

OREGON EQUITY NEWS P. W. Meredith Editor

Co-operative canneries everywhere.

Klamath has a co-operative produce association.

Klamath is going to erect a creamery.

A large warehouse is at Baker, erected by the Farmers' Union.

Hood River is to build a co-operative cannery.

Fruit Growers of Clark County, Wash., are building a large cannery.

The Eugene cannery has orders for its 1914 bean pack.

A co-operative cheese factory is to be organized near Salem.

The Equity Warehouse Co. handles oranges.

Congress is going to investigate the Boards of Trade.

Congress is long on investigations but terribly short on remedies.

It would be economy to investigate the economical record of some of these economy candidates.

The farmers are short a candidate for Senator and Representative in Congress.

We seem to be short on quite a number of minor state officers.

Oregon City must not get discouraged. We just read of a city in the desert of Peru that has not been wet for twenty-two years.

Kansas is a prohibition state and is sometimes bothered with droughts, grasshoppers, and storms and such men as Bristow and Murdock, who you never hear her boast of an army of unemployed.

G. T. Hunt, candidate for the legislature, interviewed the Equity editor at the Courier sanctum and were favorably impressed. He is in the economy and goes the limit in that direction. He is a farmer and well supplied with a general philosophy. A good man for the place.

The appropriation for the office of markets in the Department of Agriculture has been increased from fifty thousand to one hundred thousand. Now will it be spent in the interest of the farmer or speculator?

Excuse me! But my dear reader, are you a farmer and buying at retail and selling at wholesale and you satisfied with your marketing machine? If not, get your neighbors to join you and form a local clearing house of the Farmers' Society of Equity, and buy at wholesale and sell on your own market. Join a body of farmers who do part of their own thinking.

There is a bill before Congress called the Murray Bill that would end grain gambling on the same plan that the Louisiana lottery was ended. If Congress wanted to end the people against this sort of price manipulator they could pass this bill, but those lawyers who compose Congress are not much interested in agricultural prosperity. They are more interested in the large fortunes that have been built up by speculation of Boards of Trade.

Governor Glynn of New York, in a special message to the legislature, Feb. 10, said that agricultural organization was needed in New York more than legislation.

He recommended an appropriation of twenty-five to fifty thousand dollars to be expended in a campaign of organization. By lectures he would teach co-operative organization for the sale of farmers' produce. He pointed out the success of the co-operative organizations in the state, and he recommended one central station with cold storage facilities. It would be similar to Equity.

There is before Congress a bill to prevent farmers from killing calves until they are seven years old. The New York Grange wants the bill amended so as to include chickens not less than eight years old, geese twenty-five, hogs eighteen, and eggs not less than three years old. Country butter two years old ought to be tagged and the eggs regulated by the other fellows' business regulated by law. The beef trust that is going to sell beef at one dollar per pound may be the backing to this bill.

W. S. U'Ren has been honored by a position on the executive board of the National Voters League with Mrs. E. G. Evans of Boston, and Herbert Bigelow of Cincinnati and a few other noted reform leaders throughout the U. S. There is more honor attached to a position of this sort than being governor of any state because any 2x4 politician can be governor, but it requires thought, application, individuality, and recognized ability to obtain a position of honor in an organization of America's best thinkers.

Wisconsin has an income tax. Ten per cent of this tax goes for state purposes. Each county retains twenty per cent and seventy per cent remains in the town or township where collected.

In Oregon we have no income tax or even an inheritance tax. The cities keep all their taxes and the farmers pay the tax of their over for county purposes. Senator Sullivan has introduced a bill in Congress for the cities of the U. S. to receive half of our federal income tax. Then some people ask why farmers should organize.

Farmers will soon be plowing and planting another crop with little hope of profit. We know prices will be dictated in a large measure by combinations of men who belong to Boards of Trade and numerous associations of market manipulators. It has become so that a small crop brings more money to the farmers than a large one. Consumers get no benefit from a large crop and all farmers should know that the only way to better their condition is to organize unanimously and overcome the evil influence of these evil combinations of evil men. Try the Equity plan.

Since the Equity was organized in Clackamas Co. there has existed a purer political atmosphere. Every voter can feel the change in the bettering of our county. This campaign has brought out better men in all parties. Some of our representative farmers have announced. Several Equity farmers are asking you for support and we ask you to give them due consideration. There is Brother S. L. Gans for clerk; Brother Grisenthwaite for representative; Thorne for sheriff, and others, and it is our aim to raise the standard and standing of our county; of our state; and our nation.

G. A. Henrix has answered the question of the unemployed very satisfactorily to us. We believe he is on the right track. Of course it entails some confiscation of property to prevent confiscation of the lives of thousands of poor, who have had their earnings confiscated by the system of trade through organized capitalists. Our taxes represent confiscation by governmental authority. We now owe eighteen billion in bonds and cannot pay them. What must we do about it? It enslaves the working people to pay just the interest. The nations of the world owe more than they can ever pay. What remedy have you to offer?

L. Flichmann of Basin, Wyoming, shipped one thousand pounds of navy beans by parcel post. He found that it was cheaper than freight, as they came in the mountains in the mountains. He said that Uncle Sam got them there was not stated, but if these beans had been shipped for seed instead of food Uncle Sam would have charged 8 cents per lb., instead of the zone rate of one cent per pound.

President Wilson is to appoint W. H. Taft as a U. S. supreme judge.

Mr. Taft, in his speech at Hot Springs, Va., expressed an opinion that the poor people could not hope to cope in the courts with men of wealth. And in his speech at Waldorf, Va., Jan. 28, 1912, he said "In the effort to make the judiciary responsible to the whim of the people I see destruction." "Quitting work is criminal." Wm H. Taft. Here is another—"Any wilful attempt of employees of a railroad in the hands of a receiver to impede or hinder the operation of the road is contempt of court." Taft. "A boycott is an unlawful conspiracy." Mr. Taft, in his Cooper Union speech was asked "What should a man do who is hungry and out of work?" And Mr. Wm. Taft replied "God knows, I don't know."

The Equity editor refrains from any comments on our Democratic president's appointment.

Some U. S. Senators wanted to swat the Parcel Post and introduced a bill to curtail the power of the postmaster general to change rates, and to limit the effort to make the judiciary responsible to the whim of the people I see destruction.

It is rumored that one express company is to go out of business and what junk it has on hand will be taken over by another county in such a way as not to violate any anti-trust law, and if they did the matter could be adjusted "out of court" like many trusts are now doing.

Farmers are the best organized in Denmark. They control the nation. Their congress is composed of farmers and so is the cabinet. The ruling class are farmers, who own less than 80 acres of land. The Danes are the most universally educated people in the world and poverty is almost unknown. Only eleven per cent of the farmers are tenants and here in the U. S. nearly 40 per cent are tenants.

Denmark's exports average $380 per year for each farm, which is about $9 per acre. The government owns the railroads and the farmers, thru their organizations have formed co-operative markets and done away with most of the middlemen. The Danish farmer has his rural credit bank and gets money at 4 per cent. The American farmer must adopt the ways of the Dane and rule, or become tenants to an aristocracy of big business.

The Farmers' Society of Equity has been organized all over the United States and are forming their co-operative institutions. Are you ready to help? Write us for information.

The farmers of the Pacific coast are in a position geographically as to command any advantage of any of the world's markets and this advantage will be greater with the opening of the Panama canal. The Pacific coast farmer has a monopoly on hops, prunes, logan berries, and with the natural advantages of climate and soil could rule the market on canned fruit and most vegetables, and as that prevents these advantages from bringing prosperity and independence, is the lack of organization and co-operation.

Brother farmer, when you know the hopeless condition you are in as to prices and marketing, and when you read how farmers in Europe are making a success of organization, and you also read in nearly every paper you pick up of the success of some co-operative enterprise of the farmers, why don't you join the Equity? Get your neighbors to join with you and form a clearing house. Write to F. G. Buchanan, Oregon City, who is the state secretary, and get full information and literature on the subject. You have a chance now to be a leader in this great movement. You farmers don't have to feed and clothe the American people and get nothing for it.

Those who produce the wealth should have it. Join an organization that will help you get it.

Oregon City, March 6, 1914. Whereas the State of Oregon has appointed one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to pay all expense of Oregon's exhibit at the World's Fair at San Francisco in 1915, and whereas the farmers are the chief bearers of this burden and whereas we hold no stock in said fair association and are expected to furnish our time, labor and produce for said exhibit.

Be it resolved by the farmers Society of Equity of Mt. Pleasant that we demand reasonable compensation for our time, labor, and produce, and be it resolved—

That we donate absolutely nothing to said fair association, but demand just compensation for all time, labor, and produce furnished said fair association, and be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be taken to our County Union, State Union and other Farmers' Organizations.

A local of the F. S. E. with 22 charter members, was organized on March 11th by John Schmitke at the town of Verboort in Wash. county.

The following officers were elected: President, Anton Hermens; Vice-President, F. F. Lahare; Secretary-Treasurer, W. A. Vanderveiden.

The organization is receiving opposition from the store owners of the nearby towns.

Mr. Schmitke pointed out that in addition to buying and selling direct with the manufacturers, the society could also be made a vehicle for the redress of grievances in the matter of burdensome taxation of which the farmers throughout the country are bitterly complaining. Mr. Schmitke was applauded when he said the County Court in Hillsboro ought to be recalled.

A candidate's pledge usually loses its meaning after election, and the public necessities keep on coming. A public official with a personal business proclivity survives just about as long as a snowflake in the Willamette Valley.

The bite of a flea is trivial, but its repeated nipping is extremely annoying.

With eggs worth less than twenty cents, we are unable to negotiate entrance, for two, to the moving picture show with a lonely dozen of this fruit.

The outlook for the improving of the South side of the river is promising and the people residing along this thoroughfare are looking up.

Miss Marie Harvey spent a portion of last week in Portland.

The season's literary exercise terminates for the season with a basket social at the hall Saturday night. The proceeds to be applied to the building of a sidewalk west from the hall. Everybody invited.

This community is becoming quiet and staid that even the basket ball team's success over Mt. Pleasant never caused a ripple.

Oregon City commission merchants are paying 10c per pound for clover seed, and selling it for 17 and a half cents.

THIS NEW MEDICINE SAVES YOU MONEY

We are druggists right here in your town and make a living out of the drug business, but it is because people have to have drugs and not because we like to see people suffer—we don't. Our duty is to render the best service we can, and when someone is ailing, we are interested in seeing them take the best medicine there is for this particular trouble. We don't recommend "cure-alls," as we don't believe there are such things. We don't want you to spend more than you have to. Some of you get small wages, and when you're sick, none at all, and you should get the most you can for your money.

We recently came across a new remedy for increasing strength and building up people who are run-down and emaciated. We know that a slight trouble sometimes grows into a serious one, and to best medicine there is for this particular trouble. We don't recommend "cure-alls," as we don't believe there are such things. We don't want you to spend more than you have to. Some of you get small wages, and when you're sick, none at all, and you should get the most you can for your money.
