NEW SYSTEM ENDED

"Permanent Road Work" Should be Idea on all Highway Improvement

Editor Courier:-In your paper of the last few issues, appear articles on road con-struction, bond issues, etc., all con-demning the bond issue and bewailing the state of the roads at the present time, but none offer a remedy or way out of the difficulty.

First-On account of the opening of the avenue for grafting.

Second-The cost would be excessive in the end. Third—Under the present high tax rate for road construction it is need-

As to the first reason, grafting, we certainly have enough of it under the present supervisor system , without opening the gates to still greater graft under larger expenditure, which would occur under a bond issue.

When we travel over the county during the season of road work and note the doings of the supervisor, who thinks a public office is a private snap, and that the road tax was levied for his convenience and profit, and hereby expresses its protest against any action to "cripple and conterring to its students."

Therefore be it resolved, That Molalla Grange, No. 310, is opposed to, and hereby expresses its protest against any action to "cripple and do that with the wage slave."

The word expression of characters the question of characters the question of characters the country degrees in engineering to its students.

We have laws against turning old horses, cows or even dogs out to starve, but our capitalist brother can against any action to "cripple and do that with the wage slave." can we think that a bond issue with can we think that a bond issue with degrade the Oregon Agricultural Colits consequently greater expenditure, and chance for graft, would make for grant degrees in engineering."

The word confiscation seems to be construed to suit the individual, in fact all tax laws could be so conbetter and cheaper roads?

Under the second heading, cost, we have the propagandist idea carefully hidden by the proposition that we have spent money under the present system that has been literally ent system that has been literally Be it further Resolved, That we thrown away. By his method of build-urge other sub-ordinate granges, Paget two dollars' worth of roads.

and nothing said of interest on this olutions. sum, or of any possible discount. In Attest—Passed by Molalla Grange the first place 100 miles of hard surfaced roads cannot be built for $600,- 3rd, 1914.

ooo, unless you have the cash without interest and discount.

As the proposed bond issue is the full limit of indebtedness allowed by the recent law allowing a bonding of the county for not more than 2 per cent of its assessed valuation, we can not expect to get off with a discount of less than 5 per cent and possibly 10 per cent. When you add this discount and the interest of 5 per cent or per cent, you will find when your bonds are due and paid for, that you will have paid in the 12 years allotted to the bond issue as its life, very nearly $1,000,000 for your 100 miles

In other words you are asked to pay a toll for the use of said roads, practically $400 per_mile per year beside up-keep and original cost. Now ask yourself this question be-fore voting for bonds: Can we afford the luxury of bonded roads? Under the third heading we can show that the roads can be built without the privilege of paying the bond buyer for helping us out. This year the county court has

000; for payment of outstanding road warrants unpaid, (when, by the way, we were told a year ago, that the county was out of debt.) $42,000; allowed the voting of $80,000 for special road work, making a total of $362,000 for road purposes this year, of which practically $300,000 will be available in cash. Deducting the $80,000 special tax leaves $220,000 for regular work; 2 per cent of this sum or practically $50,000, must be kept for bridge work. We will still have $170,000 for our roads and now comes the remedy.

I propose in place of bonds for this sum, I would divide it into 3 parts, according to the county and governed by the market centers of the coun-

I would take $50,000 on a road from Springwater and Logan thru Stone and Clackamas to Milwaukie, or Grays Crossing. Beginning at either of the latter places, I would ex-pend this sum in building hard sur-face roads each year until the first or second named places were reached. The other two thirds could be spent in the same way, beginning at a place decided by the people. In this way, when over $1,000,000 was spent we would have far more roads than we could with a bond issue of $600,000 with its accruing interest and possible discount.

And now a few words on the gravel roads. When we build the gravel not more than sixty days, or by both and plank roads, we made a radical such fine and imprisonment, in the departure from the old system of dirt road building. Time has shown that the gravel road under heavy traffic, has proven only a makeshift, being only a few degrees better than the old style road.

We made a change of system as before and the time has now come for another change, and this time we must make the change to hard sur-face roads if we would save money and lighten our tax burden in the fu-

Under the present tax laws pass-ed by the legislature with the consent of the people, the poor man or small taxpayer gets it in the neck proper. Who will have to pay inter-est on the unpaid half of his taxes? No one but the small home-owner and people who have gone in debt for their homes and have not succeeded in paying for them as yet. The rich men or large corpora-tions do not generally pay their tax-es till the last minute and if they become delinquent before paid, they are never increased by penalties and in-terest. As a proof of this I cite the report that the Portland General Electric Company (now a part of the P. R. L. & P. Co) allowed their taxes on mortgages, etc., to become delin-quent to quite a sum and were allow-ed to settle them at a discount of 50 per cent, and spend the money on roads throughout our property.

THAT BIG "BOULDER" Rock "Three Times Size of Man's Head" is Found by Ex councilman Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again. And sometimes when it rises

it bumps those who crushed it, and bumps them quite severely.

Some days ago The Enterprise announced in screaming headlines that a huge boulder, "three times the size of a man's head," had been blown from a blast on a Center street contracting job clear over the face of the bluff and had landed in the middle of Main street. The fall and crash of this mighty chunk of rock had frightened people in the neighborhood, The En-terprise added, and "the children were forced to remain in doors the rest of the day."

Harry Jones and Dan Lyons are the contractors on the Center street job referred to, and last Saturday afternoon ex-councilman L. P. Horton gave Mr. Lyons the "boulder" of which The Enterprise had given such a startling account. "I was passing along the street when it dropped" said Mr. Horton, "and I thought there might be a yell about it, so I picked it up to give to you the first chance I got."

Mr. Lyons borrowed a pair of deli-cate scales and weighed the "boulder" which tipped the balances at just one and five-sixteenth ounces. The "boul-der" was about an inch and a half long, and possibly an inch in diameter. Mr. Lyons spent most of Saturday afternoon displaying the "boulder," and endeavoring to controvert The

"How big was the boulder," asked the Courier man. "I don't know, I didn't see it," re-plied The Enterprise reporter. "The boss told me about it, and he said it was three times the size of a man's head. Some story, eh?"

This sheds some light on how it happens that though night editors come and go, The Enterprise still lies
