Local and County Items of Interest to Courier Readers

CHERRYVILLE

We were hoping for the rain to stop in the spring, and now we want it to start.

August Beidenstein has gone to Bull Run Lake, where he works on the dam for the city water system.

Johnnie Allen, who has been working on a government trail up near Clackamas Lake, was injured by a falling tree and was brought home Sunday. The tree rebounded and hit him, bruising him badly about the hips.

The Ten Eyck brothers, Henry and Ed, have secured the contract for driving ties on the Sandy river on both the mills above us. The water is low and it is a difficult matter to drive them, as they hang up on rocks and sand-bars.

Men working on government trails say there are plenty of huckleberries in the mountains this year and that there are a great many bear, deer and wildcats. So get ready for the open season.

The entertainment at the school house last Saturday night drew a fair audience. The program consisted of a presentation of "Hiawatha's Wooing" in costume, with an Indian war and medicine dance, also a pantomime, songs, recitations, etc. After the program was rendered the audience withdrew to the bungalow, where they were favored with piano music and refreshments.

Mr. Kirby, of Portland, was in town last week and said he had sold potatoes out of his lot for four cents a pound and some of them were no larger than marbles. No matter what their size, they command a ready sale at big prices.

Roy Shubrum and wife, of Portland, were here last week visiting at the hotel. Mrs. Miller is the mother of Mrs. Shubrum. Roy owns a wheat ranch of 500 acres near Pendleton that rents for $2 an acre.

KNOW IT WELL

Familiar Features Well Known to Hundreds of Oregon City Citizens

A familiar burden in many homes. The burden of a "bad back." A lame, a weak or an aching back. Often tells you of kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Here is Oregon City testimony.

Mrs. Kate Flanagan, Sixth and Jefferson streets, says: "I can conscientiously say that Doan's Kidney Pills are reliable. I have taken them on several occasions for backache and other kidney disorders and they have always done me good. I am only too glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills if it will be the means of letting others know what a good kidney medicine they are."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Flanagan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

HIGHLAND

Mr. Cota, our road supervisor and his crew of men have completed a half mile of rock road on the Tom Parrish hill, which makes the farmers smile, as the worst road is rocked.

Elsie Schwartz and sisters were calling at the Burr home Sunday evening.

Ed Cline, who spent a few days at his home, has gone to parts unknown.

Mr. Lewis and family have moved to Lents. Mr. Lewis has a position in a shipyard.

HARVESTING HINTS

Hay, Grain and Seed Bring Better Prices if Properly Harvested

Careful handling often will get a high grade and a relatively high price for grain and hay which otherwise would grade low and sell low, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is worth while for producers to keep this fact in mind now that the harvest season for grain and hay is approaching in many sections. The supply of the best grades of grain and hay on the market is always light. This frequently may be attributed to poor handling and care. Quality always demands the best price, hence the greatest care should be exercised in harvesting and storing.

Do not store damp grain or hay unless you have adequate facilities for frequent "turning", otherwise they are likely to go out of condition. Few farmers realize how small a percentage of moisture will cause otherwise good grain or hay to heat and deteriorate.

Never bale damp hay. If your grain contains a large percentage of foreign material, clean it. It keeps better.

Feed low grades and screenings on the farm.

Do not mix varieties. In most cases it can be avoided. It nearly always causes the commodity you are selling to grade low.

Remember at all times that there is nearly always a better market for clean, dry, and unmixed varieties of grain or hay than for that which is damp, dirty, musty, moldy, and off color.

Begin now to arrange for proper harvest and care of the coming corn crop. Remember deterioration of your crop this year because of careless handling and storage will mean an enormous loss both to you and the country.

Begin now to study your probable feed requirements for the coming year, and determine what quantity you will require and whether you will retain enough to meet your needs or purchase it.

While it appears that there will be plenty of good seed winter wheat, seed winter rye, and seed of other fall-sown crops if the available supply is properly distributed, everyone who is contemplating sowing an acreage of any of these crops this fall should provide for his seed supply as soon as possible. It will be necessary to ship seed wheat into those sections where the wheat winter-killed badly. In other sections which produced a good crop, the best of that crop should be conserved either on the farms or in country elevators to meet the local and distant demands for seed purposes.

If this precaution is taken there will be no need of sowing wheat, procured at the last minute, which, though of commercial value for milling, feeding, or other industrial purposes, is unfit for use as seed.

He who saves for himself for sowing, or aids his neighbors or others in securing seed that he knows to be good is rendering the patriotic service of facilitating increased production.

In order that they may render effective service in aiding the distribution of seeds, the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, and the various state and local organizations will appreciate receiving the names of persons who wish to buy or sell seeds.

WOMAN DEFENDS SUIT

Wife of Soldier Denies Allegations in Divorce Complaint

Suit was started here Thursday by Frank and Anna Rotter to collect $320 alleged to be due on a note given by Fred Kerbs, Eliza Kerbs, Henry Kerbs, J. T. Vickers and Thomas Killingland.

Sussie A. Dougherty, wife of Willard F. Dougherty, who is suing her for divorce, has filed an answer to her husband's complaint, in which she denies all of the allegations set forth by him. She says they were married in June 1907 and divorced in 1914 and that she remarried him in 1916 at his urgent request. She claims she has been a loving wife, caring for his children by a former marriage and she denies that he gives her $100 a month.

A default order was entered in the divorce suit of Bertha M. Prain versus Jack Prain and a referee appointed to hear testimony in the case.

Peter D. Forbes Resigns

Peter D. Forbes, for the past six years instructor in manual training in the Oregon City schools, resigned Monday night to accept a position with the Crown-Willamette Paper company. His resignation was accepted at the meeting of the school board. Miss Amy Peckover was elected a grade teacher to succeed Miss Elsie Yoder.

Dimick is Exalted Ruler

Judge Grant B. Dimick was elected exalted ruler of the Oregon City B. P. O. Elks Friday night to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Harry Williams, who has entered the army. Phil Hammond was elected esteemed leading knight; Ben L. Leard, esteemed loyal knight, and T. A. Burke, lecturing knight.

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

Don't kill the fine ewe lambs. Some one will want them to re-enforce his flock.

Should a horse seem weak or show difficulty in rising suspect feed at once and let all soft or unsound corn be rejected; also musty hay.

A man who confines his pigs in a wet, dirty pen is robbing himself. Give the pigs or porkers a chance and they will always keep their beds clean.

Roots, turnips especially, are almost a necessity to the profitable handling of sheep.

Skim milk is always valuable. Middlings and some tankage are also valuable for pigs.

Teach all colts first to walk fast. A fast walking horse is a joy.

Raise more swine.

Hog is the Most Important Animal to Grow For Meat and Money.

The quickest and surest way of augmenting the meat supply next to the raising of poultry is by raising hogs, the United States department of agriculture points out. The hog is the most important animal to raise for meat and money. He requires less labor, less equipment, less capital, makes greater gains per hundred pounds of concentrates and reproduces himself faster and in greater numbers than any other domestic animal. As a consumer of by products the hog has no rival. No other animal equals the lard hog in its fat storing tendency. The most satisfactory meat for shipping long distances on train, boat or wagon and for long storage after reaching its destination is mess pork. There is no animal which produces more meat and meat products than the hog.

Pork finds ready sale because packers have discovered many ways of placing pork on the market in attractive and highly palatable form combined with most excellent keeping qualities. There is no other meat from which so many products are manufactured. Very near 50 per cent of the total value in dollars and cents of the meat and meat products slaughtered in the packing houses of the United States is derived from the hog. Our country leads far all countries in the production as well as in the consumption of meat and meat products. Three-fourths of the world's international trade in pork and pork products originates in the United States in normal times, and the war greatly has increased this proportion. According to the estimates, there was an increase of 9,580,000 hogs between 1910, the census year, and 1916, inclusive. The increase at the end of 1915 was 3,145,000 over the preceding year, while it is estimated that there was a decrease at the end of 1916 of 313,000 hogs compared with 1915.

If we expect to continue to provide meat to foreign people as well as our own people, every farmer must put forth the best effort to produce more hogs. Hogs can be kept profitably upon many farms where they are not found today. Farmers who already raise hogs can produce many more, for there is not much chance of producing meat this year in excess of the requirements.

More dairy farmers should raise hogs, for they fit in especially well upon dairy farms where skim milk, buttermilk or whey is fed upon the farm. A man who has skim milk is in a better position to raise pigs than a man who has none.

CURING ALFALFA HAY.

Careless Handling Reduces Value by Shattering Off the Leaves.

Saving the leaves and preventing leaching of nutrients by rains are given by the Ohio agricultural experiment station as the two essentials in making the best alfalfa hay. Curing the hay in bunches under covers is given as the most efficient method to harvest the most nutritious hay.

Careless handling of alfalfa may reduce the value of the hay considerably. The leaves contain nearly three times as much nitrogen and calcium as the stems, chemical analysis made at the experiment station show. Handling the crop so that the leaves are not broken off will save these most valuable nutritive constituents.

Exposure of the hay to rain is another source of loss of nutrients in hay. Dried alfalfa over which water washed lost 50 per cent of its nitrogen, 75 per cent of its phosphorus, 90 per cent of its potassium and 40 per cent of its calcium. This represents the common loss in the value of hay exposed to the weather for considerable time when rains occur.

Curing alfalfa in bunches, or cocks, preferably under caps, tends to eliminate such losses. The hay may be cut one day, bunched the next and then cured in the cock for two days or more. Shattering of leaves is thus prevented, the hay retains its green color, and little of its value is lost. Duck or heavy unbleached muslin covers are frequently used to cap the cocks so that the hay is not wet by dew or rain.

Are You Unlucky?

Most sickness is traced to carelessness or neglect, but unfortunately who suffer from hay fever or asthma can attribute their ailments to bad pollen. In August the air is full of pollen and dust that cause trouble for some, yet others are never bothered. No remedy does more to relieve hay fever and asthma than Foley's Honey and Tar, the well known family medicine for coughs, colds and croup. It clears and soothes the afflicted nose, throat and bronchial tubes.—Jones Drug Co.
