

T. Nicolli who lives near Estacada, has brought a damage suit against this county for $5,200 because he was arrested and tried for hunting without a license, and because on trial before a jury he was declared not guilty.

He says Ben Patton had him arrested because he was not a naturalized citizen of the United States, and was hunting without proper game license in November of this year. He further avers he was brought to trial in December before Justice of the Peace W. Given, of Estacada, and the jury, and was then acquitted of the charges against him. All this, as he alleges, has caused him personal injury to the amount of $5,000, and he wants, in addition $200 for attorney's fees.

GLADSTONE STORE GROWS

Freytag's Favorably Known as Progressive Merchant of Neighboring City

Eight years ago R. Freytag opened a small grocery store in Gladstone. The goods that he offered for sale were the best to be had, and his prices were reasonable. Today Mr. Freytag conducts a large general merchandise store in the same place and the goods that he offers for sale are still the best that are to be had. People know this, and they patronize him liberally.

Still retaining his grocery store, he has merged this as a department in his larger enterprise, and aside from carrying a complete stock of vegetables and cookables, Mr. Freytag carries an excellent supply of dry-goods, shoes, notions and hardware. As an annex to his store he maintains a confectionary and refreshment parlor that is the mecca in summer time of the many who delight in cooling drinks of soda water or delicious dishes of ice cream.

A delivery service is also a part of the Freytag scheme, and excellent service is given patrons in all parts of Gladstone and in the surrounding communities, where in many homes "Get it at Freytag's" is the household motto.
