WEST LINN WANTS WATER; WILL PAY THIRD OF COST

Neighboring Community Would Like to Get in on Pipe Line. An informal offer has been received by Oregon City from West Linn, in which the latter city expressed a willingness to pay one-third of the cost of the construction of the mountain water pipe line if Oregon City will, in return, give it one-third of the water carried down from the south fork of the Clackamas river.

NEW BRIDGE AT BARTON

Before the county court Wednesday, it was decided to advertise for the construction of a new steel bridge across the Clackamas at Barton, at a cost of about $1,200. A rock crusher will also be located near Bull Run.

THE WAITING GAME

The depot for the public elevator, built around the base of the derrick, is nearly completed, and it will be an attractive building. Decisions as to the rights of way and landing in front of the Chase property on the bluff, which have long been pending, are expected within a few days, when it is hoped the work may be completed.

BROWN WILL NOT RUN—NOTHING LEFT TO RUN ON

Dimick, Brownell and U'Ren, all of Oregon City and all wanting to be governor of the great state of Oregon, with Brown of the Courier yet to hear from—Newberg Graphic. Brown can't run. There is no plank left for platforms. "Economy" has been worked until it has a fringe; prohibition is as dry as a lime kiln; the repeal of every commission has been concerted for; the unemployed have been taken care of; taxation will be put on the easy payment plan; good roads have been built; "Back to the Soil" is covered; lower taxes are guaranteed; cigarettes will be abolished; Asiatics will be excluded; women will be given universal suffrage and every law in Oregon will be enforced.

COUNCIL SCRAPS; BUT DOES WORK

(Continued from Page 1) Center streets, and said that the board of water commissioners now had but one extra hydrant in stock. Councilman Tooze moved that the city "buy a dozen," and the motion carried. These hydrants will be installed where most needed.

CASTO'S CHILD VERY ILL

The little daughter of S. L. Casto of Carus, Republican candidate for county clerk, has been dangerously ill with pneumonia, but is now slightly better.

A QUESTION TO MR. HEDGES

"Ask Attorney Joseph Hedges, who declares Oregon City water is the 'purest in the state' if his own family has not been using?" was the request of a city resident Wednesday.

OUR PATRIOTISM

WHAT AILS IT. Great Britain and Japan Make us Small by Comparison. What's the matter with our patriotism? Of course on the Fourth of July we get enthusiastic and wear our best clothes out in the rain and walk blisters on our feet, or whenever some child in San Francisco throws a spitball at a Japanese schoolboy and war threatens, we all sit up and tell how we could whip the whole Orange with one hand tied behind us and the other in a sling, but there seems to be something mighty much wrong with our every-day patriotism.

Did you ever see an Englishman sit still when he heard "God Save the King?" Do you think an audience in any country in the world would sit stolidly in their seats listening to their national anthem? But in our town a couple of weeks ago one of the theatres was filled with a representative crowd and when the band began to play "The Star Spangled Banner" about half a dozen people stood—possibly one out of seventy-five, and they felt ever so foolish. Of course we are not expected to be very enthusiastic over our presidents—they change too often, for one thing, but we have the most beautiful flag in the world and the children should be trained to honor it.

If you once heard thousands of Japanese chanting "Banzai"—forever and forever, or more literally "ten thousand times ten thousand" at a public flag raising or to greet one of their war heroes, you could understand without difficulty how a few little islands could defeat China and Russia. Little children, old men and women—everybody chants "Banzai" until to a lonely foreigner it sounds as foreboding as the rumbling of a volcano and then you know why they can threaten war when somebody shies a dead cat at Hashimura Togo or Secretary Bryan forgets to answer their letters.

This is the brand of patriotism our country must have if we are to stand, and we must largely depend on our schools to instill in every child a greater love for our country and our flag.

Perhaps the schools do teach the children to stand when they hear the Star Spangled Banner and perhaps the boys are taught to remove their hats if they are outdoors, but judging from the audiences in Oregon City, they shed such instruction along with the completion of this work, agreed to keep the bridge flushed if the city would have a hydrant installed.

City Attorney Schuebel was given power to start condemnation proceedings to secure an outlet for the Tenth street sewer. Mr. Schuebel reported that one property owner was holding up the completion of this work, right-of-way for the sewer having been granted in every case but one.

An offer from the Portland Railway, Light & Power company to reduce light charges was referred to the street committee. It is understood that there are certain conditions dependent upon the reduction which are not acceptable to the city.

Complaint was made to the council that though a hydrant had been installed on the suspension bridge, that span had not as yet been flushed. On motion of Mr. Tooze the city recorder was instructed to inform B. T. McBain of the fact that the bridge should be flushed.
