WILLAMETTE SCHOOL NOTES

The patrons of the Willamette school gave the teachers a public reception in the school house on last Friday evening, October 8, that will long be remembered. A large number of citizens attended, and appropriate refreshments were served. It was not until eleven o'clock that the party disbanded.

Dr. J. R. Hunt is absent for a short time, visiting his sons in and near Roseburg.

Francis Shipley, while out on the play grounds thoughtlessly ran in front of one of the swings while it was in motion, and the corner of the board hit her above the eye, cutting a deep gash. Miss Christie, her teacher, witnessed the accident and was on hand, neatly dressing the wound. We are glad that it was not serious, and that Francis was able to return to school the next day.

Mr. S. R. Logsdon is again the owner of the skating rink.

On last Friday evening the young people held a surprise party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron. The following were present: Misses Ruby and Pearl Ross, Elsie Snidow, Lillian and Emma Lindquist, Stella Leighton, Beatrice Oliver, Audry Luor and Anna Isongle; and Messrs. Terry Barnes, Leo Rice, Lynn Van Cleve, Willis Elliott, Alvin Andrews, Waldon Hyatt, Fred Junkin, Rex Britton, Bert Zerkie, Merritt Wilson, Wilbur Ross, Clyde Morrell, Sidney Waldron and Paul Berg. All present reported a good time. It was not until after midnight that the guests wended their way home, before which they enjoyed together the elaborate refreshments.

Walter Larson of our town has been working during the past week in Oregon City on their new high school building.

On Tuesday, October 12th, appropriate Columbus Day exercises were held in the Assembly room of the school building.

Mr. George Thompson, chairman of the School Board, spent Saturday in Portland. He reports having put in a busy day shopping.

Mr. Hinchman, instructor of the Manual Training Department, has just had a fine supply of lumber shipped and placed in the shop for the use of his three classes.

WEIRD TALE COMES

University of Oregon Investigating Dog with Light in Mouth

The strange story of a dog that manifested the same phenomenon as Conan Doyle's "Hound of the Baskervilles," in the Sherlock Holmes' mystery series, has just come to the University from a woman resident of Derby, Jackson county, Oregon.

With the story came the head of a dog, which the University was asked to examine for traces of rabies. The letter follows in part:

"We went out to visit one of our neighbors in the evening, and on returning saw a bright light near the house that looked as large as a lighted lantern in the distance. On investigating we found our dog frothing at the mouth, and the light was coming from the dog's mouth. The dog was snapping and digging its mouth and face in the earth. We went up to it and it started toward us, so we beat a hasty retreat into the house, and the dog turned and went off, still showing the light at its mouth and snapping.

"From the safety of the house we called to the dog, and after quite a time it came in a glad manner but still frothing and snapping. It wanted to jump up to the window where we were and for safety we took a gun and killed it.

"The dog was a thoroughbred Airedale, one year old. Four witnessed the sight, two men and two women. Kindly let us know the cause of the dog's acting in this way."

TALK AGAINST BOOZE

Richmond Pearson Hobson, Hero of Many Kissing Bees, To Speak

Lieut. Aichard Pearson Hobson, at one time famous as the hero of the Merrimac and at present connected with the National Anti-Saloon League will address the Oregon Agricultural College faculty and students some time in November. Lieutenant Hobson is credited with having delivered the most noted temperance speeches ever presented before the National Congress and will discuss his problem before the College people on its economic, social and moral aspects.

Miss Eleanor Williams, who has been critically ill at her home on Fifth street, is reported some better.

Mrs. Maggie Harrington, accompanied by her brother, John Stormer, of Estacada, left Monday for Salem, Ore., where they were called on account of the death of their nephew, Carl Anderson, age 21, who was killed in an automobile accident seven miles from Salem, Sunday night.

Charles Raynes, of Bolton, purchased a Regal car, formerly owned by Fred Simmons.

Mrs. M. Mulvey, who has been very ill at her home on 713 J. Q. Adams street, is recovering.

Dr. and Mrs. John Friedrich, of Des Moines, Iowa, the former a brother of Charles Friedrich of this city, who have been visiting for a few days left for Portland on the way to the Panama Exposition, and then will return to their home. The brothers had not met for 30 years.

Two Children Had Croup
The two children of J. W. Nix, merchant, Cleveland, Ga., had croup last winter. One was a boy of 6, the other a girl of 8 years. Mr. Nix writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe and couldn't talk. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it entirely cured them." This reliable medicine should be in every home for it gives immediate relief from colds, coughs and croup, heals raw inflamed throats and looses phlegm.—Jones Drug Co.

Sunnyside Folk Wed
Miss Lavina Huddle and Byron W. Bowerman, of Sunnyside, were married in the county seat last week. Justice John N. Sievers performing the ceremony. The couple left for The Dalles to spend their honeymoon, after which they will live on a ranch in the Damascus section. Both bride and groom are well known in the county, and come of pioneer families.

Noted Actress in "The Devil's Daughter"

Theda Bara, the "Vampire Woman" stars as never before in "The Devil's Daughter," which was written by Gabriele D'Annunzio with Mlle Bara especially in mind and is based on his La Gioconda.

"I have seen you in A Fool There Was, The Clemenceau Case and Kreuzer Sonata," said the noted artist, St. Cyr, "and in each one you have looked more wicked than in the last; but I must say that as Gioconda you present a perfect type of 'Evil.' I wish you would let me paint you in that character."

The result was a wonderful painting now on private exhibition in New York. It shows Mlle. Bara's strange beauty illuminated in an unearthly reddish light while her black hair falls about a dead-white face, in serpent-like coils. Her lips blaze startlingly scarlet in her colorless countenance and her eyes have a baleful, brooding light lurking in their depths. The picture has made the art sensation of the day in New York, and will, ere long, be sent on an exhibition tour through the country and shown in the theatres playing the Fox attractions. George Du Bois, the art critic of Modern Art, says of it:—"It is the most extraordinary picture I have ever seen. I stood long before it; fascinated so that I could not move from the spot. The immense eyes with their slow smoldering fires follow you everywhere with lazy and sensuous suggestion. The effect of the whole picture is almost terrifying. 'Evil' it is well named, and it is attractive as sin."

GLADSTONE IS ALIVE

Nearby City Favors $2,000 Gymnasium and Social Center

Last week Gladstone again went on record as being one of the most progressive communities in the county, when at a meeting of taxpayers a plan for the erection of a school gymnasium and social center, to cost approximately $2,000, received practically a unanimous vote. According to plans of the proposed building, as prepared by P. D. Forbes, the structure will be 60 by 70 feet, and will be equipped with a stage and large gallery.

The meeting at which the matter was discussed was opened with a short musical program. Those who spoke were L. A. Read, principal of a Portland grade school, who discussed the advisability of a gymnasium from a teacher's standpoint; Rev. Thomas Broomfield, pastor of the Gladstone Baptist church, who took up the subject from the viewpoint of the community, and A. M. Griley, of the Portland Young Men's Christian association. Following these talks, there was much general discussion, practically all of those who spoke favoring it.

The school directors will be asked to include the erection of a gymnasium in their annual recommendations to the taxpayers. It is proposed to pay for the building with a 5 mill tax which would raise $2200.

COLD TIME COMING

Estacada Editor Glad to Announce that He Can Conserve Heat

From the number of fire places being built in this neighborhood this fall, it looks as though a hard winter was expected.

With Alex Botkin, of Garfield, as hod carrier, mason Upton of Estacada completed the building of a chimney and fire place on the remodeled Botkin house. This comfortable and home-like residence now rivals the newly built Archie Vocum house nearby.

The Irwin D. Wrights of Estacada will no longer help consume the heat from the editor's fire place on chilly evenings, as the Wright home is now being equipped with a massive fire-place, Willis Cox doing the work.

One of the allurements of the new W. F. Cary home on Terrace Addition is its fireplace and similar conveniences will be built in other homes this winter.—(Estacada Progress)

TEACHERS FAITHFUL

County Instructors Take Extension Work Very Seriously

In Clackamas county 193 teachers have received outlines for their prescribed reading circle work, and 144 teachers have been sent their certificates by the extension division of the University of Oregon, which conducts the reading circle work for the state superintendent's office. Of the whole number of public school teachers in the state, about 4500, more than 3700 have enrolled and 2750 have received certificates. The state school law now requires study of one book on a pedagogical subject each year and the taking of an informal examination on the book. The State University took over the work in some counties a year ago, and now conducts it in 33 counties.

MRS. STEVENS AT REST

Widow of Veteran Buried in Mountain View Cemetery

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Jane Stevens, who died in the county seat October 5, was held from the home of her son, George Stevens, on Wednesday of last week, interment following in Mountain View cemetery. The Rev. W. T. Milliken officiated. Mrs. Stevens was laid at rest beside the grave of her husband, the late Allen R. Stevens, a civil war veteran, who died August 8, 1914.

Mrs. Stevens was born in January 1844, in Knoxville, Tenn., and came to Oregon with her husband in the winter of 1877, locating first near Salem, and later moving with him to Oregon City. Eight children survive her: Mrs. Mollie Baker, Oregon City; Mrs. Elizabeth Newkirkner, La Grande; Mrs. Minnie Gard and Mrs. Nellie McCord, of Clarks; George Stevens, Oregon City; Fred Stevens, Lents; Lum Stevens, Bend; Barton W. Stevens, Los Angeles, Calif.

ACTIVITY IN CEMENT

Re-incorporation of Oswego Concern Brings Construction Work

To haul lime rock to the cement plants of the Portland Cement company, whose principal factory is at Oswego, the Oswego, Dallas & Roseburg railroad company has started construction of ten and a half miles of railroad leading from the quarries to the big refining plants. Two and a half miles of road will be built leading to the Oswego plant; three and a half miles to the Dallas plant, and four and a half to bring material to the Roseburg plant.

Adam Moore, head of the cement plant, last week announced this construction work, and in view of it, it is expected that active operations will soon begin at the several cement plants controlled by the company.

County to Show

Last week the county court appropriated $200 to pay for a display of this section's resources at the Manufacturers' and Land Products Show to be held in Portland, commencing late this month. Half of the sum was obtained from the prize won by the county at the State fair in Salem. George Lazelle and Mr. McGetchie, of Gladstone, will have charge of the exhibit. Eastern Clackamas county will not be represented with a district exhibit at the show, as originally planned.

Canby Sees 'Em Too

Some little excitement was occasioned Tuesday morning when a jack-rabbit went hopping along Front street. A small dog took after him and a merry chase resulted though the canine was not swift enough to overhurl his long eared friend.—(Canby Herald)

EXHIBIT IS DELAYED

Panama Slide May Defeat "Book Worms" of Southern Republic

The collier Mars, one of the largest in the United States navy, on its way to San Francisco, is held up by slides in the Panama Canal, and probably will not be able to proceed before November. The Mars had been detailed by Secretary of Navy Daniels to transport a number of the government exhibits at San Francisco to Panama, where they are to represent the United States at the National exposition which is to be opened by that country on January 21.

Among the exhibits to be carried from San Francisco to Panama are those of the Library of Congress, and the transportation of these to the tropics presents a difficult problem. In Panama there is a large white ant which might be described as the original bookworm, as it devours volumes from cover to cover, leaving only a few scraps of paper. The library exhibit includes, prints, maps and books which are practically priceless, and the officials of the library are diligently searching for means to safeguard them from the insect pests.

The Panama National Exposition is intended to commemorate the discovery of the South Seas by Balboa, and to promote friendly feeling and trade relations between all American countries. Spain and Cuba have already erected buildings upon the exposition grounds, in which they will maintain permanent commercial exhibits.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

But County Judge Anderson Thinks They Ought to Obey Mother, Too

Neighbors of Mrs. Charles Baxter, who is the mother of Lloyd Baxter, were much surprised recently to see a fiery dog run hastily away from the district inhabited by Lloyd, who is 16 years old. The dog was really fiery—his hair had been treated with kerosene and then ignited with a match. After the oil burned off, and took with it some of the canine's fur, the dog stopped running; but he did not seem anxious to return whence he had come.

Investigation by Juvenile Officer Jack Frost led the fiery trail back to Lloyd, and Jack Frost finally decided that the best thing to do with the youngster was to take him before Judge Anderson. The county judge listened to the tale of Lloyd's adventures, and then gave the boy a reprimand. After that the lad was released on condition that he would do the things that he should do, and above all else, obey his mother. Judge Anderson is willing that boys should be boys, but he thinks they ought to be good boys.

RHODES PAPERS TORPEDOED

One Set Lost With Arabic, Another With Hesperian, It is Believed

On the bottom of the Irish sea are perhaps two sets of Rhodes scholarship examination papers intended for the University of Oregon. In a letter from W. C. Burnett, assistant secretary of the local examination office at Oxford, England, it is stated that: "The first documents were dispatched at the proper time, but according to information obtained from the postoffice they went down in the Arabic. Duplicates, which were posted in Oxford September 1, appear to have been lost in the Hesperian."

The third set, however, sent out from Oxford, has reached the University safely, and the examination was held October 5 and 6, with only one candidate. His answers to the examination papers were sent to London. There they will be graded and sent back to the local committee of selection, which is composed of the presidents of the universities that have candidates.

FIREMEN FOR NEW CITY

West Linn to have Four Divisions in Department As Planned

Having raised itself to the dignity of a city, West Linn is now planning a fire department that will be able to cope with any outbreaks of the fiery-tongued demon that may occur. Four fire-halls will be erected in the city on the western bank of the Willamette, four hose-carts will be purchased, and 2,000 feet of hose will be installed as a starter. The four companies will be recruited from among volunteers, and as soon as the South Fork water is run into the city, 25 hydrants will be erected for fire use.

CROP OUTLOOK BRIGHT

Federal Report Shows that Prices in Oregon Are Lower, However

Estimates of crop production and prices for the State of Oregon, compiled by the Bureau of Crop Estimates (and transmitted through the Weather Bureau), U. S. Department of Agriculture, are as follows:

Wheat—estimate this year 17,400,000 bu., final estimate last year 16,604,000; price October 1 to producers, 76 cents; year ago, 93 cents.

Oats—production estimate October 1 is 15,500,000 bu., September 1 forecast 14,159,000, final estimate last year 12,740,000; price October 1 to producers 35 cents, year ago 42 cents.

Barley—production estimate October 1 is 4,790,000 bu., September 1 forecast 4,309,000, final estimate last year 3,850,000; price October 1 to producers 50 cents, year ago 57 cents.

Potatoes—October 1 forecast 6,100,000 bu., September 1 forecast 6,688,000 final estimate last year 4,753,000; price October 1 to producers 46 cents, per bu., year ago 64 cents.

Apples—October 1 forecast 1,060,000 bls., September 1 forecast 1,134,000 bls., final estimate last year 1,300,000 bls.; price September 15 to producers $2.55 per bl.; year ago $2.28.

West Linn will pay for this equipment out of its general fund when taxes are all collected. The city treasurer's report shows that there is now on hand $786.35, and that several thousand dollars are still to be collected upon taxes. When the tax money is all in there will be more than sufficient to meet the present liabilities, which amount to $4,895.47.
