

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop." When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help.

DERTHICK CLUB FUN

Members and Husbands have Jolly Entertainment Friday Night. The Dertthick Club entertained their husbands and escorts at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Harding on Friday evening, February 20.

The Harding home was prettily decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, ferns, flags and hats, in honor of Washington's Birthday.

During the evening a burlesque vaudeville program was performed under the direction of a special program committee, which brought forth tremendous applause.

The performance began with a fine orchestral selection under the baton of "John Phillip Sousa" (Thos. Burk) who is well versed in every orchestral instrument, from bass drum to the golden harp, and he was ably assisted in bringing forth sweet music by B. T. McBain, on the trombone—his sliding act being the most remarkable performance that had ever taken place in this city; and Leon de Larzes, a well known violinist, the richness of whose music no words of ours could express, and Mrs. Vance Edwards, whose performance at the piano was most remarkable.

Livy Stipp as "Hercules Samson," played Indian clubs with heavy weights representing thousands of pounds.

Thomas Burke, accompanied on the piano by Miss Louise Huntley, gave the musical setting of one of his most famous ballads, which was illustrated with magnificent views of his own making.

W. A. Huntley as "Senor Figora Lika Diablo," the Lightning calculator, took his part to perfection, and both his marvelous work and his appearance would go to prove that he possesses a most remarkable development of the genius of computation.

Misses Louise Huntley, Marie Sheahan, Marian Pickens and Alice Moore composed the "Sugar Plum" chorus and they were most exquisitely "sweet" in all that they did.

"Raphael Van Dyke-Burns-Jones," the greatest artist in the world, was represented by Hon. G. L. Hedges, a prominent artist of this city. Although Mr. Hedges has not yet completed his studies in European art circles, his work on this occasion is said to have surpassed the efforts of the greatest of the old masters and many of his sketches were eagerly sought for as mementos of the occasion.

John Clark the dainty danseuse, arrayed in his most costly costume, a la "Mary Garden," was a general favorite from the moment he made his appearance. His Salome dance was so ineffably lithe and aerial as to remind one of "The Fall of the Seven Veils" at Manitou. Mrs. Theodore Osmund representing Madam Melba gave a serious vocal selection in such a manner that she received a hearty encore.

Finally a true-to-life boxing contest between Theodore Osmund and Carl Joehnik as "Jim Jeffries" and "Bob Fitzsimmons" was staged. Just as "Jeff" with a tremendous blow had knocked out all "Bob's" front teeth and the boxers were warming up well to their work, M. D. Latourette, in the person of a big blue-coated officer, wearing a helmet that had seen better days and larger heads, suddenly sprang upon the stage and placed the principals and some of the spectators under arrest. The crowd then attacked the officer and were about to tear him limb from limb, when at the psychological moment appeared the famous heavyweight "John L. Sullivan" (R. C. Ganong) who quieted the crowd with a brief but pointed speech and received an ovation, after which the 70 guests proceeded to partake of the delightful refreshments served by the hostesses and their assistants.

The affair was a most successful one both artistically and socially. The committee having charge were: Programme—Mesdames J. F. Clark, W. A. Huntley and L. L. Pickens; Refreshment—Mesdames J. Loder, G. A. Harding, R. C. Ganong, Chas. Caufield and E. A. Chapman; Decorating—Mesdames C. G. Miller, Howland, and Livy Stipp.

FARMERS MUST UNITE

Macksburg Writer Says they Must Fight Bonds and Boodle. Macksburg, Ore. Feb. 21, 1914. Editor Courier:—

I notice several candidates are already getting ready to be slaughtered at the primaries. When I see the names of the chairman of the County Central Committee of both parties I have to "smile" at the combination they will present to the taxpayers of this county.

I note several candidates of the old Beatie gang are out for office, and think they will have a walk-out at the primaries. Now we want to say right here that the Recall Committee are not all dead and we will have something to say as to who is going to be our servants in the Court House for the next two years.

It seems to me a man "up a tree" that as soon as we put some men into office they think the taxpayers should "pension them for life." A nomination does not mean an election by a "jug full" and that several good men have taken passage up "Salt River" as soon as the returns were counted. Ask Mr. Clark of Oregon City. He tells you what kind of a combination he got if you are in favor of bonds for the "Pacific Highway."

We expect to see several Oregon City men get (theirs) as the farmers are getting wise as to who will ask for their support at the coming election.

Every man that is in favor of bonding Clackamas county for more money and higher taxes will be defeated. Don't forget, gentlemen and ladies, that there are two organizations in Clackamas county that will defeat you if you are in favor of bonds for the "Pacific Highway." Taxpayer.

LOGAN

D. C. Fouts Sr. suffered a paralytic stroke last week and is yet in a precarious condition. He is unconscious most of the time and can only speak a few words at times. His daughter, Mianie, arrived from Chicago last Sunday evening. Mr. Fouts has been a well known resident of Logan for several years and came here from Michigan. The sympathy of the community goes to him in this affliction.

George Tracy recently underwent a serious surgical operation at St. Vincent's hospital in Portland and is now convalescing at Gladstone. George has had a serious time of it but it is expected that he will soon be around again as usual. The trouble came from an ear affliction after a bad cold.

The Clear Creek Creamery paid 36 cents for butter fat this month, which is 5 cents below last year and about that much below the usual price, though in Feb. 1911 the price was only 37 cents. So much for the experimental importation of foreign butter, which we predict will not cut so much of a figure hereafter against a first class home article. The dairy industry of Oregon is destined to hold its own against the world.

N. L. Kirchem is now hauling the creamery butter to Portland and delivering it with an auto truck and so has shortened the distance. It takes about an hour to go in with a load.
