Whereas, the possibility of the pro-posed county bond issue, for the best interests at large, for "good roads" proposition for the agriculturists I general, looks very uncertain, There-fore be it resolved by Molalla Grange No. 310, in regular session this 4th day of April, 1914, that this Grange is opposed to bonding the county without a DEFINITE understanding as by whom, where and how the money is to be used. We demand the right, while it is ours, to say where money is to be expended. test: J. W. Thomas. Attest:

n gold, yet in spite of this if the money will be distributed right, will favor the bonds for those reasons. First, it will assure enough money t one time to work to better advanage.

Second. The whole county will elp foot the bill.

Last, but by no means least, I im satisfied that by the time the bonds become payable enough people will have become enlightened enough hat the government will issue money ind pay them off. I would rather see the condition now that this govrimment would issue paper money; irre men on the roads and put the money in circulation. In that way, rather than the system now used, out we are not ready for this yet. We still listen to the money changers who so far have been able to hire the press and bright attorneys to fool the people, so that they have voted for the tools of corporations and bankers and all manner of graft at the ex-pense of the producer. The money I am advocating could be the same as we get now with the same security back of it if you please and the only difference would be the overnment hiring it in circulation ustead of the banker loaning it into irculation. Some thought President Wilson and his backers would fix hings O. K., but I remember one of the first things done was to assure the bankers that they need not fear that they would be hurt by the hange. Since the law was passed I have spent two evenings studying the new banking law and I assure you new banking law and I assure vou the administration has made good. It's promise to the bankers that they will not be hurt. They have simply added to the banking system and it did not do away with the nat-ional banking method, which is such that as long as it exists it is abso-lutely impossible for this govern-ment to ever get out of debt. If I run my private business that way I would feel uncomfortable as long as I lived. No wonder the tax burdens are always becoming heavier and ire always becoming heavier and more grienvious to bear. Do not plame the county court—the fault is omewhere else. R. Schuebel.
