

A musical surprise! Whether you are a musician or not you cannot fail to appreciate the treat that the new Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph holds in store for you

Mr. Edison has preferred not to discuss the innovations, the wonderful improvements that he has embodied in this remarkable instrument. He emphasizes effect rather than details; your pleasure and enjoyment rather than his own inventive genius. There is only one way for you to really know this surprise. Let the Diamond Disc Phonograph tell it to you. Come to our store and ask us so play any or all of your favorite selections. The result will be more convincing than anything we could say. Our invitation is most cordial.

NEW UNDERTAKING BUSINESS Myers and Brady have Converted Residence into Establishment. Tom J. Myers and E. A. Brady have formed a partnership and have gone into the undertaking business, opening their undertaking parlors in the beautiful residence formerly owned by Dr. E. A. Sommer, of Portland, recently purchased by Mr. Brady. This undertaking establishment is located on Tenth and Water street. Mr. and Mrs. Myers, who have been residing on Main street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, are occupying the second story of the building, taking up their residence at that place the latter part of last week. Mr. Myers, a well known undertaker of this city, having been connected for five years with the Finley undertaking establishment in Portland, and for five years has been in this business in Oregon City. He is well known throughout Clackamas county, having resided in this city all of his life except the three years he spent in Portland. Mr. Brady has resided in Oregon City for some time, and has been in business in this city for several years.

CITY DID RIGHT Lady Voter Says it is Only Means to Catch Law Violators. To the Editor: Is not the Courier's article of April 23 entitled "Frame-up Proof Is a Raw Deal" unfair to officials who are trying to enforce the law against obtaining liquor in Oregon City? As the case is understood by some of us, the law has been broken in the same way again and again, but it seems well nigh impossible to obtain a conviction in the ordinary manner. One can readily see that the person who gets liquor on a doctor's prescription will not bear witness against him. He will want the same accommodation again. Officials who know the law is being broken but are unable to obtain evidence because of a stand-in are certainly justified in getting the evidence through a detective. As to the $89 twice mentioned, will taxes be any higher next year on that account? Has not Mr. Loder provided for that fee with the $100 fine? The other day I heard a Portland physician—one of the big ones—say in a carefully written speech that the giving of alcoholic stimulants to the sick was a relic of a superstition which had come down to us from the dark ages. That he had not in the past five years, but before that time resided in Clackamas county, making her home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Anderson. At the time of her death she was without funds and as the relatives had telegraphed the undertakers, Dunning & McIntee, of Portland, to bury her, the unfortunate woman would have been given a county burial, had it not been for the Anderson family in this city, who circulated a petition and secured over $55 in payment for the expenses of a burial. The Dunning & McIntee company, of Portland, kindly donated these services besides furnishing a burial robe and conveyance to the cemetery while the Betz Floral company at Jennings Lodge donated flowers. The casket was literally hidden by beautiful flowers, which were placed in the grave of the departed. Mrs. D'Lore was an old time friend of Dr. John McLoughlin, and well remembered his marriage day. Although she had lived to such a ripe old age she was unusually intelligent and could plainly give an account of the early-day life when she was a girl living at Ft. Vancouver, Washington. Up to the time of her death she was able to do the finest of needle work without the aid of spectacles and was delighted when displaying some of her needlework to friends, as well as telling of the experience she had in the early days during the time when the Red Skins were giving the Whites so much trouble. Her stories were interesting, and no one could help from admiring the pioneer woman as she related her early day experiences in the West. Her husband reached the age of 105 years, and was also a pioneer of the West.

AGED 117 YEARS Mrs. D'Lore, Friend of McLoughlin, Once Resident of this County. Mrs. D'Lore, of Portland, who died in that city at the advanced age of 117 years, last week, was buried in Mt. Calvary cemetery, Portland, last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Anderson, Miss Elsie Watts and D. O. Anderson, of this city, attending the funeral services. Mrs. D'Lore has resided at the Old Ladies' Home in Portland for the past five years, but before that time resided in Clackamas county, making her home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Anderson. At the time of her death she was without funds and as the relatives had telegraphed the undertakers, Dunning & McIntee, of Portland, to bury her, the unfortunate woman would have been given a county burial, had it not been for the Anderson family in this city, who circulated a petition and secured over $55 in payment for the expenses of a burial. IN SOCIAL CIRCLES Parties, Entertainments, etc., of Interest to Lady Readers. The masquerade ball given by the Canemah Progressive League at Stokes' hall, Canemah, on Tuesday evening of last week was a decided success, both socially and financially, and was attended by about 100 people, six of whom were orchestra composed of musicians of this city and Canemah furnished the music for dancing, many of the latest and popular dance music being enjoyed by the merry dancers. The grand marshal was led by Miss Helen Smith and Herman Rakel. The ball room was filled with maskers, some attired in beautiful costumes, while others in grotesque. The masques were removed about 10 o'clock. Miss Jennie Rose was awarded the prize for the best dressed lady, representing an Indian maiden. The prize for the best dressed man was awarded to J. Bierman. Miss Helen Smith, who carried out her part to perfection as "Snookum," was awarded first prize as the most grotesque costumed lady, and Herman Rakel was awarded the gentleman's prize. Mr. Rakel represented "Hiram Birdseed." Miss Smith and Mr. Rakel were awarded prizes at a similar affair last year. The committee having the affair in charge and which much credit is due for the success of the dance was composed of Mrs. Elbon Long, Mrs. Maxwell Telford, Miss Helen Smith, Oscar Smith, Louis Smith.

ONCE A RESIDENT HERE Springwater Boy Who has Made Good in the World. The following is taken from the Evanston, Ill., Daily News. Mr. Warnock is a son of Mason Warnock of Springwater, and he left home 21 years ago. Mr. Warnock in leaving Evanston is going to the south to enter a new line, as influential friends have offered him a fine position in connection with the building of a railroad, in which Mr. Warnock will have charge, when finished, with a large force of men. The railroad, when finished, will be one of the most important in the south running from Memphis, Tenn., to Florida where it will make connections with the principal seaports. Few of the business men who have come to Evanston in the last ten or fifteen years have had greater success than Mr. Warnock. He practically was the one who introduced the pantorium idea into this city and none has equaled him in his management of this enterprise, although he has had many imitators. So sagaciously has he built this business that he laid in the foundation of the considerable fortune which he now has the good luck to possess.

SPLENDID SUCCESS The social, which was given at the Carus school house Saturday evening, April 25, was a great success. A large crowd was in attendance and a fine program was enjoyed. Fortune also favored the people with a beautiful night. One of the prettiest features on the program was a guitar accompaniment to a song rendered by three girls, who were gowned in simple but lovely white dresses, trimmed with silver tinsel. Also a dialogue called "Dr. Cure-All," was given very charmingly. The amount made by selling baskets and sandwiches, was about $28.00. We thank the kind outsiders who helped with the programme, and also the teacher, Mr. Harry Sherwood, whose efforts in giving the crowd a good program was a grand success. Thanks also to the boys, who were there with their pocket-books.
