Financial Statistics of States is

Interesting Compilation "Financial statistics of states, 1916," a report showing in detail the financial transactions of the 48 states for the fiscal year 1916; the assessed valuation of taxable property in those states, and the taxes levied during the year; and their indebted-ness and assets, has been published by the United States bureau of the Twenty-six states of the union are not paying, from their revenues, their total expenses for governmental costs, interest on indebtedness, and outlays for permanent improve-ments; and of this number 11 are not even meeting their current expenses and interest. In 22 states, however, the revenues exceed the total expenditures for current expenses, interest, and outlays. These and other important facts are brought out in the report.

The aggregate revenues of all the states during the year were $466,-946,748; the aggregate expenditures for current governmental costs, including interest on indebtedness, $425,071,093; and the aggregate outlays for permanent improvements, $85,063,206. The first two of these items represent increases of 1.1 per cent and 6.3 per cent, respectively, as compared with the corresponding figures for the preceding fiscal year; but the outlays show a decrease of 10.6 per cent. Of the total revenues, $363,968,553, or about 78 per cent, represents receipts from the various kinds of tax-Nearly half of this amount, $176,102,893, was derived from the general property tax, made up of taxes on real estate and personal property. Of the remainder the largest item, $88,137,260, was contributed by special property and other special taxes; $58,829,687 was raised from business taxes other than on the liquor traffic; $19,262,-893 came from the liquor traffic; $19,365,499 was derived from license taxes other than on business; an $2,270,321 from poll taxes.
