Every Family a Fighting Family!

That is the war-time spirit of true-blue Americans—the spirit that will win the war. The day of talking patriotism is passed—the time has come to practice it.

Your government has officially set—

Friday, June 28th National War Savings Day

On June 28th every American will be summoned to enlist in the great "army that stays at home." On that day every loyal American should "sign the pledge" to invest a definite amount in War Savings Stamps each month during 1918.

CHERRYVILLE

We are watchfully waiting for rain.

A short crop of hay and grain as well as garden "sass" is evident out here.

Rev. Mr. Runyan, T. E. Clark and Charles Rugh made their initial payments on their railroad land and got their titles all right.

C. A. Johnson came over from Pendleton last week to fix up the business for his railroad claim, south of town. He says wheat on high, hilly land is being cut for hay, although on good, level land the crop is fair.

The forest rangers, who are now going on their stations, say there is a big prospect for a crop of huckleberries this year.

The bridges over Cedar creek and Merle creek, southwest of town, were repaired this week, so that people can get up into the Wild Cat country this fall.

C. W. Miller attended the War Savings Stamp committee meeting at Oregon City last week and reports a large attendance and much enthusiasm. For some reason they did not have this place credited, with but a small sum for Red Cross work, where, as everybody has contributed and over $500.00 sent in, besides over $150 for War Savings Stamps and $100.00 on Liberty bonds. There are but nine families in this district and five bachelors and widowers keeping house, and none of them are making more than a bare living. So it can be seen that this place has done its share.

The writer would a million times rather live a humble life and in an obscure place and have a quiet conscience than be the kaiser or any bloody despot and have all eternity to regret, with unutterable remorse, the crimes committed in his earthly life. "This is the worm that dieth not, nor the fire that is not quenched." Take the wings of the morning and fly to the uttermost parts of the earth and you cannot escape from the pangs of a guilty conscience. Bismarck said, in his last days, "I don't see that I have made myself happy nor those dear to me and I have started three wars that were the cause of the death of 80,000 young men." This thought he carried with him to eternity and could not forget it forever. Foolish clerics will tell you to believe as they say and all will be forgiven and forgotten. It is not so!

Corporal Stuart Seely, a member of the 162d U. S. Infantry, or famous Third Oregon, is staying with his wife's people near Brightwood, at present. He was badly injured in an accident at Camp Mills, Long Island two days before they embarked. He is still badly crippled, but hopes to be "over there" yet.

The notice of the election should have read Mrs. R. C. Murray, instead of her husband, being elected school director here. Mrs. Parnell Averill was re-elected clerk for the fifth time, and her pay was increased.

Miss Lillian Averill made a trip to Portland last week to visit among friends during her school vacation.

The run of Chinook has not begun to any great extent yet. The fish ladder is now in place.

Mr. Olsen, who has charge at the dam for the P. R. L. & P. company, says his son, who is an officer over in France, was gassed lately by a shell bursting near him, filled with mustard gas. Both of his legs were pretty badly burned.
