Personality of the Raiders.

Morgan's men have sometimes beet ecklessly and unfairly classed with those guerrilla bands who waged war more in the spirit of vandals than of organized and disciplined soldiers. Their representative character as Kentucklans and Americans is shown by the fact that the command embraced the best young men of Kentucky, many of them graduates of the highest east ern colleges and others of the same class too young to be graduated.

Among the leaders were Colonel W. C. P. Breckenridge. Hart Gibson of Yale, at one time Morgan's adjutant general; Colonel Griggsby of an old Virginia family and a graduate of the University of Virginia, Colonel Chenault, Colonel Tucker, Lieutenaut Colonel Cicero Coleman, Leroy Cluke, ex-Governor James B. McCreary and scores of others whose names became prominent as active citizens.

True, Morgan was a raider, but only a pioneer in the style of warfare which the enemy was glad to adopt later in the war. Morgan took to it naturally and because of his experience in the Mexican war, where he had commanded a company. Furthermore, he had read of the ancient use of cavalry and not of cavalry simply, but of mounted infantry, which could move with the speed of the wind.

When in the enemy's country one man would hold the horses of four others while they dismounted to fight or to carry on the work of bridge and railroad destroying. The chief idea of his campaigns was to cripple the enemy by destroying his roads and bridges, fighting when necessary to cut a way into the objective point or to save his command in getting back home.

BIBLE STUDY ON --THE GOLDEN CALF. Exodus 32:15-20, 30-35-Sept. 21.

'Little children, keep yourselves from idols 1 John 5:21. ■HE Israelites experienced severe trial of faith and obedience soon after entering into covenant relationship with God. In this trial they failed utterly. The Covenant was broken. However, after punishing them, God graciously renewed the Covenant.

The circumstances of this testing are part of this lesson. After making the Covenant, Moses, by Divine direction, went up into Mt. Sinai, taking Joshua H. S. Gibson attended the Odd with him. He was gone forty days. Fellows' ball and banquet in Oregon His prolonged absence gave room for the cultivation of faith, patience, trust.

> tack. What would they do without

Aaron was perplexed as to how Some Christians use the to keep the people cruciffs to assist faith. from utter discouragement. Apparently they were unable to trust the God A. W. Cooke and wife came to see whom they could not see. The lead-Mr. and Mrs. Howlett Sunday and ers took counsel together and deterwhom they could not see. The leadmined to make a representative of Jehovah-an image which the people could use as an instrument of worship. We are not to suppose that the Israelites recognized the golden calf as their God Jehovah, but used it merely as a symbol, just as the heathen use their idols as representations of their gods, and as some Christians use the crucifix-not to worship, but to assist faith and hold attention

Today's lesson seems clearly to indicate that God was greatly displeased with their symbolic representation of Himself. One of His commands had been. "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image," to bow down be fore it and worship it as a symbol.

Making the Golden Calf. We are not to suppose that the calf was made of solid metal. Probably it was made of either clay or wood, and then covered with molten gold, which in turn was graven or tooled. Having made the idol, the people rejoiced in it as an evidence of God in their midst, and gave themselves up to a season of feasting and dancing.

After forty days, Moses came down from the mount with the tables of the Law. He heard the people shouting, and then beheld them worshiping the golden calf. Moses, was justly angry; for he was the mediator between God and Israel-the representative of both, charged by God with the responsibility of that nation, and he realized that a serious crime against the Covenant had been committed. Moses dashed the tables of the Law into fragments, indicating that the Covenant had been broken. Armed with Divine authority, he let fall upon the people a just penalty for their rapid retrogression into sin. Then he went to God in prayer, and besought that, if the penalty of this sin was the casting off of Israel, he might himself be blotted out instead.

Such patriotism as Moses here evinced has surely not often been equaled -loyalty both to Israel, as representative and mediator, and also to God.

"Keep Yourselves From Idols." Let us apply the lesson to Spiritual Israel. After the Christian has left the world, passed the bitter experiences of Marah, had manifestations of God's favor, partaken of the Bread that makes good, independent soldiers. from Heaven, and entered into full They had been taught to ride, and, in covenant relationship with God-there fact, had been born to the saddle comes a time when he must walk by Without a saddle or even a sircingle it faith, not by sight. our covenant. Others Idolize the opposite sex, giving all they possess for its favor and fellowship. They make the great mistake of worshiping the creature more than the Creator, as the Apostle explains in the book of Romans.

Still another idol is sectarianism, against which St. Paul warned the Church. (1 Corinthians 3:3-5.) The same principle we may apply today. If one says, I am of Calvin, Luther, Wesley, are these not evidences of carnality? Is there not serious danger of worshiping the human institutions bearing these names, and thus of having something come between the Christian and his God?
