Did you ever get a note in school?other persons or parties unknown, from a boy?-from a big boy? I supclaiming any right, title, estate, lien or interest in the real proplife that are comparable to this, but certainly there is nothing else at that property herein described, as Ces-tuis que trust of J. Frank Watson, fying, triumphant, delicious, queer. Not that there was anything in such a note-the outside, as the missive first came to view, was much more thrill-across an intervening space or offered right in the property described in the slyly behind a geography or dropped on the desk as the writer went up to the A spelling class, gave a sensation not to be duplicated in any later years The contents, I regret to say, were insignificant, negligible. It is to be boped that the blg boy learned more about the art in time. But the mere fact of getting such a note, of having it written to yourself, of forecasting the contents, of having the other girls might see-once she made a girl read a note out lou#!-filled the moment with peculiar emotion.-Margaret Lynn in Atlantic Monthly.
