LIBERAL

Farmers are smiling as a result of the heavy showers falling, for the grain surely does need the rain.
Quite a lot of hay is down and a few have their early hay in barn. Fall wheat and rye is all headed and the prospects are for a light crop.

STONE

Stone is still on the map and probably will remain there, for the older residents are not favorable to the plan of changing the name of the community to Carver.
Our fathers got along with the name of Stone, so why shouldn't we, seems to be the opinion here.
