CHERRYVILLE

Winter has begun—especially this rain.

The question for discussion at the lyceum this week is "Resolved, that there should be an embargo on food-stuffs at once."

Sam Miles' valuable Scotch shepherd dog, "Scotty," which disappeared about a month ago, was discovered last week at an isolated ranch near Sandy. It appears that he came there with a broken leg about two weeks ago and the kind-hearted rancher cared for him until the owner learned of his whereabouts and came after him.

The 76th anniversary of the birth of J. T. Freel, Sr., was celebrated at his home a short distance east of the postoffice last Friday. His daughter, Mrs. Kirby of Portland, was present, also his daughters here, Mrs. Murray and Mrs. Allen, and Mrs. St. Clair of Dover and his son, Jerry. Mr. Freel is a Civil War veteran.

(Read before the Cherryville lyceum) I looked into the future as far as the human could see,

And everything was lovely—or it seemed to me.

The war-drum was muffled and the battle flags were furled,

And peace and plenty ruled throughout the entire world.

No longer palaces were built for kings and priests and knaves,

And men and women worked to death like base, ignoble slaves.

Little children worked no longer in dirty, filthy dens,

When people lived in hovels little better than pig-pens.

Vast sums were spent no longer for war-ships and for powder,

And preachers prayed to God for war and murder louder.

Instead of millionaires who owned the best part of the earth,

Homes were multiplied everywhere for those of humble birth.

The workers lived no longer in huts and little shacks,

With scarcely food enough or rags to clothe their backs.

People everywhere believed and followed the old and Golden rule,

And the humblest and most lowly child had time to go to school.

This vision may seem vain to those who grasp and grab and grind,

But to others it looks beautiful who have a generous mind.

Then let us struggle onward towards that gladsome day

When the poorest and most wretched will have a place to stay.

A silly old fanatic was moved to a terrible fit of anger lately because some one made light of an erroneous statement he made, and said: "You are going to a dark place where the fires of hell will burn brightly forever." How could a place be dark if a fire was burning brightly? As a matter of fact, this man's ideas of religion belong to the Dark Ages when people were not much better than savages and is a species of insanity.

Some of the big newspapers are full of accounts of how a person can live and thrive on 40 cents for food a day. Next they will figure out how a man can make a suit of clothes of some gunny sacks lined with saw dust, and then he can afford to work for some greedy old wretch for two bits a day.

Card of Thanks

We take this opportunity to thank our neighbors and friends, especially Mrs. Warren and family, for their kindness and help during our misfortunes.

Sol Wheeler and family.

HAZELIA

Joseph McMahan of Maple Knoll farm was a visitor at his son's home in the Stafford country on Thursday.

Miss Harriet Duncan spent a pleasant afternoon Friday visiting the Hazelia school.

Mr. Thomas of Stafford called on his son, A. E. Thomas of Hazelia, Thursday evening.

W. H. Zivney, accompanied by his family, motored to Portland Monday in their Rambler auto.

Your correspondent is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. A. A. Miller of Baker, Oregon. The Millers have purchased a fine alfalfa farm, and besides they have a 160-acre homestead only eleven miles from Baker. Mrs. Miller is a sister of Mrs. S. S. Boutz. The Millers formerly lived at Hazelia and Molalla.

S. S. and A. R. Boutz were Oswego visitors Wednesday.

Now that the political strife is over and the smoke of the conflict has risen and the voters have had their say, many candidates are happy and others are blue and discouraged. Did you ever stop to think that too often one man's happiness is another's sorrow, not only in the political game but in the game of life. Yet it is certain there can't be a great victory without a great defeat.

J. H. Walsh was a visitor in Oregon City Friday.

Mr. Bigham, who spent the winter at Hazelia last year, is back here again and will oversee the Bolds' ranch.

Joneth Johnson was an Oswego visitor Saturday.

A. E. Thomas lost a fine dairy cow last week.

Mrs. A. E. Thomas and Miss Mabel Bunn are entertaining their mother and her husband, from the coast.

No Higher Price for This

While food and clothing have advanced in cost, it is well for the sick that the prices of such reliable family remedies as Foley Kidney Pills are not increased. Persons in moderate circumstances find doctors' bills hard to pay in the easiest of times. Don't neglect weak, tired or disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills cost little and relieve backache, pains in sides and loins, sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic pains and annoying bladder trouble.

MOLALLA

The Huntley Drug company has moved into the corner room of the I. O. O. F. building, which will still be a "busy corner" for the firm.

Dicken and company are also moving their merchandise into the same building. In these spacious quarters goods are being shelved in modern display.

L. A. Daugherty is building a bakery addition on the north side of his paint store, to be occupied by Mr. Rodgers of the Home Bakery.

The tank has been "poured" for the addition to the city water works. Owing to the recent bad weather, work has been held up for the time being.

Molalla Grange, number 310, held its regular meeting last Saturday, December 2, and elected the following officers to serve for 1917: master, L. H. Cochran; overseer, H. A. Kayler; lecturer, A. T. Shoemaker; steward, G. V. Adams; assistant steward, B. C. Palmer; chaplain, Edna Jackson; treasurer, Gilbert Jackson; secretary, Earl Shoemaker; gatekeeper, J. R. Cole; Ceres, Edith Sawtell; Pomona, Vina P. Rastall; Flora, Annie L. Robbins; L. assistant S., Nannie M. Thomas; trustees, H. J. Rastall, G. V. Adams, W. W. Everhart; executive committee, G. V. Adams, O. R. Daugherty, J. L. Tubbs.

Last Wednesday night I. O. O. F. lodge number 184 elected the following elective officers: N. G. F. M. Hendricksen; V. G., E. R. Todd; secretary, W. T. Echerd; treasurer, J. W. Thomas. The appointive officers will be named on installation night in January. Plans are ready for the dedication of the new hall on Wednesday night of this week, when many Oddfellows will come to Molalla to witness and take part in the great event in the history of the lodge.

A three month's Bible reading begins this Monday. Much enlightenment is anticipated. 'Twill be a broad interpretation of the Scriptures if both Protestants and Catholics unite after the reading is finished.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

Mrs. M. P. Moore and four children and Mrs. M. M. Moore and two children, of Lacrosse, Wash., are visiting their parents on Canfield street. Miss Elsie Chandler, a sister, accompanied them. Miss Elsie has been in Washington the past five months and we are glad to welcome her home. On last Sunday the husbands of the two Mrs. Moore's arrived here and the two families will go to Klamath Falls and Merrill, Ore., to spend a few days among relatives, expecting to return here for a family reunion Christmas.

Mr. Rosenbaugh has purchased a car and is assisting Mr. Young in hauling produce to and from Portland.

Mr. Alexander has moved from Redland to Oregon City.

Practically all the growers here have sold their potatoes at a good figure, mostly at $1.45 a hundred. Mr. Neuffer is just finishing digging a 12-acre patch with a good crop.

F. Sprague and Leo Polehm shot a coyote last Sunday.

Bethel Sunday school gave a Thanksgiving offering to the pastor last Sunday. Quite a collection of fruit and vegetables was gathered.

Clarence Ray is clearing land between showers for A. M. Kirchman and is making quite a showing.

Broddus of Portland certainly moved potatoes, having five trucks out at one time loaded with from 60 to 100 sacks direct to Portland docks. Beats hauling with a team and avoids extra handling.

Mrs. Maude Gould has resigned as operator at the Redland Central and left in December. Miss Lulu Schwartz will be in charge. The people of this community appreciate the service Mrs. Gould gave them and wish her all kinds of good luck and prosperity in her future undertakings.

LOGAN

There was a record breaking attendance at grange meeting last Saturday. It was election day but there did not seem to be an unusual number of official bees buzzing in the bonnets.

The grange semicentennial was served in the program by the reading of a short sketch of the lives of the seven founders by another member. It being old folks' day, pioneer experiences were given by H. S. Anderson, W. P. Kirchman, Laura L. Kirchman, N. N. Robbins, O. D. Robbins, Alice Newkirk and Louis Funk. The officers elect are: M. F. P. Wilson; O. Timm Pahl; L. Frieda Kirchman; S. George Tracy; A. S. W. Kohl; Chap. Alice Newkirk; T. S. G. Kirchman; Sec. L. Kohl; C. Mrs. Thorpe; P. Helen Tracy; F. L. L. Kirchman; L. A. S. Gladys Sloper.

Tone-

The Victrola tone is a wonderful thing. It is the tone of pure reality—throbbing with life and power—and it is exclusive with the Victrola.

There are five distinguishing points of superiority that can be had only on the Victrola because they are exclusive Victor Patents.

Come and see the patented Victrola features:

Tapering tone arm—with its exact taper and perfectly smooth bore, which is scientifically calculated and constructed to conform to the expanding sound waves created by the sound-box.

"Goose-neck" sound-box tube—the flexible metal connection between the sound-box and tapering tone arm, which enables the Victor Needle to follow the record grooves with unerring accuracy.

Concealed sounding-boards and amplifying compartment of wood—provide the very limits of area of vibrating surface and sound amplifying compartment so absolutely essential to an exact and pure tone reproduction.

Modifying doors—may be opened wide thereby giving the tone in its fullest volume; or doors may be set at any degree graduating the volume of tone to exactly suit every requirement. Closed tight the volume is reduced to the minimum and when not in use the interior is fully protected.

Victor "Tungs-tone" Needles—which will play from 50 to 200 records and yet are changeable so that the volume may be suited to the size of the room or the occasion. Some prefer soft music, some want it loud—you can suit your own taste on a Victrola.

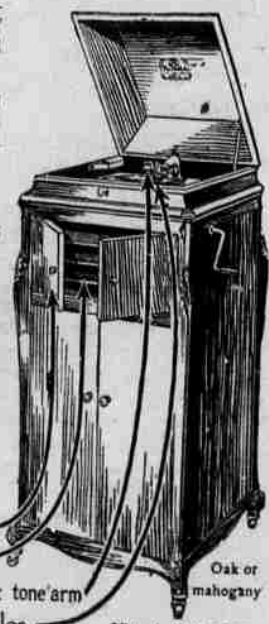

WHEN you hear the wonderful tone of the Victrola and see how the new "Tungs-tone" needle enables you to enjoy every record to the fullest extent—you will understand why all the leading musical artists of the whole world perform exclusively for the Victrola.
