CHERRYVILLE

Strawberries are now at their best here and are a great crop. They are about the easiest crop grown here and will grow on any soil without fertilizers, and yet there are only a few ranchers that have a patch of any size.

The writer spent a couple of weeks in the Forest Service on a trail that is being made along the Salmon River above Welch's. It is intended to carry it on 12 miles up the upper waters of the Salmon. It is a wild ward, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kelnhofer. All the guests remained until late in the evening and wished him good luck and God speed in his new undertaking.

The classifiers for the railroad land are in this vicinity and several squatters are disappointed, as these tracts are found to run too much to timber. It appears that if a 40-acre tract contains over 400,000 feet it is classed as timber land and the timber must be sold before the land can be taken up. One squatter section which had been taken up by S. C. Runyan was found to contain over 4,000,000 feet and another adjoining over 5,000,000 feet.

It appears that the government is looking for new oil fields to furnish their increased demands in these war times. It will pay them to investigate a portion of the country here, where a well is so strongly impregnated with oil that the water cannot be used.

She's 72—And a Good Farmer

There is an article in the July American Magazine in which a writer says:

"At the age of seventy-two to have the desire and the determination to go on a great adventure—involving a new environment and much hard labor—is to be possessed by the fires of eternal youth."

"It doesn't strike me as anything out of the ordinary," said Mrs. Frances E. Thompson, "that I should this spring be plowing my three hundred and twenty acres and proving up on the homestead I filed on last November. For thirty-six years I've lived in Denver and the last six years I've been a widow. I had a little money left me, but not enough to keep me."

"I've done about everything a woman can do to make money; a woman of my age can't make very much doing housework, so I've canvassed and worked in canning factories, and in those ways done as well as any of 'em. While I canned and canned, I got to thinking of taking up a homestead. I heard about the good dry farming land there is about two hundred miles from Denver, down below Pueblo, and last November I decided that I wouldn't go into the factory any more."

A Bad Spring for Women

The late, cold and damp spring seems to have been particularly severe on the health of women, and many are suffering from backache, rheumatic pains, aches and pains in sides, joints and muscles, lumbago and other ailments caused by overwork or disordered kidneys or bladder.

Mrs. T. J. Bucknell, Hardy, Neb., writes: "I am recovering from an attack of lumbago by the aid of Foley Kidney Pills. They surely help me."

Women seem peculiarly liable to kidney trouble, and no symptom should be neglected.—Jones Drug Co.

German Declares Allegiance

Ernest Heinrich Wilke, native of Hildesheim, Hanover, Germany, knowing his application would be indefinitely postponed but desiring, nevertheless, to declare his allegiance to Uncle Sam, made application for citizenship Friday. His request will be heard August 6, but under an order of President Wilson's the case will not doubt be continued until the termination of the war.

Richard F. Davis, of Carus, and a native of England, also applied for citizenship. He has lived in this country 31 years.

FORAGE FOR HOGS

Rape, Soy Beans, Corn and Sorghum Are Excellent Crops

Now is the time to prepare forage for feeding hogs so that there will be a continual supply of fresh, green succulent feed in late summer, when growth in permanent and other pastures begins to slacken. Specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture make the following suggestions for such forage crops.

Rape, which may be planted from April until the middle of July, requires an abundance of moisture, temperate growing weather and rich soil. It is ready to pasture when about 8 inches high or six to eight weeks after sowing. One acre will graze from ten to fifteen 100-pound hogs per month, and if not too closely grazed will make a second crop for late fall grazing.

Soy beans and cow peas may be planted from directly after corn-planting time until the middle of July and ordinarily would be ready to graze about three months after planted. Pasture these when the pods are almost mature, as the beans supply the most important forage element. An acre of pasture will graze from fifteen to twenty 100-pound pigs for six weeks, provided it is supplemented with a heavy corn ration.

Sorghum sown broadcast or in drills the latter part of corn-planting seasons, is ready to pasture when 18 inches high, or in six to eight weeks. With a grain ration of from 15 to 25 per cent of tankage or meat meal, an acre will carry 15 to 20 pigs for a month. Do not graze pigs on stunted or second-growth plants, as these are liable to cause poisoning.

Corn is a forage crop and affords pasture similar to sorghum.

In pasturing any of these crops, restrict the area so that the hogs will eat it off rapidly. Then move them to a fresh area, for if they are allowed much range they will trample more than they consume.

CHEESE MAKING STARTS

Estacada Plant Will Commence Operations Tomorrow

Operations will begin at the Estacada Cooperative Cheese association's plant on Friday morning, June 29, with the milk collection on the Springwater side of the river beginning that day, and the balance of the routes starting the following morning.

The milk cans are already here and all patrons should be in readiness to begin sending in their milk on the first day. The Springwater route will be in charge of Mr. Zack of Dodge, with the Viola delivery being handled by Mr. Bateson. The milk collection in Eagle Creek, Garfield and Currinsville will be conducted by Ed Douglass and A. N. Orke of Eagle Creek and Herman Duns, of Garfield.

Every dairyman in this community is urged to begin contributing milk, beginning with the first day's collection, for the success of the cheesery should date from its opening and a lack of milk at this time will prove a serious handicap.

Not only as a stimulus to home industries, but as a broad business proposition, with good financial returns, every dairyman should become a patron of the Estacada Cheesery, for its success means much to the future development and prosperity of this community. — Eastern Clackamas News.

ALL TIRED OUT

Hundreds More in Oregon City in the Same Plight

Tired all the time: Weary and worn out night and day: Back aches; head aches; Your kidneys are probably weakened.

You should help them at their work. Let one who knows tell you how.

Mrs. A. Reddaway, 116 S. Center St., Oregon City, says: "My back ached most all the time. It was so weak and sore that when I got down to do anything it was all I could do to straighten up. Sharp catches shot through my kidneys and for a minute I could hardly move, they were so severe. My kidneys also acted too freely. I felt tired all the time and could hardly drag myself around. After I had been taking Doan's Kidney Pills awhile my back felt stronger and my kidneys acted more regularly. I have taken Doan's off and on since and they have done fine work."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Reddaway had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GLADSTONE GIRL WEDS

Miss Lona Solomon Becomes Bride of Rev. Ralph D. Bullock

Miss Lona Solomon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Solomon, of Gladstone, became the wife of Rev. Ralph D. Bullock, of Lebanon, Ore., at the home of her parents at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. A. C. Becker performed the marriage ceremony. Ardina Dan, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Dan, of Sellwood, was flower girl and ring bearer. Miss Minnie Case decorated the home and Miss Lela Nendel, of Woodburn, played the wedding march. Rev. and Mrs. Bullock, after a brief honeymoon, will go to Lebanon, where he has a church.

M. L. Morris Given Divorce

M. L. Morris was granted a divorce by default from Ella P. Morris in the circuit court here Friday.

The Business of Getting On in the World

WHATEVER the future holds for you, your everyday actions are increasing the amount of it.

If your attitude toward money today is one of reckless disregard for the future, undoubtedly you are storing up trouble.

If it's the same tomorrow, more trouble.

But, if your thoughts are turned toward the sensible things that mean, finally, more money in your savings account, the danger of trouble, sometime in the future, diminishes.

Have you a savings account? Is it always uppermost in your mind? Does it receive a fair share of your income? Are you doing everything a sensible person should to avoid the troubles that overwhelm so many people, almost within speaking distance of you every day?

Have you a regular "bank day"?
