

NEWS OF THE COUNTY AND SUBURBS

Local and County Items of Interest to Courier Readers

CLARKES

Ed Grace baled hay for C. H. Bergman last week.
Miss Ida Zwahlen and her friend from Oregon City visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Zwahlen last week.
Buol Bros. are cutting their grain on the Marquardt place.
Mr. Frazz is working for Sam Elmer during harvest.
Miss Ruby Gard spent Sunday with Miss Hazel Ringo.

Miss Engle Bergman came home from Portland last week.
W. H. Bottmiller has been cutting his oats.
Ben Staats was in Portland last week.

Miss Bernice Gard spent Sunday with Miss Agnes Nelson.
Mrs. Irene Payer from Oregon City and her cousin, Miss Stevens, are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Lee, and Irene's brother, Walter Lee, for a short time.

G. Marquardt is making hay.
Jason Clarke hauled a load of chicken feed out from town for Mr. Sullivan last week.

Mrs. Staats was in Oregon City and stayed with her son, B. Staats, and family, last week.
Miss Elizabeth Marshall, Esther Staats, Margaret Leichtweis, Ben Staats, Charles Marshall, and Albert Schiewe were at the camp meeting at Troutdale last Sunday.

The Clarkes Gospel team held a meeting at Highland last Sunday.
Miss Florence Stromgreen of Colton has gone to work at Cannon Beach for a month.

Mrs. Goff and daughters, Sylvia and Alma, went to Nebraska last week.
Ed Bottmiller and family from Oregon City visited Rev. Hawkins and family last Sunday.

Mr. Goff and daughter, Ruby, moved to Grants Pass last week.
Rev. Hawkins and family intend to return to Oregon City by Wednesday.

Miss Lydia Klein Smith came home last week.
Miss Mary Bottmiller visited Miss Esther Staats last Tuesday.

Ed. Buol and family visited W. H. Bottmiller and family last Sunday.
Henning Klang is working for C. H. Bergman during harvest time.

Christ Kinzy from Canby was in Clarkes and visited friends last week.

He Could Hardly Walk

Kidney trouble manifests itself in many ways. Rheumatism, aches and pains, soreness and stiffness are common symptoms. Ambrose Gary, Sulphur, Okla., writes: "I was bothered with kidney trouble ten years and at times could hardly walk. Three months ago I began taking Foley Kidney Pills. I got relief from the first bottle but continued to take them till I had taken three bottles. I feel like a new man. It is a wonderful medicine." No harmful drugs.—Jones Drug Co.

EAST CLACKAMAS

W. F. Mundehone and family attended tent meetings at Clackamas Sunday.

A. Kelenhofer and wife visited in their old home Sunday and also took a trip to the Gresham country.

Mrs. W. Kneeland and children, Wilma and Paul, attended tent meetings at Clackamas Sunday.

Mrs. E. R. Boyer entertained at her birthday dinner last Wednesday the following people: Helen Bennett, Mrs. Grace Gottberg, Alma Shultz, of Oregon City, and Mrs. Edith Shultz, of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Frank Keisner, of Portland, is painting at the Zigzag ranch for Mr. Haberlach.

A. Dase is in the Logan country helping his father in the harvest field.

Last Wednesday night about 30 people visited. Mr. and Mrs. John Heinrich, after they returned from their wedding trip, to help them complete the occasion. The guests were fed upon watermelon until all said "nuff," after wishing the couple a smooth voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Miss Bernice Gottberg of Oregon City, is spending the week with her friend, Edna Boyer.

A. Kelenhofer and wife were callers at Cedar Springs Sunday evening.

Ralph and Earl Boyer are thinking of joining the wood thrushers' union. They are shingling at Clackamas.

The hum of the threshing machine is heard on every hand now and we understand the grain is turning out fairly well. It has been a great year for both grain and spuds.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cooper, of Oregon City, were picking blackberries at Cedar Springs last Sunday.

The E. C. S. C. met with Mrs. E. R. Boyer last week. A good attendance was treated to good music by Miss Alma Lisberg of Oregon City. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. P. S. Deshields' home two weeks from last Wednesday.

REDLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Zeisler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harnish and family and Mr. and Mrs. F. Bargheld were out from Portland and had dinner at L. Funk's last Sunday.

A large crowd of young folks surprised Miss Clara Fullam Saturday night in honor of Miss Louise Catrox, of Canby. The time was pleasantly spent in games, cards and music and finished up with the refreshments.

Joe Crawford lost one of his horses the past week and is now in the market for a horse of about 1300 pounds.

Miss Sublette, of Portland, is a visitor at Ethel Frink's home.

Quite a number of our people attended the union Sunday school picnic held at Logan Grange grounds last Sunday.

We have had no deaths, births or weddings lately but two of our young folks separated after a year of married bliss, which seems too bad as both parties were young and if let alone would probably have made the rifle.

Art Funk and wife, Lloyd Allen and Hazel Kerr and D. C. Fouts and family composed an automobile party that toured over the Columbia highway recently. They are very enthusiastic about its beauties.

D. Scheff is building an addition to his house.

Haying has been a long and tiresome season, owing to the wet weather. Considerable clover was ruined, consequently a lot of grain was cut for hay.

Kohl brothers of Logan baled about 100 ton of hay on the Ripley place last week, but have laid off until after threshing.

CHERRYVILLE

The summer season is gone with every indication of a continuation of the dry, warm weather.

The campers and hunters are roaming all over the hills and seem to be enjoying life to the utmost. To the city bred man this kind of an outing is a great pastime and a wonderful improvement to his physical condition.

The ranchers have secured a big crop of feed for the coming winter and still have a good second crop of clover to cut.

A recent issue of the Courier contains an account of a late cherry being propagated in the valley, which, on account of its ripening so late, will bring big prices. In the Bohemian settlement south and west of this place there are several cherry trees that are so late that the crop has been gathered here less than ten days ago.

Lenhart, on Lenhart's butte, has a standing offer from a Portland firm for all his late cherries at ten cents a pound.

There will be a neighborhood fair held at the schoolhouse on Thursday of next week, September 7. A variety of articles and products will be placed on exhibition for which prizes will be given. A fine garden exhibit will be made, proving the value of this land under proper conditions and with the right care. This season has proved more conclusively the great worth of the Oregon improved pole lima bean. They are, in some gardens, more than twelve feet high and still growing.

The republicans will have to make more headway than they yet get if they are going to sweep the country on November, as they have been bringing all along they were going to do. With factional fights in the great states of New York, Pennsylvania and California they certainly have blue ruin staring them in the face. It is to be presumed that Oregon will vote to the old standpatters and a more ridiculous sight cannot be imagined than a poor one-gallus "hill billy" voting with the standpatters.

MT. PLEASANT

Since our last writing we are sorry to say the community has lost two of its most noble women and mothers, Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. Schmitke.

The Mt. Pleasant dancing club spent a very pleasant evening last Saturday at the hall here.

W. B. Lawton is building a new garage and will install a gasoline tank.

and other conveniences for the traveling public.

Miss Eula Brown left on Tuesday for a camping trip to the Horst brothers' hop yard at Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley are enjoying a pleasant visit from the former's nephew from Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Joehne of Oregon City, accompanied by their little daughter, spent the week-end with friends here.

John Danneman of Portland spent the week-end with Douglass King.

Mr. Hartke is building a new 80-ton silo.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Snook are the proud possessors of a new automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Warner, Mrs. A. L. King, Misses Ernestine and Hermenia King were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stoffer of Redland on Monday.

Mrs. H. E. Cochran of El Paso, Texas, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Maxwell.

Miss Leona Kellogg leaves today for Walla Walla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Lawton were surprised last Saturday evening by a host of friends. The occasion was Mrs. Lawton's birthday anniversary.

VIOLA

The Jubb brothers will do their share of the threshing here in the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Peterson, of California, and Mrs. J. Randolph and daughter, Norma, went to Seattle on Wednesday to visit relatives and friends. They travel by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eaden and children from Logan made their parents at the store a visit on Sunday.

Miss Pearl Robinson, of Montavilla, who has been with friends at Viola for a week, returned to her home on Tuesday.

Mrs. M. L. Sevier is camping at the Klachet mill, where her husband is employed.

Viola was well represented at Logan on Sunday at the Union Sunday school gathering. The talks that were given were very instructive. The singing by the Aldredge quartette of Oregon City and A. Johnson, of Logan, and John Loder of Oregon City and his helpers, was splendid. It is too bad that more people are not interested in such splendid gatherings.

T. Jubb has put one coat of paint on the school fence and will put on another soon.

"Grandma" Tenny, who has been with her daughter, Mrs. A. Allen, of Redland for a visit, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Miller, at present.

The smiling face of O. Hollingsworth of Gladstone is seen in our midst again. He is helping his kin-folk during harvest.

LOGAN

C. E. Spence, master of the Oregon state grange, will speak at the harvest picnic on September 16 on the subjects of rural credit, tax limitation and other things of great interest to the farmer. Judge H. S. Anderson will probably speak on county affairs.

The picnic has been arranged to celebrate the close of an abundant and prosperous harvest season and all are invited to come and help rejoice. There will be games, races, a good program and probably an interesting ball game, as T. E. Anderson, manager of the C. C. C. team, will try to get the boys together for the occasion. There will be refreshments on the ground.

The golden grain is being fast gathered into the granaries and satisfactory yields are reported.

One of Edwin Gerber's horses recently met with a peculiar misfortune. The hired man, when driving up the cows in the evening, happened to see his head sticking out of the straw pile and with difficulty helped him out. He was wet with sweat from his struggles.

GREENWOOD

Farmers in this vicinity are about through with their threshing.

There will be a social at Central Point church on Saturday evening, September 2, under the auspices of the Epworth League. Everybody is invited.

Mrs. Martin Thomson, who has been the guest of Mrs. William Thomson for the past few weeks, has gone to Skamokawa, Wash., to visit relatives.

Mrs. Wm. Breaker enjoyed a visit Sunday from Mrs. Creitsler of Willamette.

Mrs. Meredith of Oregon City, mother of P. W. Meredith, was a Greenwood visitor several days this week.

Many people of this vicinity are making preparations to go to the hop yards.

Miss Metta Hyatt, of Mt. Pleasant, was a caller at the home of Mrs. Richard Braker recently.

EAGLE CREEK

Mrs. Walter Douglass and daughters, Mildred and Florine Douglass, were week-end guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Norval Kirchmeyer, of Logan.

Mrs. Cora Udell called on Mrs. R. B. Gibson the other day.

Joey Woodie has been over with his brother, Ray, the past week.

J. Kirchmeyer, of Sellwood, was at Eagle Creek recently.

Mr. Dhulst made a trip to Portland one day last week.

Mrs. T. C. McKay called on Mrs. Viola Douglass Friday afternoon.

D. Beckett and daughter, Miss Veero, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Beckett were guests at the farm home on Sunday.

Mr. Davis, of Logan, came through here last Friday gathering up eggs for the Portland market.

DAIRY WISDOM.

Flies are particularly vicious now during the warm days. Protect the cows in some way, as the toll the flies take is large.

The silo and dairying always go together. The silo when rightly used will help to make the cows more profitable.

The way to secure a good dairy herd is to breed it and produce it on the farm rather than to depend upon purchases every season.

In keeping cows never be without clover. It is one of the foods essential to good dairying.

A herd of good dairy cows is the best insurance against hard times or a slump in prosperity.

SWEET CREAM BEST FOR BUTTERMILK

In general the souring of cream is an indication of its age and condition under which it has been kept, writes O. W. Holmes in Better Farming. Very sour cream, then, naturally indicates that the cream is very old or has been kept at too high a temperature. In the creamery it makes little difference whether the cream is very sour from old age or temperature, for in neither case can the cream be made into first class butter. The market value of cream does not depend on the percentage of fat alone, but on the sourness or percentage of acid as well.

Sour cream generally results from the lack of immediate or thorough cooling after separation. Investigation shows that sweet cream of a good quality can be produced on the average farm with but little extra labor and expense. Many farmers are now delivering sweet cream only and at that make only two or three deliveries a week. These farmers, of course, are taking advantage of the natural ice they stored during the winter.

Other farmers are resorting to the use of running water, a tank, a cool spring or well or a cool, well ventilated cellar, which greatly assists in making

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

The Brown Swiss are probably the oldest of the dairy breeds. They have been raised in Switzerland as far back as the history of that country dates. They are recognized as one of the major dairy breeds in this country, although they are not so numerous as the other breeds.

SCHOOL OPENING!

Our schools will soon be opening for the coming term. You will want your boys and girls to LOOK THEIR BEST. We are well prepared for their wants

Shoes, Clothing Hosiery

We are offering some BIG SPECIALS all this week in SHOES and CLOTHING

See our Boys' Solid Leather School Shoes

sizes 8 to 5½, While They Last at $1.98

ADAMS DEPT. STORE

OREGON CITY'S BUSY STORE

MILLION DOLLARS ALLOTTED

Plans Announced for Work Under the New Federal Road Act

Secretary Houston has just announced the plan to be pursued in spending the ten million dollars appropriated by the Federal Aid Road act for the construction and maintenance of roads and trails within or partly within national forests, and has tentatively allotted among the various National Forest states the million dollars which is expendable this fiscal year.

The tentative allotments to the principal National Forest states are as follows: Oregon, $127,794; Alaska, $46,280; Arizona, $59,795; Arkansas, $11,294; California, $140,763; Colorado, $62,335; Idaho, $108,010; Montana, $89,901; Nevada, $19,195; New Mexico, $42,622; South Dakota, $8,115; Utah, $40,982; Washington, $91,739; Wyoming, $40,566. In addition a total of $9,552 has been tentatively assigned to Florida, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, and Oklahoma, while the Eastern states—Maine, New Hampshire, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Georgia—in which the government is purchasing lands for national forests, have been allotted $21,057. Oregon gets a greater sum than any other state except California, less than $13,000 more than this state.

"In general," said Secretary Houston, "the states and counties will be required to furnish cooperation in an amount at least equal to 50 per cent of the estimated cost of the surveys and construction. However, upon a satisfactory showing by the applicant state or county that such proportion of cooperation is inequitable, it may be altered and the ratio of cooperation fixed upon a basis equitable to both the state or county and the United States."

The method followed in apportioning the money was explained by Secretary Houston as follows: Ten per cent of the amount available each year will be withheld as a contingent fund. One-half of the remainder will be allotted to the states in amount which will be based on the area of national forest lands in each state. The other half will be apportioned on a basis of estimated value of timber and forage resources which the forests contain. Amounts apportioned but unexpended within three years, and any balance of the contingent fund which remains unapportioned at the end of each year, will be reapportioned on the same basis as the original allotments.

BORING GETS VOTER

Happy Marriage Brings New Democrat to Community

The town of Boring has another democratic voter. J. W. Stone, a well known farmer of that community, took home a bride last week and Mr. Stone rejoices, for she is, like himself, a democrat.

Mrs. Stone was, until recently, Miss Helen Doyle, formerly of Ohio, and of strong democratic beliefs, although she could not vote there. The marriage took place at Vancouver, Wash., Thursday.

For years Mr. Stone was the only democratic voter in Boring and election after election he voted the democratic ticket alone. Things have changed of late, however, and Boring has a number of democrats.

Mrs. Stone has the distinction of being the first woman to pass through the Cumberland Gap tunnel. This was some 27 years ago and after the final blast she walked through the long bore on the North Carolina-Tennessee-Virginia line.

R. L. Holman, Leading Undertaker, Fifth and Main St.; Telephones: Pacific 415-J; Home B-18.

The Courier and the Daily Journal $4.75.

MARKET IS GOOD

Report from Portland Indicates Heavy Run of Cattle for Week

There was a good run of cattle at the Portland livestock market, beginning on Monday with 1150 head. Cows were in very good demand and prices were 15 to 25 cents higher. There was a very liberal offering of steers, but they found a rather slow sale. Prices were 15 to 25 cents lower. Prime heavy steers sold at $6.75, which was 25 cents under last week's top price. The bulk of steers sold at $6 and $6.50, the quality not being as good as last week. Cows were of very good quality, with the bulk selling, as a rule, over the 5 cent mark. There were a number of loads sold at $5.35 and $5.40. Bulls and calves sold steadily.

The hog supply was rather limited on Monday, 1800 head starting the day's trading. There was a fairly good demand from all buyers and a brisk trade ruled. Prices were steady to a dime higher. Tops sold at $9.85 with the bulk sales at $9.75 and $9.85.

Sheep house trading for the week was confined to a couple of loads of lambs. All classes of sheep were in good demand. The choice grade lambs are quoted at $8 and $8.25; best yearlings at $6.50 and prime light ewes at $5.25 and $5.50.

DIRE DISTRESS

It is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Oregon City Readers

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is often the kidney's cry for help.

Neglect hurrying to the kidney's aid. Means that urinary troubles may follow.

Or danger of worse kidney trouble. Here's Oregon City testimony.

Mrs. Henry Larsen, 905 John Adams St., Oregon City, says: