Frank Busch's Big Sale

NOW GOING ON

Outclassing and underselling any sale or bargain event ever held in this town. The entire stock was placed on sale, extra arrangements were made, and a bargain event combined into a grand sensation, a bewildering sight, baffling and dazzling scene of astounding bargains from one end of the store to the other.

People have come with a frown, and gone away with a smile. Every article is marked in plain figures absolutely without reserve. You have your pick, the goods are going in a hurry. Come before it is too late.

Something is happening every day. Good news and big bargains going in a hurry. Rushing scenes. The rattling of cash. Big packages going to the front. Men, women and children loaded down with good merchandise at a mere trifle of what you pay in other sales. It is enough to make you want to come. It pays you to close up the house, postpone engagements, borrow money, dress yourself and come prepared to buy.

Come While the Sale is in Full Bloom

Have you ever heard of such a sale? Did you ever see such a sale? "Give me this," "I will take that," "What does it cost?" "Oh, how cheap!" "Come here mama," "Hello, John," "Give me No. 36," "I want This or That." This is what you could hear on all sides. A beautiful scene; reads like a book, sounds even better. Are you coming? The sale will soon be over.
