Gigantic Neptune.

Neptune, owing to its remoteness shines as an eighth magnitude star. Its diameter is 35,000 miles, or a little more than Uranus. Its mean distance from the sun is 2,746,000,000 miles. It has one satellite, which revolves at a distance of 220,000 miles, or about the same distance as our moon. However, of the planet itself we know very little but it seems probable that it is little more than a globe of very heavy gas.
