HEAR THE DEMONSTRATION ON THAT MASTER INSTRUMENT

The Brunswick
ALL PHONOGRAPHS IN ONE

This remarkable instrument has achieved recognized leadership in the realm of music reproducing instruments.

Hundreds of people have selected this instrument because of its remarkable tone, its beauty of appearance and the great fact that at last here was an instrument that could play any and all records absolutely without restriction—a privilege hitherto impossible with other phonographs. During your visit we want you to be sure and listen to this wonderful instrument.

Makes a comparison for future use and guidance. Note for yourself how incomparably more you can secure for $32.50 the lowest price at which a Brunswick is sold or at any of the other intervening prices up to $180, than you can in other instruments. Feel perfectly free to make the comparison and inspection—you will not be asked to buy.

THE DIVORCE ...MILL...

A divorce decree was issued Friday to Clara A. Edwards, from Benjamin J. Edwards, the court also allowing the plaintiff $60 alimony.

Judge Campbell, of the Circuit court, has handed down a decree granting divorce to Lena Baumgarten from John Baumgarten, and giving the plaintiff the right to her former name, Lena Schramm.

Suit was also filed by Maude Frazier, against C. W. Frazier, charging desertion as grounds for divorce. The Fraziers have been married 24 years, and came from Keatsville, Missouri. The plaintiff asks the court to grant her $30 a month alimony.

In the Circuit court Monday, Arthur Cahill commenced suit for divorce from Bessie Cahill. In the complaint, Cahill states that his wife was possessed of a quarrelsome and nagging disposition that made life almost unbearable for him, and that in the year 1915 she deserted him, and has since made her residence in California.

Emma B. James has secured a divorce from Robert B. James. A decree was also issued to Etta McCoy, divorcing her from Virgil McCoy. Edith A. Sheldon was granted a divorce, and the right to resume her maiden name of Edith A. Bishop, from Kirk Sheldon, in another decree handed down by Judge Campbell, of the Circuit court.

Louis A. Bowman commenced suit in the Circuit court here Tuesday to secure a divorce from Merice W. Bowman, on the grounds of desertion. The couple was married at Colville, Washington, on January 27, 1911, and the husband charges that his wife left him and their home at Silverton on January 7, 1917. They have one child, Helen, aged 5, who is now in Washington, and not within the jurisdiction of the courts here.

A. L. Tibbetts has filed suit here for divorce from his wife, O. Tibbetts, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment and desertion. The complaint states that the couple were married in Oregon City, January 20, 1911, and that the defendant deserted her spouse on the 10th of this month. Previous to her departure, Mr. Tibbetts alleges that his wife cursed him, struck him, and without provocation had accused him of drunkenness.

In the Circuit court here on Friday, the following divorce decrees were handed down by Judge Campbell: Dora E. Summers vs. Clifford O. Summers, the plaintiff securing the custody of a minor child; John Porter Laird, from Daisy Hand Laird; Anna Hollenbeck from Earl C. Hollenbeck, the plaintiff being allowed to resume her maiden name of Anna Hale; and C. G. Long secured a divorce from Mary C. Long, and the custody of a minor child, Percy Long.

The Circuit court Tuesday handed down decrees of divorce to three unhappy plaintiffs. Elizabeth Turley secured a divorce from Bert Turley on the charge of cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married in January of this year. The court also restored to the plaintiff her maiden name, Elizabeth McClokey.

On the charge of desertion, Helen M. Morse secured a divorce from B. F. Morse. The couple have been married since 1893, and the defendant was charged in the complaint with desertion in February of this year. M. A. Gowing secured a decree divorcing him from Annie W. Gowing. The couple was married in Portland in 1911, and the husband was deserted in 1913. The defendant was allowed her maiden name of Annie Weeks Carson.

JOSEPH WILSON, TUSCANIA VICTIM, MAY BE FROM HERE

It is now believed by local people that the Joseph Wilson, mentioned in the list of those missing from the Tuscania catastrophe, was the Joseph Wilson of this city, who had enlisted at Vancouver. In the list as published the name of the Wilson that was missing was followed by the address, Vancouver, Washington. No word has been received from the young man, and friends here are convinced that he and the victim of the submarine are one and the same. Joseph Wilson, Jr., of this city, was a member of the Twentieth Engineers, and had been stationed previously at Vancouver. His parents are dead, the father having passed away but a short time ago. Wilson has one brother, Henry, serving with the infantry corps.

If it is true that he was lost with the Tuscania, it will make two Clackamas county boys who have sacrificed their lives in the present war. The other was Verner G. Branland, of Colton.

COUNTY SOON TO BEGIN ROADMAKING ACTIVITIES

With three of the fourteen county rock crushers ready to start, and road work in various sections lined up, the county officials are making great headway in their spring campaign.

The county work at Fly creek, and the Moffitt contract are getting along in fine shape, says County Roadmaster Tom Roots, and there are several new pieces that will be worked over in the near future. E. C. Gerber, of Logan, in district 12, has the crusher there ready for work, and started early this week. The whole system of roadbuilding is seriously handicapped by the labor shortage, and Mr. Roots is laying his plans so that the work can be done in cooperation with the farmers.

The county paving plant at Wichita is being overhauled and repaired ready for the hard surfacing of the roads in that vicinity. Mr. Roots states that this fall will see a completely paved road from Portland to Oregon City, and from here to Salem, with the exception of about four miles near Canby. There is about $20,000 special road money available for use now, and unless war conditions curtail their present plans, a good showing can be looked for at the completion of the present campaign.
