THE HUB

We make a specialty of high grade Coffee. Try our D. & B. blend at 30c per pound, it is great for the price.

Our Hub Special or our Equity at 35c make as fine a cup of coffee as you could wish for.

Tea Garden Peanut Butter in bulk is fine, and costs you much less than in glass jars, 20c per pound.

We have just opened a 50 gallon barrel of those Heinz celebrated dill pickles.

You have not tried any as good, and they are going fast at 20c per dozen.

You should eat Blue Ribbon Bread and Clear Creek or Oregon City Butter—always good and fresh.

Combs, who recently sold their farm at Maple Lane, and who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Walter Cain, proprietress of the Ranch House, at Neah-kah-nie, Tillamook County, have returned to Oregon City, where they will camp at Gladstone park during the Chautauqua session, and will return to Neah-kah-nie in August to spend the remainder of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Allen have mer resort, and it is one of the most beautiful new homes at that sum-mer-attrative summer homes at that place.

N. R. Charman, chief of party of location of highways under the California Highway Commission, who has been visiting in this city and in Portland as a guest of relatives, will leave Friday evening for Eugene, where he will visit several hours at the Kappa Sigma Fraternity of the University of Oregon, and will leave on a later train for San Francisco. Mr. Charman is a former Oregon City boy, leaving Oregon about seven years ago for California.

William McLarty returned Tuesday from Rockaway Beach, Oregon, where he had been visiting his family who will rusticate at that resort during the summer months. Mr. McLarty is having erected a handsome summer residence of ten rooms on his slightly lot at Rockaway Beach and will be completed during the summer.

The McLarty property is one block from the beach and is an ideal location for a summer home. Mr. McLarty expects to erect another building in the future to be used as a store, as the property is also in the business section of the town.

Buy Fine Stock

N. H. Smith, a prominent dairyman, whose farm is located at Logan, accompanied by his son, were in Oregon City Monday on business. Mrs. Smith recently attended the Forbes sale of Jersey cattle at Dilley, Oregon, purchasing some of the best Jerseys in the herd, among these being "Kate F" which Mr. Smith paid $480; "Peek-a-boo," $265; "Aleta Winkle," $285; "Brown Lassie," $180, and another fine animal, "Compass." Mr. Smith has at his dairy farm 10 head of A. J. C. C. cattle, four P. C. J. C. cattle and 18 head of grade stock. He has won prizes on his stock wherever shown, and will exhibit at the County and State Fair this fall.

This dairyman is devoting a portion of his time to the growing of swine, having the Yorkshire swine, which are crossed with the O. I. C. swine and probably the only of this breed in Clackamas county.

CASTO FAMILY CELEBRATE

Unique Fourth of July Celebration Held at Alpine Farm

A very unique 4th of July celebration was that of a family re-union held at the Alpine Farm by the Casto's. Those comprising the company were: Mother J. A. L. Casto, Mrs. Charlotte Casto La Mar; Mrs. Auguste Casto Andrews, Mrs. Ella Casto Miller, Miss Kate Casto, Miss Evangeline Lake, a cousin from Denver, Colorado; Mrs. Lulu Hayward Casto, Mrs. Edith Lilly Casto; Chas. W. Casto, S. L. Casto, Dr. Henry A. Andrews, Theodore Miller, and seven grandchildren.

At the noon hour all gathered in the old house, (said to be 65 or 70 years standing) and enjoyed a bountiful dinner. A peculiar feature of the feast was the table. The old fall leaf table was put aside and a piano box substituted, around which the company marched until each had located his plate by the place-card method, the same having been neatly and appropriately arranged by one of the grand-daughters, Miss Helen Andrews. The afternoon was spent by visiting, and by contesting skill in various games.

At night a large bonfire was provided, and the company, with a few of the neighbors, enjoyed the display of fireworks, which was furnished by the young people.

At ten-thirty P. M. the company dispersed with expressions of gratitude, and the event will long be remembered by the guests after they have returned to their respective homes and duties.

"Eel Factory" Closed

The experiment station in eels on the bank of the river just north of the suspension bridge was closed Friday night by Mayor Jones owing to the odor which has come from the place during the last few days. James P. Kelly, one of the partners in the establishment, said Friday night that the eel season was almost over, and he had intended to shut down his plant within the next two days. The building will be thoroughly cleaned out, and experiment work of a different nature will be begun within a few days.

Fourth of July Orators

As usual Oregon City contributed generously to the celebrations in other towns in the number of speakers. Local men went not only to towns in Clackamas County, but to points outside the county line.

Judge Grant B. Dimick was the speaker of the day at Aurora; Judge Gordon E. Hayes at Woodburn, Chris Schuebel at Clarkes, James Cary at Gladstone Park, George C. Brownell at Sandy, and Walter Dimick at Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tabor, Mrs. Edna Miller and the latter's little son, left last week for Cannon Beach, Oregon, where they will spend the summer at their hotel, which will be opened to guests in July.

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

man's "dead wagon" carried away the dead.

Jim Louit was evidently a felon de se, a self-murderer, "and ye know that the murderer hath eternal life abiding in him." 1 John 3:15. "Where a tree falleth so it lieth" Eccl. 11:3, "he is asleep, and awaits the resurrection." John 5:28, 29. Jesus said, "Lazarus is asleep." "Lazarus is dead." John 11. And the most forceful writer of the apostles said, "I would not have you ignorant concerning them that are asleep. These that sleep in Christ shall be raised, and shall come forth; they that have done good unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of judgment." 1 Cor. 15:20-22. "There is no remembrance," Ps 65:11; time to them, though it be from Abel's day to the redemption of the kingdom (Luke 21:25-28), is but a twinkling of an eye, for there is no consciousness, according to the plain declaration of Scripture, of those who lie down in death. In the resurrection "then the sea will give up the dead who are in them, and Death and Hades (the abode of the dead, the grave) will give up the dead, and each man will be judged in accordance with what his conduct has been (Rev. 20:13). Then the cowards, the ungrateful, the adulterers, the murderers, the fornicators, the divorced-married, and ALL LIARS (clerical or otherwise, for a misinterpretation of Scripture on one point of doctrine, Jas. 2:10, would invalidate the Word and Oath of God, Heb. 6:18, and if made void it would thwart the redemption of the kingdom. "I solemnly tell you," said Jesus, "that not an iota or smallest detail may be taken from the word or heaven and earth would come to naught." Matt. 5:18, "and whoever attempts it shall be accursed." Rev. 22:18, 19, "thus a false interpretation of Scripture is also suicidal, the portion allotted to them shall be in the lake of fire, and the earth and all the works of wicked man shall be burnt to ashes.

Since all these things are thus predestined to dissolution, what sort of men ought we to be in all holy living and godly conduct, eagerly looking for the coming of the day of God, the earth all afore, will be destroyed, and the elements will melt with fervent heat. But according to his promise we are expecting a new earth, in it the righteous shall dwell eternally. Rev. 21:8; 2 Peter, 3:10-13; Mal. 4:1; Isa. 65:17 etc; 66:22-24.

(Editor's Note:—We find it impossible to agree with Mr. "G" in the interpretation of some of his Biblical references and conclusions. We cannot believe that anyone will be punished hereafter because of his drinking whiskey which has been put in his hands by a depraved society or because of his committing suicide while intoxicated or while suffering from a temporary emotional insanity. Such beliefs, we think, are entirely out of tune with modern religious common sense as well as with anything like a rational conception of the real nature of the Deity.)
