

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All druggists, 75c.—F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

THE FASHIONS

Daytime dresses, this season, seem to have reached the height of perfection. There are the simplest of the simple, in designs for morning or street wear, and the daintiest, most airy possible of creations for afternoon and evening purposes. The typical summer dress is more charming than it has been for many a year. It is fashioned of the fascinating voiles, crepes, flouncings, and organzies favored this season, and trimmed with ribbon, lace, embroidery and beads.

Beads as Trimmings—White and Colored

China beads are particularly effective for this purpose; these are used for yokes, collars, cuffs and for girdles. For the taffeta afternoon dress the beads are in colors or white, according to their application. One of the smartest of the imported frocks shown in New York this season, was a dark blue taffeta, trimmed with these white opaque beads arranged in conventional designs on skirt yoke, cuffs and collar. An extremely simple, long-lined dress of Lanvin's in tan gabardine, was effectively finished by a narrow woven girde of beads in the vivid Indian colored suede, soft or vivid, according to the tone of the material, encircle skirt or coat of the sport costume, and the simple serge or linen frock may be girdled as soberly or as gorgeously as Fancy dictates, and Fashion advises Fancy to be gorgeously inclined. Birds, bees, butterflies, and colored moths are being embroidered on frock and blouse, the bluebird being especially favored for light-toned linens and cottons.

Trimming the Small Girls' Dresses

Especially are these bluebirds favored for the little girl's white frock. The only thing to bear in mind, when using these motifs, is that the design must be small and the effect dainty. Featherstitching and cross-stitch are both being used effectively on children's garments and here again we see the effect of color, for in children's fashions there is the same demand for brightness. Fashion says that small people shall be dressed quaintly and prettily, that is all, and leaves us to work our own salvation. This is not difficult as materials are so charming and inexpensive. There are figured and flowered dimities, dainty striped batistes and lawns, fascinating voiles and crepes, patterned in quaint designs, and the popular embroidered flouncings. Challis and mixed fabrics are being used in the jumper dresses for the small girl, combined with guimpes, white or colored. These little dresses are often piped with emerald green or turkey red.

Breakfast Gown and House Dress

Not the least important detail, by any means, in the well-dressed woman's wardrobe, is the house dress. It may be the morning dress of the woman who merely supervises her household, or it may be the workaday dress of the woman who really keeps her own house, but it is as necessary as the afternoon frock or the evening gown. Fashion, too, takes a hand in its designing, cleverly introducing each season little innovations which make for comfort, convenience, and becomingness. As the home is the woman's business, the house dress marks her as efficient or inefficient.

The novelty cottons and linens are effectively used in these dresses, a figured material being trimmed with a plain, and vice versa. The breakfast dress illustrated is fashioned of a daintily figured voile, with ribbon-edged cape collar of plain white voile. The house dress, which could quite as well serve for a street frock, developed in serge or linen, is fashioned of dark blue madras, trimmed with bands of white voile. Both designs are simple, practical and becoming.

Maple Lane School Notes

The past month has been one of successful activity at the Maple Lane school, as is shown by notes sent to The Courier by Gerda Wesenberg and Ralph Gage, president and secretary respectively of the student debating class.

On Friday, April 13, the senior debating class elected officers and concluded the meeting with a debate on the question: "Resolved, that the women of today have more to do than the women of a hundred years ago." A general vote gave the honor of the debate to the affirmative team, consisting of Lorena Kleinsmith, Ollie Aman, James Stewart, Ralph Gage, Gerda Wesenberg, Lois Pagenkopf, Harold Lindahl, Kate Horton and Ruth Horton. The negative team included Eugene Schmidt, Herman Jesser, Irving Nelson, Marion Ginther, Junia Schmidt, Margaret Ahlberg, Geneva Benson and Raymond Hadley. The question selected for the next debate is: "Resolved that Grant was a greater general than Lee."

C. F. Anderson, a former school supervisor, visited the school during the month and delivered a very interesting address.

F. W. Parker, a Spokane, Wash., businessman, spent an afternoon at the school recently and the talk he made to the pupils was one of the most instructive of the year.

Mr. Dimick was at the school for a short time on Friday afternoon, and gave the pupils some timely advice on how to meet the teacher who will take charge of the school next fall. Mr. Ginther, the present teacher, leaves this spring after presiding for four years.

She Grows Nervous at Nightfall

More dreaded than an alarm of fire by night is the hoarse, brassy cough of croup to the nervous mother who fears this terror of childhood. Why worry, when a few timely doses of Foley's Honey and Tar will ward off croup and clear the throat of choking phlegm. It will give you confidence to face nightfall without fear of croup. Mrs. Ben Meyerink, Clymer, N. Y., says: "Our little girl would surely have had croup but Foley's Honey and Tar stopped it at once."—Jones' Drug Co.

GLADSTONE PEOPLE MEET

Will Take Drastic Steps With Erring Councilmen

That the good citizens of Gladstone are to have something to say about the manner in which their aldermanic representatives attend to their duties by refusing to attend council meetings, is evident from the fact that a citizen's mass meeting was held at Gladstone on Monday evening to discuss ways and means of bringing the colorings; this girde was weighted with two heavy tassels, and was caught loosely about the normal waistline, knotted and allowed to fall nearly to the skirt hem on left side. The girde composed the only bit of contrast on the dress and the effect was charming.

A white bead girde on an afternoon or a dance frock of net is most effective too; the China beads may be used, or the glittering crystal beads. These woven girdles give us an excellent opportunity to put into use the knowledge of bead weaving which the majority of us gained when bead embroidery was so popular a form of fancy work, some years ago. One may use her own ideas as to color combinations, this being another chance for developing personality in dress. The use of color is undoubtedly the greatest factor in obtaining the desired note of the season, therefore, one should not hesitate to use color in effective combinations, in ribbon, braids and embroidery of all kinds; the touch of handwork is introduced on frock, blouse and suit, anywhere and everywhere possible.

The daytime dress of serge, natural linen or taffeta, is rendered doubly becoming by a bit of vivid wool or bead embroidery, and the evening frock, no matter how simple, is a thing of glitter and sparkle. One should not be afraid of oddity, as long as it is harmonious.

The Return of Belts

As girdles and belts of all descriptions are smart again this year, it will not be a difficult matter to introduce the required bit of color. Wide and narrow girdles of ribbon are smart; narrow strap belts of errant city fathers back into the paths of rectitude.

A committee consisting of H. E. Cross, Irving Rau and H. E. Williams, was named to present the views of the citizens to Councilmen Goodman, Parrish and Clyde, who are named as those who have failed to attend meetings of the council, and have made it impossible, thereby, to transact legal business. The regular meeting of the city council is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, and it was the decision at the recent citizen's meeting to start a recall movement if the absentees were not present at that time. The meeting held on Monday was a business-like event, but the correction of the absent councilmen was none the less strongly demanded.

Henric Society Meets

The Henric Literary society held a lively meeting last Friday evening and a large attendance greatly enjoyed the event. A first class program was rendered and among the entertainers was "Magical" Meyrick, a slight-of-hand performer.

The contest was one of a series and is the fourth weekly event of this kind at the school. Special honors for ability are given to Conrad Vierhus of the winning team and Harry Romig of the negative contenders, whose mate in the contest held on Monday was Jack Swan. The judges of the event were Miss Matley, Miss Harding and F. Olsen, members of the high school faculty.

Jersey Sale Day Set

A joint sale by members of the Columbia Jersey Cattle club will be held somewhere within the territory of the club on June 15, and it is expected that nearly 100 animals will be entered for sale. The club comprises Jersey breeders in Clackamas, Multnomah, Columbia and Clatsop counties and was organized for the purpose of increasing the popularity of that breed in its territory and throughout the state. It is considered probably that the sale will be held either at Portland or at the Multnomah county fair grounds at Gresham. The event is to be in charge of the club's executive committee, consisting of H. Thiessen, president; Harry West, vice-president; W. H. Cleveland, secretary and H. H. Samuels.

High School Students Debate

One of the most interesting debates of the year was that held at the Oregon City high school on Monday in which the affirmative student team showed to the satisfaction of the judges that military training in the colleges and high schools of the nation was advisable. The winning team, comprising Gordon Fauley and
