Doctors Feared Lung Trouble, Restored to Health by Vinol.

The medical profession does not believe that lung troubles are inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to them. Mrs. Kate Heckman, Springfield, Ohio, says: "A few years ago I was in a very bad run-down condition, and the physician told me I had consumption. I tried another physician, and he told me I had ulcers on my right lung. I quit the physicians and started on Vinol. Today I am perfectly healthy, and that is why I recommend Vinol."

ECONOMY RULES COUNCIL'S WORK

work, as the assessment would range from 50 to 90 per cent, it was said, of the valuation. The former county court, when the matter was taken up with them by last year's council, refused to pay any share of the expenses. City Attorney Schuebel, towards the close of the council meeting, asked if any of them knew how much money was due Oregon City from the county as the municipalities share of the road taxes. None of the councilmen knew, and Mr. Schuebel was formally requested to look the matter up. There was a bare quorum present at the meeting, Councilmen Templeton, Metzner, Hackett, Andrews and VanAnken being the only ones present throughout the greater part of the session. Five minutes before the adjournment Councilman Toose came in.

Why cannot the state of Oregon go into the banking business? Loans could be made at a low rate of interest and public improvements carried on by the people's money for the people's good. At present we pay interest for the use of our own money. For instance, Farmer A comes to town, pays $100.00 in taxes. This the county treasurer deposits in the bank. Farmer B comes and borrows $100.00 at 10 per cent, pays his taxes and this is deposited in the bank. Farmer C then borrows the same amount at 10 per cent and so on ad infinitum.—Mac.

CHEAPER AND FAR BETTER

City Engineer Noble told the Live Wires Tuesday that every macadam street in Oregon City cost its original expense in repairs at the end of ten years, that they were a cloud of dust in summer and liquid mud in winter, and that hard surfaced streets would be far cheaper and more satisfactory. Pretty much right. The city is now putting in hard surfaced sidewalks (cement) to replace the expensive macadam (board) and any man will tell you it is economy. And it would seem that the same principle and reasoning would apply to the middle of the street as well as its edges.

West Linn will have P. O. West Linn will soon have a post-office all its own and it will probably be the biggest little office in the state, as it will have the large mails of the Willamette and Crown paper mills, which Oregon City now serves. Congressman Hawley notifies the baby city that the government has authorized an office to be established there. George Horton, former postmaster of this city is now the only candidate for the office.

Waiting for Difficulties to be Overcome

The elevator derrick is up in the air. So are the contractors and city council.

The S. P. railroad, two court cases and the water commissioners stand between it and completion and operation.

Mayor Jones says it could be completed and running in three weeks if the obstacles were removed.

Finally the obstacles will be overcome. There has been too much money expended to give up the project, and it will not be given up.

And why couldn't the work have been made easy rather than to have litigation, delay and expense piled on?

Elks Ball Saturday Night Great preparations have been made for the grand ball to be given by the Order of Elks at Busch's hall on Saturday evening, and from all indications will be one of the leading social events of the season. The committee on arrangements is composed of H. L. Kelly, Jr., H. E. Williams and H. E. Young. Many from out of the city, members of the order, have been extended invitations. The invitations are unique, the poetry therein being composed by one of the Oregon City's young women, and reads as follows: The antlered Elk, the stately Elk Herewith present to thee An invitation to their dance On February 28, And "23" I will be to them, And "23" for you, Who do not come and join the band And dance the evening thru.
