The Oregon City Shoe Store has moved into new quarters on Seventh and Main Street. This building has been thoroughly renovated, and made into one of the most attractive store buildings in this city. By moving into new quarters the company is enabled to handle a much larger stock, which arrived in this city a few days ago.

Mrs. Stromeier of Gladstone, who went to Los Angeles, California, for the benefit of her health, has been critically ill in that city, but word was received by her father, E. P. Carter, the first of the week, that her condition had improved, and she will probably return to Oregon with her husband, Mr. Stromeier and sister, Miss Irene Carter, of Milwaukee, who were called to California last week. Mrs. Stromeier was formerly Miss Helen Carter of Gladstone.

What has attracted much attention in the window of the Oregon City Publicity building, are the branches of wild plums that were presented to O. E. Freytag, secretary of the publicity department, by E. E. Kellogg of Mt. Pleasant, upon whose farm the plums were raised. The fruit is distasteful but the branches are used for grafting purposes. The plums are very small, and have an appearance of a purple grape, but the stone is about the size of the fruit itself.

William Bros. Transfer and Storage Company on Tuesday received an auto truck of the Velle make, having a capacity of three tons. This machine was purchased from the John Deere Plow Company in Portland, and is one of the few in the Northwest like it. While bringing the truck to this city from Portland Tuesday, it caused much attention in the latter city as well as in Oregon City. There is no machine like it in Portland. Emmett Dunn, of Oregon City, has accepted the position as driver of the machine. Mr. Dunn has had considerable experience in the automobile business and is considered a competent man for the machine. William Brothers have been in the transfer business for the past 15 years, and their business has grown so during the past few years that it was necessary to purchase the auto truck. This will be used in connection with the four furniture vans now in use.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Evans entertained the Wednesday night Whist Club at their home on Wednesday evening of last week. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Money and P. Randall. A most delightful evening was spent. Refreshments were served after several hours had been devoted to cards. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Money, Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Fox, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Greenman, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gann, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Randall, Mrs. A. B. Lamont, of Portland.

Mrs. David Caulfield was the guest of honor at an afternoon affair at the home of Mrs. William Money on Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock in honor of her birthday anniversary. The rooms were attractively decorated and the table decorations corresponded with those of the dining room. The table was centered by a birthday cake, the guest of honor of whom served the guests to this. One of the pleasing features of the afternoon was the presentation of a handsome silver fork to Mrs. Caulfield, who responded feelingly to her friends who gathered at the Money home on this occasion. Miss Marjorie Money assisted her mother at this affair.

The guests were Mrs. David Caulfield, Mrs. R. D. Wilson, Mrs. Charles D. Latourette, Mrs. J. M. Mark, Mrs. John McGitchee, Mrs. D. M. Shanks, Mrs. T. E. Beard, Mrs. R. J. Goodfellow, Mrs. A. D. Putrow.
