

Saved Her Life

The unqualified endorsement of Fruitola and Traxo in a recent letter from Mrs. S. Grindle, 5918 Mignonette St., Pittsburg, Pa., will be of interest to other sufferers from stomach and intestinal troubles. Mrs. Grindle says:

"The doctors had given me up, saying the only hope left was an operation. I tried Fruitola and passed hundreds of gall-stones with the first two bottles. Am now feeling better than I have for years past. I will be glad to tell any sufferer how it has helped me, for I owe my life to it."

Fruitola possesses properties that act directly upon the intestinal parts, softening the congested waste and disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, and expels the accumulation to the great relief of the patient. Traxo is a tonic-alterative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices, to aid digestion and removes bile from the general circulation. It serves to build up the weakened, run-down system.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through representative druggists. In Oregon City, Portland, Canby and Hubbard they can be obtained at Huntley Brothers Company's Drug stores.

THE FASHIONS

There is something particularly appealing to the dainty, well-groomed woman, about ribbon-trimmed, be-frilled petticoats; they cannot be banished for long from the wardrobe. This season the petticoat has returned in all its old-time fullness, to keep our airy, bouffant frocks in countenance.

Paris sends us, of course, the daintiest possible of linen, hand-embroidered, lace-trimmed, ribbon-banded novelties, many of them so extremely fascinating that one is tempted to wear the sheerest of organdy, chiffon or Georgette frocks in order that their beauty may be shown. Many of these petticoats are boned, corded or wired, in order that the frocks, under which they are worn, may have the proper swing. For the dance there are net and taffeta creations, made with petal upon petal, in rose-like formation, the edges of the petaled ruffles pinked or picoted. For the organdy afternoon frock, the slip is favored, of net and organdy, lace and ribbon-trimmed. The bodice of the slip is usually a straight, wide band of ribbon, lace or a dainty embroidery founcing, held in place with shoulder straps of ribbon or lace. It is not unusual to see a frilly petticoat of dark blue or red taffeta, the ruffles pinked and finished with an inset or edge of white Valenciennes, or similar lace edge.

The Underbodice

The underbodice, to keep pace with the petticoat must be very dainty indeed. In a dark blue taffeta petticoat, the skirt portion is attached at the normal waistline to a pale pink moire bodice. The bodice is merely a straight band of moire ribbon held over the shoulders by narrow pink ribbons. The upper edge of the bodice is effectively trimmed with small silk rosebuds.

Breakfast Coat and Petticoat

One of the novelties of the season is the breakfast set consisting of coat, petticoat and bodice cap. The coat and skirt illustrated here show a particularly good combination; the coat is developed in pongee, and the skirt is of taffeta, banded in the same taffeta, the bands edged with narrow Valenciennes lace. The deep strap pockets on the coat give it the appearance of a sport garment. A charming little cap of net and ribbon completes the set most attractively. Many of these sets are developed in plain materials, voile, wash satin, lawn and the like, and are trimmed with bands, collars, cuffs and pockets of the charmingly colored cretonne. A cap banded in cretonne is practical and becoming.

Novel Ideas in Negligees

Negligees and petticoats for the June bride are dainty and fascinating to a degree. The negligees are simple and most becoming. Chiffon or crepe Georgette are the materials most favored for these airy garments, destined for the bride or the woman who has time to luxuriate in their charm. Pale blue, with touches of gold or yellow; rose pink, with a touch of orchid at girdle or throat; white, with pale green, and similar combinations selected to harmonize with eyes and hair. It is not unusual to find the negligee of chiffon, belted with a crush girdle of roses, or other artificial flowers; it is an attractive and artistic notion. The combining of several tones in the girdle, is another pretty way of introducing interesting combinations; for instance, a pale pink negligee is girdled with a wide sash, having long ends of several folds of vari-colored net or maline, in pink, blue, orchid and similar French colorings.

Bayadere Striped Skirt

For sports and morning wear, the awning striped materials, linens, ducks, and canvas weaves are particularly well liked. The stripes may run up and down, or around the figure as shown here. The skirt is fashioned of linen, combining several of the vivid colors now modish, and is worn with a shirt blouse of voile with vest of the linen. The square neck is a becoming feature. Among the simple waist models of the summer are many with the outside plelups. These are of voile, organdy or Georgette, in pink, blue, pale green and similar shades, intended for wear with skirts of black taffeta or with white and colored wash skirts. Pongee is also favored for these outside blouses. Tiny buttons, steel, gilt or gunmetal, and a belt of black or colored ribbon are about the only trimming for these unless it be a second collar of a contrasting shade.

Collars and cuffs are interesting details of blouses; the cuffs usually fit tightly about the wrist, flaring becomingly over the hands. The open throat is of course the modish arrangement for summer, although most of the shirtwaists and other blouses are made with the adjustable collar which may be worn high or low, as fancied.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Oregon City Citizens Show A Way

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what an Oregon City woman says:

Mrs. Harry Brant, 1004 Ninth St., Oregon City, says: "I had been troubled by my back and kidneys for several years. My back nearly killed me at times, it pained me so. I could hardly straighten up when I got down in a stooping position. I also had more or less trouble from my kidneys. I had heard Doan's Kidney Pills recommended so highly that I got a box and found them beneficial."

Tatro and Mr. Olson of the Oregon City high school, were starter and recording secretary respectively.

MARSHAL AMES PRAISED

Estacada Officer Arrests Man Who Looks Like Ristman

Marshal A. G. Ames of Estacada on Monday arrested a stranger in that community whom he thought to be the missing chauffeur who piloted the murderer of Mrs. Helen Jennings, whose life was taken on her Washington county farm last week. Marshal Ames communicated with Portland officers and when they went to the Estacada jail they found a counterpart of the missing Fred Ristman.

"Marshal Ames is to be congratulated upon the capture of this suspect," said Deputy Sheriff Bob Phillips of Multnomah county, when he had seen the man taken into custody by the Clackamas county officer. "The man arrested bore perfect resemblance to Ristman's picture. He mumbled brokenly in what seemed to be French or German. Ristman had a knowledge of both languages. He wore a blue chambray shirt, such as Ristman wore the night he disappeared."

Thompson, who was suspected of the murder was arrested at St. Johns last Wednesday evening. He affirms his innocence and has attempted to prove an alibi.

CANBY PASSES BONDS

Special City Election Brings Out Good Vote

At a special election in that city on Friday the citizens of Canby voted, by large majorities, to authorize the city council to issue bonds for $18,000 for the construction or purchase of a city water works, and at the same time approved the new city charter which has been prepared by the council and city attorney. The water works question carried with a vote of 178 to 58 and the new charter was adopted by a vote of 188 to 51.

The means by which the water works is to be acquired is left largely with the city council. The present system is owned by M. J. Lee and it is more than probable that this system will be purchased by the aldermanic body, if an agreement as to price can be made.

The new charter which was adopted does not differ materially from that by which the city has been governed in the past. It was prepared for the sole purpose of correcting several mistakes which existed in the former constitution.

SCHOOL MASTERS MEET

Final Session of Year to be Held at Clackamas

Starting with a big banquet at the dinner hour in the evening the final meeting for the year of the Clackamas School Master's club will be held at Clackamas on Saturday, at an hour selected that will not interfere with participation in the Booster day festivities in Oregon City.

The last meeting is to be an interesting one and will be featured by the presentation of an operetta by the pupils of the Clackamas school, under the direction of Mrs. Critser. This is to be the same offering as was staged recently in Oregon City.

H. C. Seymour, state leader of industrial club work for the Oregon Agricultural college, will discuss activities along the line of the work he is directing and will endeavor to create even a greater interest in the club movement. George F. Thompson, member of the Clackamas school board, will deliver an address during the evening.

Election Boards

Bull Run, Ore., May 20.—To the Editor: I should like space in your paper to ask the court some questions. I should like to know why a member of the board of election for Bull Run precinct came to my brother's house at 9:30 o'clock on May 19 and telephoned to Mr. Aschoff, six miles away, to come and serve as clerk on the board. I know of several who registered as socialist that were recommended for appointment; I do not know of one that was appointed. If that is the reason why they sent six miles away for a clerk when there was a majority of republicans on the board I am proud to register as a socialist.

M. V. THOMAS.

What is America expected to do? She is expected to do nothing less than keep law alive while the rest of the world burns.—Woodrow Wilson.

To the People of Clackamas County:

I desire at this time to express my thanks and appreciation to those of you who supported me for the nomination of one of the representatives to Legislature from this county, in the primary on May 19th, and I hereby pledge you my word and honor as a man that if I am elected in November, that every pledge I made upon the stump during the campaign, will be faithfully lived up to and fulfilled.

I know what a struggle many of the young and old people of this county are having to carry the burden of our high taxation; I know that there are a great many who can hardly stand up under this burden. I realize that I am not a boy any longer, and it is my heartfelt desire and wish to serve the people in an honorable way and to do something to relieve their present burden in this regard, and I have made up my mind that if the people of this county trust me with their vote and support, and honor me with their confidence, and elect me as one of their representatives, that I will go to Salem, and make the best fight that I am capable of making along the lines of reducing taxation and abolishing Commissions and cutting down expenses of state and county government, and rid the state of a lot of these tax eating and blood sucking commissions and many useless office holders who are of no use to the public nor to the tax payers.

I am quite sure I know what the people in this county want, and I also am quite well aware that if they get what they want that it means a fight and I have no doubt in my mind that with the support of the other representatives from this county and Senator Dimick's able assistance, that by united and harmonious efforts that we can save the people of this county and state several millions of dollars in cutting down appropriations and in repealing the laws creating the unnecessary commissions above referred to. This, I certainly for one will do my best to accomplish.

It does not make any difference what my enemies may say to you behind my back, this letter I am writing, this pledge I am making in full view of the public, and signing my name to it as a candidate and as a citizen of Clackamas county, and this obligation, regardless of whatever criticism may be made of me in the newspapers, publicly or behind my back, I will in the open publicly keep, if I am elected in the November election, and I will produce the results that the people want, with the aid of my associates from this county. I ask my friends and my enemies as well, to keep this article and file it away, and see, in case I am elected, whether this obligation is not fully kept and performed.

Sincerely yours,
GEO. C. BROWNELL.

Big Time at Portland

Portland's 1916 Rose Festival will feature Broadway, one of its leading business thoroughfares, as the grand promenade and court of honor for the 1916 Rose Festival.

Broadway from Washington to Main street will be beautifully decorated. Electrical designs will hang from street intersections and at Main street a huge arch will be built to serve as the main entrance gates to the festival center, where 80,000 square feet will be given over to a magnificent floral display featuring the electrical rose fountain.

The festival queen is to be crowned the evening of June 6 at 8 p. m. This will enable the ruler of the fiesta to ride crowned in the children's parade the morning of June 7.

Since there will be thousands of visitors in Portland several days before the opening of the show, the festival center will be thrown open at 6 p. m. the evening of June 6. The queen will receive the keys of the city from Mayor Albee an hour later and at 8 p. m. will be crowned.

LIVESTOCK MEN COME

Praise Booster Day Spirit and Commend Local Show

O. M. Plummer and L. R. McGee, prominently identified with the livestock industry of this state, will attend the Booster day celebration in this city on Saturday, and have spoken words of praise for the stock show which will be a feature of the program for the day.

Mr. Plummer is secretary of the Portland Union Stockyards company and Mr. McGee is the assistant secretary. The gentlemen are well-known to Clackamas county stockmen because of their active connection with both the buying and selling end of the largest stock market on the coast. Their attendance on Saturday was announced by C. M. McAllister, field worker for the stockyards company, who was here on Tuesday. Mr. McAllister repeated the words of Mr. Plummer when he expressed his opinion of the importance of the show that is to be held here. It is larger in scope than even those who designed it had imagined and the prizes offered are as good or better than those offered at any other show in the state, with the possible exception of the state fair.

Mr. McAllister will not attend the show because of previous engagements in other parts of the state, but according to that gentleman, Mr. Plummer and Mr. McGee have already taken a great interest in the show and will participate therein. Mr. McAllister's personal interest in the event is evidenced by his posting a prize of $5 for the most able judge of cattle among the school boys and girls of the county.

Favors Experiment

Clover pasture may save approximately 23 pounds of grain in production of each 100 pounds of pork. The feeding experiments conducted by the O. A. C. Experiment Station brought out this fact.

In the experiment two lots of ten pigs each, which had previously run on clover pasture, were fed for forty-two days a mixture of barley and tankage in the ratio of 92 to 8. Lot 1 was fed in the dry lot and lot 2 on clover pasture. The first lot made an average daily gain of 1.545 pounds per head, requiring 3.89 pounds of feed per pound of gain. The pigs on the clover ate more feed and made more and cheaper gains.

The results of this experiment along with that of twenty-two others is copied in the U. S. Experiment Station Record quoted from the bulletin on pig feeding experiments covering the last eight years, as written by Dr. Withycombe, E. L. Potter and G. R. Samson. The very unusually large space allotted to quotations from the College bulletin shows the estimate of its worth held by representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture.
