The Ford is lighter than any other car of its size and power. Yet stronger, sturdier, longer lasting. Vanadium steel, that's why. Vanadium is the strongest, toughest steel made. It is the only steel that is hard and tough at the same time. It is the highest priced steel that is used in automobile construction. Yet the Ford is very low in price. Its quality, terms, price and small cost of operation and upkeep, less than two cents a mile, have made it the universal necessity in town and country.

Buyers will share in profits if we sell at retail 300,000 new Ford cars between August 1914 and August 1915.

LOGAN

The Harding Grange meeting last Saturday was above par in many respects. The attendance was not large but the amount of interest and enthusiasm was.

Mrs. Funk called the roll for each to answer with a current event or quotation, and almost everyone responded. This will be repeated next meeting and there will be a question box. L. Funk gave an interesting talk on corn, followed by some discussion.

M. C. Glover, Master of Eagle Creek Grange and state deputy master were present and gave an instructive talk on co-operation and on other subjects.

The sentiment of the members present seemed to be against a war embargo, but in favor of the democratization of war as per the socialist plan. There will be a mysterious entertainment on May 24th.

Mr. Hite has rented what is known as the L. L. Clark place from Mr. Cruikshank and has moved on it leaving the crop to grow on the Thompson place.

M. H. Riehoff has sold his store to Mr. Muir and will engage in farming again.

It will not be long until the annual telephone meeting on the first Monday in May will be held. All stockholders should attend.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

When we read of the blizzard back east and look out of the window here and see the green grass and flowers in bloom we are thankful that we live in Grand Old Oregon.

The little folks who have been on the sick list for several days were Bernadine Carrio and Lyons Everhart, but these sunny days they are out again and are happy little rompers.

The Ladies' Aid met at the church last Tuesday with 15 members present and a bounteous dinner was spread at noon. All worked at quilting and sewing carpet rags.

Frank Bullard bought the Lehman residence and has now moved in.

The old barn of Everhart and Hall is being torn down and will no longer prove an unsightly picture to the artistic eye.

The Easter Exercises at the Mountain View church were pleasing affairs. The little ones were the principal leaders and did their parts well. A good number of neighbors and friends attended.

Mr. Scholtz received word from his son Albert at Corvallis, that he was quite ill. Mr. Scholtz started at once to bring him home but decided it was not expedient to do so at the time. We learn that he is now some better.

Mr. Wm. Chanler, wife and children visited the latter part of the week with Mr. Chanler's brother on Caulfield St.

Mrs. Emory Barto and son, Clarence, of Sellwood, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. French.

The two jitneys are very busy at present and the people should surely appreciate the service.

Another new tabernacle is being built on Division St. It is said that it will be occupied by the Anti-Mon or All Saints people.

CHERRYVILLE

These warm rains, however, do a world of good.

Stock is out on the range and has been all winter. Those that were not fed anything look the best.

A writer from South America says sheep are pastured clear to the top of the Andes mountains—millions of them. Here we have thousands of acres of the finest kind of pasture going to waste every year. The writer has been on Sugar Loaf, Grizzly and Wild Cat mountains in the summer time and has seen the finest kind of pasture going to waste.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Clarke, a very worthy young couple, are going to take a chance on a so-called R. R. claim and have already built a shack. Like the birds in the wood they are erecting a nest for their young, but selfish and greedy men, backed by a lot of pettifoggers without any more souls than a grindstone, will try and eject them and hold their land out of use for another generation until the increase in population makes this land very valuable. In some countries, notably New Zealand, the young people are started on a farm with a sum of money at a low rate of interest and on long time to help them in getting a home and at the same time aid in becoming good and useful members of society.

Here we prey upon them, rob them and cheat them and grind them down with non-employment or low wages.

The young people are the most valuable crop we produce and should be encouraged and aided in every possible manner to become good American citizens. We call ourselves Christians but the Scripture says if any man says he loves God and hates his own brother, (meaning all mankind) he is a liar and the truth is not in him. If you love your brother or sister you will not rob and cheat them and grind the face of the poor.

The Oregonian in a recent issue, said the farmers have votes, therefore the Democrats are flirting with them to get their votes next year by talking about Rural Credit systems. Believe me, there will have to be something done besides talk next season or the farmers will desert the ranks of both old parties and go to either the Progressives or the Socialists, and these two are liable to combine.

We have received the last number of the Congressional Record containing a large number of speeches made by members, many of which are on Rural Credits. Some of these are for home consumption and are merely an attempt to throw dust in the people's eyes. The G. O. P. will start another campaign with the same little ding-dong about the tariff and a full dinner pail. Nobody but a recently discharged inmate from an institution for the feeble-minded will fall for this kind of dope.

Of course subsidized newspaper corporation lawyers, and preachers with wealthy pew-holders will all shout for the G. O. P., but happily people, even the most dense, are sufficiently discerning to understand their motives and the attitude they assume. There is money in it for them and what will not the average professional man not do for money?

Billy Sunday was given $100,000 for 5 weeks' work in Philadelphia, and many of his so-called converts were shop girls, some of whom testified before the industrial commission that they never had anything more expensive than a fifty-cent luncheon in all their wretched lives.

The most comical thing in this religious fakir and humbug's career at Philadelphia was the fact that some wag sent him an extract from one of Ingersoll's masterly addresses, without disclosing its authorship, whereupon he used it as his own with marked effect upon his poor, half-starved shop girls. Upon being reminded of this piece of plagiarism he coolly replied that somebody had sent him the extract and thinking it good stuff he incorporated it into his pulpit appeals. Think of $100,000 for a little over a month's work, when there are 4,000,000 men, mind you to say nothing of women, and children, who are seeking work in the land, many of whom go hungry to bed every night.

A. B. Brooks, who has property interests here as well as elsewhere, was in town last week and said that they are surveying a logging railroad from the mouth of the Clackamas up into the country south of Cherryville to take a big body of timber. He says the road will be in actual operation before the season is over.

A DOG'S LIFE

We often hear the expression, "He leads a dog's life," and it is taken to mean that the person so spoken of is getting more real hard work, buffeting and ill-treatment than should fall to him. Still there is another point of view, shown in the story of the Dutchman addressing his dog:

"You was only a dog, but I wish I was you. Ven you go mit your bed in you shust turn around three times and lay down; ven I go mit der bed in, I haf to lock up der place, and vint up der clock, and put der cat out, and undress myself, and mine frau vakes up und scolds, den der baby vakes up und cries and I haf to walk him mid der house around den maybe, ven I gets myself to bed, it is time to get up again. You get up, you schust stretch yourself, dig your neck a leedle und you vas up. I haf to light der fire, put on der kiddle, scrap some mit my wife already, und get myself breakfast. You play around all day und haf plenty of fun. I haf to work all day und haf plenty of drubble. Ven you ie you vas dead; ven I die I haf to go to hell yet."

A gallon of gas, a can of oil
A hunk of wire they call a coil,
A piece of tin and a chunk of board;
Put them together and you have a Ford.

If the allies can prevent Germany from sending any goods to the United States and Germany can prevent France and England from sending any, that would be an ideal situation from the protectionist standpoint, as that would surely shut out all competition with the pauper labor of Europe.

Taking Care of the Children

No parent would consciously be careless of the children. Joe A. Rozenman, Clarkson, Neb., uses Foley's Honey and Tar for his two children for croup, coughs and colds.

He says, "We are never without Foley's Honey and Tar in the house." A distressing cough, sleepless nights, and raw, inflamed throat lead to a run-down condition in which the child is not able to resist contagious or infectious diseases. Foley's Honey and Tar is truly healing and prompt in action.—Jones' Drug Co.
